WHERE 'WE WILL' THERE'S A WAY

—Chicago's New Proverb.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

When the Marquis Giovanni Bettini died at Monte Carlo, after twenty years of fluttering about the race courses and gambling casinos of the continent, it is highly probable that the late Ebenezer Hall turned over in his ornate granite mausoleum, which stands close to the entrance of Graceland cemetery, Chicago.

For the end of the gay marquis marked also the extinction of the great Hall fortune, though it had been solidly based on the ownership of several corners in the Chicago loop district. Rents might rise almost as rapidly as an aeroplane—they could never keep up with Bettini's ability to spend and lose money. So it happened that two years before the death of the noble marquis the last of several hundred doctors, lawyers, and business men dunged landlords.

He left his widow—she that had been Mary Hall—to the charity of his own ancient and impoverished family in Rome. He left also a son—an only child Giovanni Bettini II., who had just passed 21.

AT the time of his father's death the boy was spending a year in England, where, as befitted a young Italian nobleman whose father was a famous sportsman, he might learn how to box, ride to the hounds, to wear a monocle, and to play polo.

When the too long delayed lightning struck down his father, he took a fast train to Rome, attended the funeral, and next morning fairly took away the breath of his crushed and hopeless mother and the rest of the family.

"My grandfather made a million dollars in Chicago. I shall go to Chicago and make another million."

IT is incredible that any human being should have been so ingenuous. He was sincerely certain that for a man of his ability to accumulate a million dollars in Chicago was as simple and easy as to separate a ripe and waiting apple from its tenuous hold on the burdened limb. His mother, whose memory of the relentless city was still clear, pleaded with her son and wept at the thought of his disillusionment.

The antique Bettinis shrugged angular and aristocratic shoulders and urged the new marquis to seek a career in the diplomatic service. But there was added to the young man's buoyant Latin temperament—which made so light of suggested difficulties—a certain bulldog strain, perhaps inherited from old Ebenezer Hall, whose hard youth had been nourished on the granite hills of Vermont.

"The separation will not be for long," he said his mother, finally. "In five years at the most I shall return." And she, straining him to her heart, could not help smiling through her tears.

HE sold out his establishment in England, sent $2,000 to his mother, bought a first class cabin to New York, and with a trifle less than $500 in his morocco bill book, initialed in gold, started on the conquest of America.

He reached Chicago without a single letter of introduction, declining those which were offered him, with a proud and youthful determination to be dependent only on his own efforts. He dropped his title and his aristocratic friends at the same time. He even went so far as to decide that he would turn his ancestral name into English. For the purpose of quickly acquiring a million dollars in the big city by the lake he would be known as John Betts.

Ebenezer Hall had made most of his fortune at the stock yards, and his grandson went straight to that titanic butcher shop the day he reached the city. Within a week he landed a job in the translating

BECAUSE IT PAYS

The only reason why merchants advertise in THE TRIBUNE is because it pays to do so. Merit is the winning argument.

CHARGE MILKMEN LEVY TRIBUTE ON COOK COUNTY POOR

Bids Submitted to Commissioners Alleged to Be 'Fixed' and Extortionate.

'BORDEN MAKES THE PRICES'

That Concern Offers 16 Cents a Gallon to Farmers; Lowest County Bid 21.5 Cents.

BOARD MAY BUY OWN DAIRY

The county board, which buys 50,000 quarts of milk a year for the babies of destitute mothers and 2,817,800 quarts of milk a year for county institutions, is desirous of knowing why it must pay such high profits to retailers and middlemen.

The matter probably will be made the subject of an official inquiry today. Some of the commissioners also want to know why the wholesale rate quoted to the county is, on the average, higher than the rate paid by hotels and other large users of milk.

Commissioners Board, Anderson, Gard, and Coonley visited Oak Forest, where the county infirmary is located, yesterday afternoon, and among other things discussed the feasibility of establishing a dairy farm on the grounds where the county might obtain its own milk supply.

Only in this manner, they believe, may they hope to escape the excessive prices. Robert E. Kenyon, superintendent of public service, is an enthusiastic exponent of the county dairy plan and President A. A. McCormick also thinks well of the idea.

Can't Get Prices for Babies.

Mr. Kenyon particularly is incensed because he has been unable to induce any Chicago milk dealer to quote the county agent wholesale prices for the milk furnished poor babies.

"The only reduction we receive for this milk," he said, "is 10 per cent below the retail rate of 8 cents a quart. In other words, we pay 7.2 cents for every quart of milk distributed by the county agent among the poor. This, I am told, is nearly double what the milk dealer pays the dairy farmer. Although we use 25,000 gallons in the county agent's department every six months, not one dealer will offer us a bid on a wholesale basis."

The wholesale price paid for the milk furnished county institutions is greater, it is declared, than that paid by the hotels of Chicago. One hotel manager last night told THE TRIBUNE the average price paid by the hostelries and big restaurants was about 21 cents a gallon.

On Monday there were opened in the county board rooms bids for the milk supply at four big county institutions. Of the hundreds of milk dealers in Chicago only four answered the advertisement. The lowest bid was 21.5 cents and the highest 26.5 cents a gallon. No bidder offered to supply all the institutions, and the bids were so made that each dealer is assured, it is said, of getting one contract at his own price if the bids are accepted.

Bids Thought Queerly Made.

These figures show how the bids were made:

Bidder.	Dunning.	Hospital.	Jail.	Oak Forest Detention home.	Oak Forest at institute.
Murphy Milk Co.	24½c	25.5c	25.8c	25c	26.5c
Frank Quigley	24c	.....	.....	25c	.....
G. W. Dreager	.....	.....	.....	25c	22c
Mt. Prospect Co.	22c	.....	.....	.....	.....

These prices will bring the total cost of the county's milk supply for institutions for the next six months up to $40,870.94. This is $7,743.55 more than was paid for like quantities in the preceding six months.

When the bids were submitted six months ago they were rejected as too high. When resubmitted about ten days later they were $5,000 higher than before. Because of this "whipsaw," as Commissioner Mitchell expressed it, some of the commissioners now fear to attack the present bids.

Comparative figures of the milk cost for the two six months periods follow:

Place of delivery—	First six months.	Second six months.
Oak Forest	$ 9,848.70	$11,851.64
Jail	428.01	446.92
Dunning	2,276.80	2,882.88
Hospital	20,156.05	24,460.80
Juvenile home	981.23	1,137.50

Borden Company Fixes Price.

The Borden Condensed Milk company, which one of the county bidders admitted made his prices for him, has offered, according to his own announcement, to pay dairy farmers about 15.91, or less than 16 cents per gallon, during the next six months. This is less than 4 cents a quart.

The retail rate to householders is 8 cents a quart, more than double the price paid the producer by the middlemen, and the wholesale rate, as indicated by the bids submitted to the county board, varies from nearly 6 to 10 cents above the price paid the man who owns the cow.

QUICKSAND UNDER QUAKER CITY.

Engineers Excavating for New Hotel Find Central Philadelphia Rests Above Underground Sea.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—That central Philadelphia, with its skyscrapers, is resting on a floating island and is likely at any moment to be engulfed in a sea of quicksand was the declaration today of engineers in charge of the excavations for the foundations of the new addition to the Ritz Carlton hotel at Broad and Walnut streets.

Forty-five feet below the street level workmen poked their picks through the shell-like covering of an underground lake, the waters of which rose and fell with the movements of the tide.

PUTTING THE GLOVES ON WITH THE LADIES.

[Copyright: 1913: By John T. McCutcheon.]

SPIRIT PUBLICLY SNUBS ITS SISTER

"Milly" Declines to Recognize Husband or Speak to Woman Who Claims Kinship.

MEDIUM FINDS "PAPERS."

Did Milly leave a husband, and if so why wasn't he recognized last night? Also if Milly left two sisters, why was one of them branded as the simon pure article without the other getting a chance to produce her credentials?

Those were only two of the perplexities that confronted some of the skeptical who helped jam the Hotel La Salle ballroom last night when star performers of the National Spiritualists' association dropped their convention duties long enough to resume their professional avocations without hindrance from the police and also without pecuniary recompense.

It might be added that the skeptical were in a decided minority, as the newspaper reporters discovered when they were maternally catechized as to their beliefs and what they intended to write for their respective papers. But let's get back to Milly.

Talks Like Bourke Cockran Impromptu.

Mrs. Zaida Brown Kates of Washington, D. C., wife of the national secretary, George W. Kates, divided the stellar honors with Mrs. Elizabeth Harlow-Goetz of Baltimore. Mrs. Goetz is the inspirational orator of the cause, who is in a half-trance when speaking, and is backed by a $1,000 side bet to talk comprehensively and eruditely on any subject at a moment's notice. Last night it was the "Distinctiveness of Spiritualism," Mrs. Harlow-Goetz, a statuesque woman with a Bourke Cockran eloquence, spoke for an hour. She smilingly admitted skeptics could question the address being impromptu, but again recurred to the $1,000 forfeit as proof positive.

Mrs. Kates walked hand in hand with a sob throughout her performance, but scored numerous successes.

"I see a young woman and I don't want her to touch me," said Mrs. Kates, drawing back with a shudder. "She bled to death. I can't quite catch it, but I think the name is Milly. She is anxious to reach her people, but says they shut the door against her in some way. But she has a sister that she wants to tell something to. Does any one recognize the young woman?"

Milly's Husband Disqualified.

Two women claimed sisterhood with Milly, but the one on the right was never in the running. "Something leads me this way," said Mrs. Kates, as she gravitated toward the left. "Dear madam, was she your sister? And did I state the truth?" The woman toward the left assented.

"And did she leave a husband?" queried the medium.

"That's me, I'm afraid," announced a man from the rear of the hall, but apparently he was disqualified, as Mrs. Kates assured the favored sister that Milly wanted her to know "that in three months he would be making raps at home."

Then there was Frank, a cheerful young man of 23, who died of typhoid and wore his hair with a curl languishing on his forehead. Mrs. Kates knew he was a typhoid victim because she herself "felt feverish" when she thought about him. There were two claimants for Frank, but one was a victim of the spiritual "steam roller."

"Frank says the papers you were looking for were behind the old picture that was sold at auction," Mrs. Kates translated. "He says Henry, Billy, and Dan are also here." This was all vouched for by the recognised relative.

Widow Not a Good Witness.

A little old woman in heavy widow's weeds was leaving the hall with a young girl when Mrs. Kates espied her.

"Dear madam," she sobbed, "There is a spirit here who was with you tonight. You have a dear one in spirit land, have you not?"

The widow said her husband was dead.

"Yes, and you didn't want to come here tonight, but something impelled you and you said, 'I must go.' Didn't you?"

The little woman smiled and shook her head.

"Well, that was your husband," Mrs. Kates said, ignoring the negative action, "and he pushed you into the rain to come here. And he will be with you on the way home."

The widow left without looking around, and so did the audience shortly afterward.

Mrs. Marjorie Denny, 2425 Homer street, one of Monday night's audience, reported the loss of the diamond from her engagement ring. The hotel authorities failed to find it, and when she consulted a medium the spirit invoked said the stone was gone forever.

COMPROMISE ON GLOVE DUTY PARTIAL VICTORY FOR WOMEN.

House and Senate Conferees Agree on Lower Rates in Forthcoming Tariff Bill.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—A partial victory has been won for the women and children of the country in connection with the glove duties of the pending tariff bill.

The senate conferees refused to accept the low rates fixed by the house, and the house conferees declined to permit the continuance of the present duties. A compromise finally was agreed upon.

Th duty now imposed on lambskin gloves worn by women and children is $2.50 a dozen pair. As the bill passed the house the rate was fixed at $2 a dozen pairs. The senate restored the present rate. Kid gloves worn by women and children now pay a duty of $3 a dozen pair. Had the house provision stood a reduction of $1 a dozen pairs would have been made in this kind of hann wear. If the senate rate had been adopted the reduction would have been 50 cents a dozen pairs.

It is not definitely known what the compromise reached by the conferees on the glove schedule is, but it is understood that lamb skins will pay the house duty of $2 a dozen pairs and kid gloves will pay the senate rate of $2.50 per dozen pairs.

Men have been more considerately treated, as the duty on gloves worn by them has been reduced from $4 to $3 per dozen pairs.

BUFFALO, N. Y., HOTEL BURNS; MORE THAN 200 GUESTS FLEE.

Blaze Starts on Top Floor and Spreads Rapidly, but Ample Time for Escape Is Afforded.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Fire broke out in the Brossel hotel at Seneca and Wells streets shortly after midnight. Fifteen minutes after the alarm was sounded the two upper floors were in flames and second and third alarms quickly followed.

All the guests of the hotel escaped. The fire started in an adjoining building.

The top floor of the hotel caught fire first, thus giving the 200 guests ample time to get out.

CULINARY SKILL WINS LEGAL FIGHT

Mrs. Effie S. Wellner, Attorney, Uses Cook Stove in Settling Family Dispute.

LIVES WITH PLAINTIFF.

Here's legal ethics as a woman barrister sees it:

Mrs. Effie Seeds Wellner returned to Chicago yesterday after ten days in Lockport, N. Y., in the interests of her client, George R. Whitcher, a Chicago barber.

Whitcher and his wife, who lives with her four children in Lockport, have been separated for eleven years. Last spring Whitcher retained Mrs. Wellner to file a suit for him for divorce. As soon as the suit was filed, Mrs. Whitcher swore out a warrant charging her husband with deserting her and her children five years ago in New York.

Whitcher was arrested, but Mrs. Wellner fought his extradition at Springfield and won, proving by money orders that Whitcher had not deserted his wife in New York on the date charged, as he still had supported her while he was in Illinois. Mrs. Wellner returned to Chicago and pushed the divorce suit in the Circuit court. On June 19 a decree was entered, in which there was a clause that Whitcher agreed to give $5 a week to the support of his wife and two minor children.

Whitcher Again Arrested.

In the meantime a second warrant and requisition papers had arrived from New York. Whitcher again was arrested and placed in jail. Mrs. Wellner was preparing an application for a writ of habeas corpus when the decree with the $5 clause was issued.

"In open court," said Mrs. Wellner last night, "Assistant State's Attorney Robert Hogan assured me my client would be held no longer as the state of New York was satisfied if he supported the family. That was on Saturday and I asked that Whitcher be released immediately. Hogan said the man would be released, so I didn't finish the habeas corpus papers. Several days later I found that my client had been taken back to New York on a charge of desertion and nonsupport. Then I knew that I had been tricked.

"My dander was up and I was determined to fight the case out and win it in spite of the odds. I went to Lockport ten days ago to be present at the opening of the county court. The case was continued until Monday. My client was in jail. I went to visit his wife.

Showed Them How to Cook.

"I found her and the four children and an old grandfather living under very bad conditions, so I moved into the house and stayed there. I showed them how to clean things up, and then I started in and taught them all how to cook. I cooked three meals a day for the five of them for ten days. I lowered the grocery bill $3 a week, and told them what I knew about reducing the high cost of living. I haven't been reading Jane Eddington's column for nothing.

"Then I changed the attitude existing between Whitcher and his wife. Instead of hating each other as they have been for the last ten years, they now realize that, although their marriage was a mistake, they can still be friends and make the best of it even though divorced and living apart. They are friends now for the sake of the children.

"Then I went into court and showed the judge the divorce decree with the $5 clause in it. Even the state's attorney down there agreed there should be no further prosecution of my client and the court discharged him. We won everything straight through and I am back here to let the state's attorney's office of Cook county know that he gained nothing when he tricked me in open court."

EXPOSES $680,000 'DE LUXE' BAIT FOR EX-SENATOR CLARK

SUED FOR $75,000 BY BOOK BUYER

In the private art gallery of a white marble mansion in Fifth avenue, New York, hang fourteen oil paintings. They will not hang there long. The mansion is that of former Senator William A. Clark of Montana.

Former Senator Clark has been nibbling at the paintings for some time, and was considered up to yesterday afternoon—on the verge of paying Tomlinson, Humes, Inc., more than $500,000 for the collection of fourteen. The price, to be exact, is $680,000. Tomlinson, Humes, Inc., is the alleged bankrupt "de luxe trust."

It was disclosed at a bankruptcy hearing in Chicago during the day that the "de luxe trust" bought the paintings for $35,000—prospective profit, $645,000. Mr. Clark was so notified by wire last evening.

That the former senator from Montana was picked by members of the "de luxe trust" as one of its prospective "easy marks" was revealed at a resumed hearing on the bankruptcy petition against the Tomlinson, Humes, Inc. in the office of Frank L. Wean, referee in bankruptcy.

Chicago Art Dealer Named.

Seymour J. Thurber, a nephew of W. Scott Thurber, a Chicago art dealer, picked the pictures in the Clark mansion. Thurber was employed by the "de luxe" firm as its "art expert and authenticator."

Attorney Michael Geas, who conducted the examination in behalf of the creditors, tried to show William Young Conn Humes, "de luxe" campaign manager for the firm, had planned to dissolve the corporation immediately prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition and take over the sale of the paintings for himself. Humes, who was the principal witness, denied this.

A peculiar feature of the plan to "unload" the pictures on Senator Clark at an enormous profit is that the collection is owned by E. P. Clark of Los Angeles, who bought the paintings from the "de luxe" firm for $125,000.

The sales contract with E. P. Clark stipulated the pictures were to be resold for not less than $680,000.

Attorney Geas announced he will start legal proceedings at once to gain possession of the fourteen pictures. The two Clarks are not related. The sale of the pictures to Mr. Clark of Los Angeles netted the "de luxe" corporation a profit of $90,000.

Pictures Offered Clark.

Twelve Hogarths and one Watteau, listed at $480,000.

One Turner, listed at $200,000.

Humes testified if the sale to former Senator Clark were consummated, Tomlinson, Humes, Inc., and E. B. Clark would share the profits on a 50 per cent basis.

Sell Before Acquiring Title.

It was shown also the collection was sold to E. P. Clark for $125,000 before the "de luxe" men had acquired title from the owners. The pictures originally were obtained from the Sarah N. Myers estate of Buffalo. Humes said it had been agreed to pay $70,000 for the collection. After E. P. Clark had agreed to purchase the pictures Herbert O. Tomlinson and Thurber returned to Buffalo and told the Myers heirs the price of $70,000 was too high.

"How did you acquire title?" Attorney Geas asked.

"Well, Mr. Myers, the widower, was an old man and was anxious to return to his native town of York in England," said Humes. "He had been subjected to a good deal of criticism from his daughters for indulging in his passion for pictures. They thought he had spent altogether too much money to satisfy his hobby, and when Tomlinson and Thurber offered $35,000 for the collection the daughters urged him to take it, so they could start for England at once."

E. P. Clark previously had given four notes in payment of the pictures. Under the terms of the contract with him Tomlinson and Humes were required to resell the collection.

The examination brought out that in the subsequent campaign to resell a total of $24,852 was spent by the "de luxe" campaigners in five months.

New Yorker Seeks $75,000.

A new turn in the affairs of the alleged bankrupt came during the day when Harry M. Levengston of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., filed suit in the United States District court for $75,000 damages.

The defendants are William Young Conn Humes, Herbert O. Tomlinson, James Plunkett, former salesman for the "de luxe" corporation; Samuel Warfield, and Edward J. McArdle, attorney for the "de luxe trust," all of Chicago, and William Beer of New Orleans. Humes and Plunkett were served with summonses at the close of the bankruptcy hearing.

Levengston charges he was defrauded in a "de luxe" sale in May, 1911, when he bought from the defendants a collection of books known as the "Americana" for $61,750. In the bill Levengston alleges Plunkett, Humes, and other defendants represented to him the books were worth $300,000, "at a fair retail valuation." He says the actual value of the books is not in excess of $1,000.

TWENTY-TWO BOYS TELL OF CRUELTY

Pontiac Guards and Physician Accused of Using Fists and Squeegee.

STARVED IN THE 'SCREENS'

Printing Instructor Supports Some of the Charges Heard by the Board.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Pontiac, Ill., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—Twenty-two inmates of the Pontiac reformatory today appeared as witnesses before the board of managers and added to the tales of alleged cruelties in the institution.

These boys came from all parts of the state. Their stories covered a period of more than four years and tended to involve some of the oldest and responsible officials in direct charge of the inmates. On the whole, the charges were similar to those made by the witnesses heard yesterday, most of whom came from Chcago.

The charges were corroborated by one witness, who is not an inmate of the institution. This was James Madigan, a recent addition to the force of expert printers employed as instructors in the printing plant. Madigan has been here four months. He testified he had seen brutal treatment administered to the boys and that he had seen one boy beaten in the printshop by the guard in charge of the inmates in that department.

Summary of Charges Made.

The charges made today ran the gamut of ill treatment. Among the cruelties alleged to have been practiced on the inmates were these:

"Beating up" of nearly every boy who has entered the institution as one of the preliminaries to initiation at the reformatory.

Prodding of boys in cells with the butt end of a long pole used to lower windows.

Whipping of one boy with a chair leg for misconduct in the chair making department.

Pounding of another with a hammer by one of the guards.

Knocking down and kicking of boys and stripping down and corporal punishment of boys for misconduct in the printing department while other boys were looking on.

Use of a blackjack repeatedly by a guard, now discharged, who was in charge of the "screens," or solitary.

Punishment by confinement in the "screens" for three to five days at a stretch with one slice of bread and two quarts of water daily as their food supply.

Refusal by guards and subordinates to permit the inmates to carry their complaints of ill treatment to the superintendent and a failure of inmates to attempt this because of fear of retaliatory measures by their guards.

Say They Feared Officials.

All these things were alleged to have occurred in various degrees by the twenty-two inmates who were heard today. Some of them spoke frankly and bore the appearance of telling the truth. These witnesses agreed that there existed in the institution a fear of certain of the subordinate officials. Among those named were the reformatory physician, Dr. Marshall, and Officers Bert Kinsella and E. D. Burrell.

Another class of the inmates failed to convince some of the board of managers, at least, that all that they declared to have happened behind the big stone walls was true.

Summarizing the stories which were more or less corroborated by the different versions of the same incident as related by different boys, the inquisitors tonight took the position that there is some fire where there is so much smoke. Comment made by members of the board indicated that the outcome will be a drastic report touching upon the conduct of the institution and advocating a radical change in the system of management.

Details of Boys' Testimony.

The summary of the testimony of the twenty-two boys who were on the stand today follows:

Anton Zuchsworth, Chicago—Kinsella shackled him to the bars of the "screens" and flogged him. Tore his shirt from him. Was in solitary for seven days on bread and water. Hanley, the dismissed guard, struck him five times on the back with a blackjack for whistling. Kinsella kicked him and knocked him off stool in the print shop. One officer had told him that "he would fix him good and plenty after this is over." Couldn't get to Superintendent Russell because guards would not give him the necessary "request."

Joe Sheridan, Chicago—Was hit by Dr. Marshall on entrance. Guard McDowell hit him with a squeegee. Burrell beat him with a chair leg and struck him thirty or forty times. Capt. Luke, disciplinarian, hit him with a squeegee. He tried to escape and was beaten black and blue by four officers who tried to get from him a confession concerning the attempt. Has a gunshot wound secured before his commitment. Was in emergency cell, a semi-solitary, for six months for his attempt to escape.

Whipped by Four Men.

Ernest Halverson, Chicago—"Beat up" on entrance by Dr. Marshall and Guard Bergen. Kinsella kicked him in the stomach. For a serious violation of the rules he was whipped by Capt. Luke and Guards Bergen, Burrell, and Hines, acting together, in the institution office, to the knowledge of Supt. Russell. In the screens for fourteen days straight for fighting back. Testified that "90 per cent of the boys get beat when they come in here, and 75 per cent of the officers beat them as regular routine."

James F. Long, Chicago—In the receiving department. Saw Hanley beat a boy in the north cell house. His business to take inmates to the hospital. They would not go because of fear of ill treatment. Said that there was a rumor in the institution that one of the boys had been murdered, and that this was believed largely by inmates.

Charles Hicks, McLeansboro—Had been there only three days when he was hit fifteen or twenty times by Hanley for looking into the "screens," when he did not know he was violating the rules. Back was raw for three weeks. Kinsella kicked him in the thigh, hip, and side and hit him with his fist for disobedience.

Whipped Before Other Boys.

Emmett Brown, Johnson City—Saw Dr. Marshall strike a boy on two occasions. Kinsella whipped him in the print shop before all other boys. Saw a boy whipped three weeks ago. He saw Supt. Russell and complained and was told to go back to his work and behave himself. In the screens repeatedly on bread and water.

Charles E. Turner, Peoria—Was "beat up" on reception by Dr. Marshall. Kinsella hit him. Guard Green pounded him with a squeegee for whistling.

Truman Devore, Belvidere—Dr. Marshall beat him "until I couldn't feel it any more." Bergen hit him on the jaw with his fist and it was sore for a month. Kinsella hit him three months ago on the jaw. Kinsella's ruby ring cut his face. He was in next cell to Frank Hamilton of Peoria, who committed suicide two years ago by hanging himself in a cell. Devore heard Hanley and McDowell handcuff and beat Hamilton, he said, a week before the latter's suicide, which happened in the cell next to his. Hamilton told him good-by. He said he notified the night guard, Fox, to look after Hamilton, but that no attention was paid to his request.

Frank Martin, Rock Island—Beat up by Dr. Marshall. Burrell whipped him in cell house for talking. Kinsella hit him six wseks ago for talking.

Hit in Face with "Squee-gee."

Harvey Carlisle, Chicago—Dr. Marshall hit his "face and hands with squeegee until they were blistered." Capt. Robb hit him and slapped him and sent him to the screens. Saw Kinsella hit "a lot of fellows. Nobody has been hit for a couple of weeks."

Frank Casey, Belvidere—Dr. Marshall hit him with the squeegee. Kinsella hit him for talking "on the line" and kicked him.

Paul Webolt, Alton—Dr. Marshall hit him with squeegee and with first.

Rudolph Carr, Chicago—Was struck by Marshall with squeegee. Guard Hagerty hit him, knocked him down, kicked him in the head, and broke his nose. Put him in the sick cell and not the hospital, then he was sent for fourteen days to the "screens" for breaking the rules.

William Corte, Kewanee—Saw Dr. Marshall hit four or five out of a batch of nineteen received at one time. Kinsella and Robb hit him. Kinsella hit him for picking a flower. He fought back Kinsella and got six months in confinement, with a bath once a week and a shave once a month.

Frank Crawley, Chicago—Wright, a school teacher, broke a slate over his head and whipped him with a leather tag. Was jabbed by Guard Anderson with the window pole while in his cell and his stomach was injured.

William Coles, Chicago—Was hit by Burrell with a hammer handle after a row. School Teacher Wright hit him with a blackjack.

No comment from any of the officers and attaches named in the foregoing summary of the testimony given today is available tonight and no reply will be made until the men involved take the witness stand, it is asserted.

BELIEVE SCHMIDT MASTER CRIMINAL

New York Police Abandon Theory Priest Is Merely Insane Slayer.

MURET IS HIS BROTHER?

Dentist Caught in Counterfeiting Place Believed to Be Relative.

New York, Sept. 16.—The discovery of a counterfeiter's den which Hans Schmidt, priest and confessed slayer of Anna Aumuller, today admitted was fitted up by him to make spurious money, led the detectives, Coroner Feinberg, and other visitors to his cell in the Tombs to express the opinion that Schmidt is sane and that further investigation will develop that counterfeiting was only one of his "side lines."

They declared it as their belief that Schmidt is feigning insanity after carefully thought out plans of a master criminal mind.

To the Rev. Father Evers, chaplain of the Tombs prison, to his attorney and other callers, Schmidt admitted his connection with the flat in West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, where detectives found bundles of imitation $10 gold certificates.

Muret Held for Hearing.

Dr. Ernest Arthur Muret, the dentist arrested last night after the raid on the counterfeiter's flat, today was held in $5,000 bail for hearing on the charge of having in his possession a revolver, in violation of a state law.

Through his knowledge of the law, Muret forestalled the plans of the federal secret service agents waiting to arrest him on a warrant charging counterfeiting. By waiving preliminary examination Muret, for the time being at least, escaped the more serious charge.

Bertha Zech, the servant employed by Dr. Muret, and taken to police headquarters with him last night, was released, the detectives telling the court they had no evidence on which she could be held.

Dr. Muret, the search of his office disclosed, had been studying law through a Chicago correspondence school. Many law books and forms of study from the school were found.

Muret and Schmidt Brothers?

Inspector Faurot, head of the detective bureau, reiterated tonight his belief that Muret and Schmidt are relatives, if not brothers. Dr. Muret told the inspector the resemblance was merely a coincidence.

"I firmly believe," Inspector Faurot said, "that before long—for the truth is bound to come out—it will be shown that these two men are more than friends, that they are kin."

William Flynn, chief of the United States secret service, today announced he had taken charge of the government's end of the case and would work with the New York police in tracing the operations of Schmidt as a counterfeiter and also the connection Muret might have had with the fake money plant.

Chief Flynn is working on clews furnished by the passing of much counterfeit money in Massachusetts and Connecticut in April, 1912, and subsequently.

Insists Schmidt Is Insane.

Alphonse G. Koelble, Schmidt's attorney, visited the prisoner today, and after the conference, declared he was more than ever convinced of the insanity of his client.

"He declared that he is sane," Koelble said in explanation of his belief. "He says one of his personalities is Schmidt, the priest; that another is Dr. Moliere, the medical man, and a third was the counterfeiter. He freely admitted his intention to make money, but says the money was not counterfeit, but real money, made at the command of God."

To Father Evers, Schmidt is quoted saying that 'God gave me the plates."

Counterfeits to Aid Poor.

In reply to a question by the chaplain as to why he had become a counterfeiter, the priest said:

"There are so many poor people in the world. There are so many people who are sick and who are in dire need that I was going to help them—was going to better their condition. Half of the money I was going to devote to bettering the condition of the people of the United States, the other half was to be devoted to bettering the condition of the poor of Germany."

These explanations of his acts, the detectives contend, are merely in line with his prearranged plans to appear insane, while at the same time telling his attorney that he is sane.

McWeeny Reinstates Detectives.

Detectives Walter O'Brien and Joseph Carmody of the Detective bureau, who were suspended for the second time last Friday, were again reinstated yesterday and restored to duty immediately by an order issued by Chief McWeeny.

SCHMIDT MAD, HINTS FRIEND

Rev. F. Markert of Techny, Ill., Writes of Accused Clergyman.

KNEW HIM IN HIS BOYHOOD.

Eccentricities Puzzled Intimates and Nearly Prevented Ordination.

The City News bureau last night sent out to all of the Chicago morning newspapers a communication relating to the arrest of Father Hans Schmidt in New York for the murder of Anna Aumuller.

The writer, the Rev. F. Markert of the Society of the Divine Word, Techny, Ill., intimates that Father Schmidt is insane.

He asks in the letter that his name be not used. THE TRIBUNE communicated with him over the long distance telephone and he consented to permit the use of his name. The letter follows:

Knew Schmidt in Boyhood.

"The writer is a friend of Schmidt since early boyhood. Even as a boy he showed unbounded zeal to study, and contrary to his parents' wishes carried it to excess. It is literally true that for years he studied ceaselessly from early morn till late at night. Later he was one of the foremost scholars of his class at the classical course of Mayence. Even then he displayed certain eccentricities which puzzled his intimates and caused scruples on the part of those in charge about receiving him into a theological seminary.

"However, once he was accepted he seemed to maintain his equilibrium. Later he left and studied philosophy at Munich, attaining to the doctorate. Then, contrary to the expectation of all who knew him, he resumed his theological studies and in 1904 was ordained to the priesthood. He filled several positions as chaplain, his overzeal causing a protracted illness, which finally necessitated his entering a sanitarium. In 1908 or 1909 he came to America. For some years he did not write to his parents, but only to his brothers and sisters, giving as a reason then that he feared he would cause his parents pain by writing.

Refuses to Meet His Friend.

"Three years ago the writer was requested while visiting Schmidt's parents to make inquiries concerning him. He was then at Trenton, N. J. He ignored my request to meet me in New York City. Later I sent him another card, in reply receiving, on June 28, 1910, a letter, of which an excerpt follows:

"'Both cards received. They were a pleasant reminder of your old friendship for me. Nevertheless, dear friend, would I ask you urgently not to write me again. My soul is still too sore to bear the wounds of happier times, recollection of which you awaken. My care of the near future must rather be to forget, lest I lose my reason entirely. When you receive this letter I will probably be aboard the Pacific express on my way westward.

"'Do not try to ascertain my address. My best wishes are with you. Accept best regards from your unhappy friend. J. S.'

"These facts show that he was undoubtedly in several respects not well. I am convinced that otherwise he could not be capable of such an ill deed. He comes from an excellent family. A cousin of his some time ago committed suicide while in a fit of melancholy due to brain disease.

"THE REV. F. MARKERT."

NURSE COMES FROM AUSTRALIA AS WITNESS IN WILL CONTEST.

Attorney Brings Young Woman on Long Trip to Attack Validity of Testament of Wealthy Chicagoan.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—After a journey of approximately 20,000 miles, Thomas V. O'Donnell, an attorney with offices in the Monadnock building, Chicago, arrived in St. Louis tonight from Sydney, Australia, with Miss Mary Purcell, a trained nurse of Sydney, whom he declares is an important witness in a will contest which will be heard in the Illinois Superior court next month.

O'Donnell says he represents eighteen litigants, contesting the will of a man whose name he refuses to divulge, but who he says was a widely known Chicago bachelor who left an estate valued at close to $1,000,000 at the time of his death some months ago. A will was filed for probate, cutting off the relatives and leaving the entire estate to a male friend.

OTIS GETS BOMB; JAP SPOILS PLOT

Servant Questions Package in Mail and Saves Los Angeles Editor.

'M'NAMARA MEN' BLAMED.

Times' Mexican Policy, However, Police Chief Thinks Is Responsible.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 16.—For the second time within three years a bomb today jeopardized the life of Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, owner of the Los Angeles Times, which was destroyed by dynamite Oct. 1, 1910.

That he escaped injury probably was due to the watchful eye of his Japanese servant, who received from the postman an infernal machine mailed in this city and called his employer's attention to it.

The first infernal machine directed at the life of Gen. Otis was found at his residence a few hours after his newspaper plant had been destroyed through the efforts of the McNamara conspirators.

Blames Old Conspirators.

The attempt on his life today was attributed by the general to agencies friendly to those whose conspiracy eventuated in the destruction of his newspaper plant and the killing of twenty-one men three years ago.

Chief of Police Sebastian expressed the belief that the bomb had been sent by some person violently opposed to Gen. Otis' newspaper policy with regard to the Huerta administration in Mexico.

Takes Bomb to Suburbs.

Capt. E. B. Feitz, a powder expert in the police department, took the machine to a sparsely inhabited section of the city near the Los Angeles river and there pried open the box.

He found matches fixed to the inside in such a way that if it were opened in the usual way they would have rubbed against pieces of sandpaper and ignited. There was also black powder, a small section of fuse, two fulminating caps, and two sticks of 85 per cent dynamite, which tore a great hole in the ground.

The wrappings were given over to the postoffice inspectors, who began an investigation.

FINANCIER'S ILLNESS SECRET.

Wall Street Learns of Slow Recovery of Norman B. Ream from Operations Three Months Ago.

New York, Sept. 16.—[Special.]—The financial district learned today of the illness of Norman B. Ream, director of the Steel corporation, of many railroads, banks, and other corporations, and one of the most prominent financiers in Wall street.

Mr. Ream is recovering from two serious operations last June at the Presbyterian hospital.

It will be two or three months, however, before he will be able to resume his business activities. He is at his summer home in Thompson, Conn.

SLAY PRIEST QUELLING RIOT

Police Also Mortally Wound Politician Near Naples.

MOB FRENZIED BY VOLLEYS.

Soldiers' Aid Necessary to Restore Order After Several Fall.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

NAPLES, Sept. 16.—There was a serious riot today at Casoria, six miles from this place, during which an octogenarian priest was killed and a prominent politician mortally wounded.

The police had been called to suppress the disturbance, which was of a political nature and during which the politician had been wounded.

The mob was too much for the police, and the latter were almost overpowered when they drew their revolvers and fired.

The old priest, who was exhorting the rioters to cease their fighting and disperse, was killed instantly and several other persons were wounded.

The killing of the priest enraged the rioters, and soldiers had to be called to suppress the trouble.

DEATH TAKES ABNER E. INGALLS; SISTER AND BROTHER STRICKEN.

Wealthy Joliet Land Owner Succumbs to Heart Disease, Which Seriously Affects Other Two at the Same Time.

Abner E. Ingalls, wealthy Joliet land owner, died in Joliet yesterday. He was 71 years old. His 74 year old brother, L. E. Ingalls, millionaire Joliet race horse man and owner of the Del Prado hotel of Chicago, is said to be dying, and his 77 year old sister, Mrs. Lois Sargant, is critically ill as a result of strokes of heart disease which attacked all three simultaneously on Aug. 26.

The three patients had been convalescing at the Del Prado hotel and Abner Ingalls, the youngest of the three, had returned to his home in Joliet.

Both the brothers suffered a relapse after physicians thought they were entirely recovered. None of the three ever had been attacked by the disease before. Physicians say the case is unusual.

OBITUARY.

GEORGE J. MEIER, for the last ten years a Chicago attorney, died at a sanitarium at Kenosha, Wis., yesterday. For the last four months he had been a sufferer from general paresis. He was 37 years old. He was a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Jacob Meier, 2182 Alice place, both of whom survive him.

ALFRED FIRMIN-DIDOT, the publisher, died in Paris yesterday at the age of 85. He was the editor of the famous Didot-Bottin, which is said to be the largest directory published in any part of the world. He was a member of the Legion of Honor.

COL. REUBEN T. DURRETT, 90 years old, one of Kentucky's foremost scholars, is dead of paralysis at Louisville. He recently sold a library of 55,000 volumes to the University of Illinois for $35,000.

AUTO TAKES SCALP FROM BOY VICTIM

Matthew Jansen Also Sustains Two Fractured Ribs and Internal Injuries.

JURY FREES JUVENILE.

Albert Novak Jr., 16 Years Old, Who Ran Down and Killed Man, Let Go.

Matthew Jansen, 6 year old son of Charles W. Jansen, 4721 Champlain avenue, was injured, perhaps fatally, when he was struck by an automobile yesterday afternoon at Forty-seventh street and Vincennes avenue. The boy lies in a critical condition at the Chicago hospital, while Carl Ronschke, 18 years old, chauffeur for Dr. Stuart Johnstone, 4005 Grand boulevard, is held at the Fiftieth street police station, pending the outcome of his injuries.

Alex Keller, 4857 Langley avenue, said he saw Ronschke driving alone south in Grand boulevard. The Jansen boy attempted to cross the street at the intersection of Forty-seventh street. Keller says that a front fender of the car struck the boy and knocked him down, and that one of the wheels passed over his body.

Boy's Scalp Torn Off.

Keller picked the boy up and took him to the office of a nearby physician, from which place he was removed to the hospital. Physicians reported that the boy's scalp was torn from his left ear to the top of his head and that two of his ribs were fractured. It is believed that he received internal injuries. Ronschke stopped his car and gave himself up to the police.

Coming home from school yesterday, 8 year old Alfred Becker was struck and knocked down by an automobile at South Morgan and West Fourteenth streets. The automobile was owned and driven by W. E. McCarran, 938 Alma street, Austin. The boy escaped with bruises and cuts about the head and face. Mr. McCarran stopped and picked him up. He was taken to his home, 1455 Solon place.

Boy Cleared of Killing.

Albert Novak Jr., the 16 year old boy who drove the automobile that fatally injured an old man on Sunday night at Ogden avenue and West Harrison street, was exonerated yesterday by a coroner's jury. Robert T. Grace, 60 years old, who lived at 1307 Willis court, was the victim of the accident. He died on Monday at the county hospital.

Young Novak, who is the son of a fish and cheese merchant living at 1362 South Washtenaw avenue, testified he had taken the automobile without the consent of his parents. He said it was the first time he had ever driven the car without some older or more experienced person with him.

The jurors expressed the belief that the accident would not have occurred if young Novak had had more experience in operating an automobile. They said they believed he was bewildered when he hurried from the scene after the accident.

HAS ANYBODY LOST A COW? THIS WOMAN CAN'T RETURN IT.

Tries to Present Stray Beast to Unhappy City Custodian, but He Begs Her to Keep It.

De Witt C. Cregier, city custodian, leads a worried life. Every day policemen bring to his office an assortment of articles ranging from bicycles to penny tops. A woman appeared there yesterday and added to his troubles for a few minutes.

"I found a cow," she said.

"You didn't bring it with you, did you?" demanded Cregier in alarm, as he peeked into the hall.

"No, but I'm afraid I'll get into trouble if I don't turn it over to the city. A policeman from the Lawndale station told me I'd have to bring it to you."

"Wait a minute, wait a minute," interrupted the custodian as he whipped up the telephone receiver. "Give me the law department."

"It's all right," he said, after a moment's conversation, "the law department says if you have made every reasonable effort to locate the owner and have failed, you can keep the cow until the owner shows up. And you can milk it, too."

Then he carefully put down her name and address, explaining that he wanted it in the event the owner of the animal appealed to the police to recover it. He wanted the capture accomplished "peaceably," so that the cow would not be seized and turned over to him for storage until the owner saw fit to take it off his hands. He promised not to disclose the name except to the owner.

St. Luke's Hospital Nurses Care For Two Infants Born in Same Place.

Nurses and doctors at St. Luke's hospital have decided to keep a close eye on the future of two patients who entered the hospital under similar conditions during the last two weeks.

One of the patients is a baby girl, born July 7 to Mrs. Pearl Weitzman of 1124 Mozart place, where the Twelfth street car stops at Wabash avenue. The mother and baby were taken to St. Luke's hospital in an ambulance.

The other patient, a baby boy, born on Saturday at the same place and carried in the same ambulance, was brought to the same hospital and placed in the same ward under the care of the same nurse and doctor. The baby is the son of Mrs. Rose Schulkin of 3407 West Thirteenth street.

TWO MEN SLUG UNION PLUMBER

Knocked Down and Injured While Attending Meeting—Refuses to Prosecute.

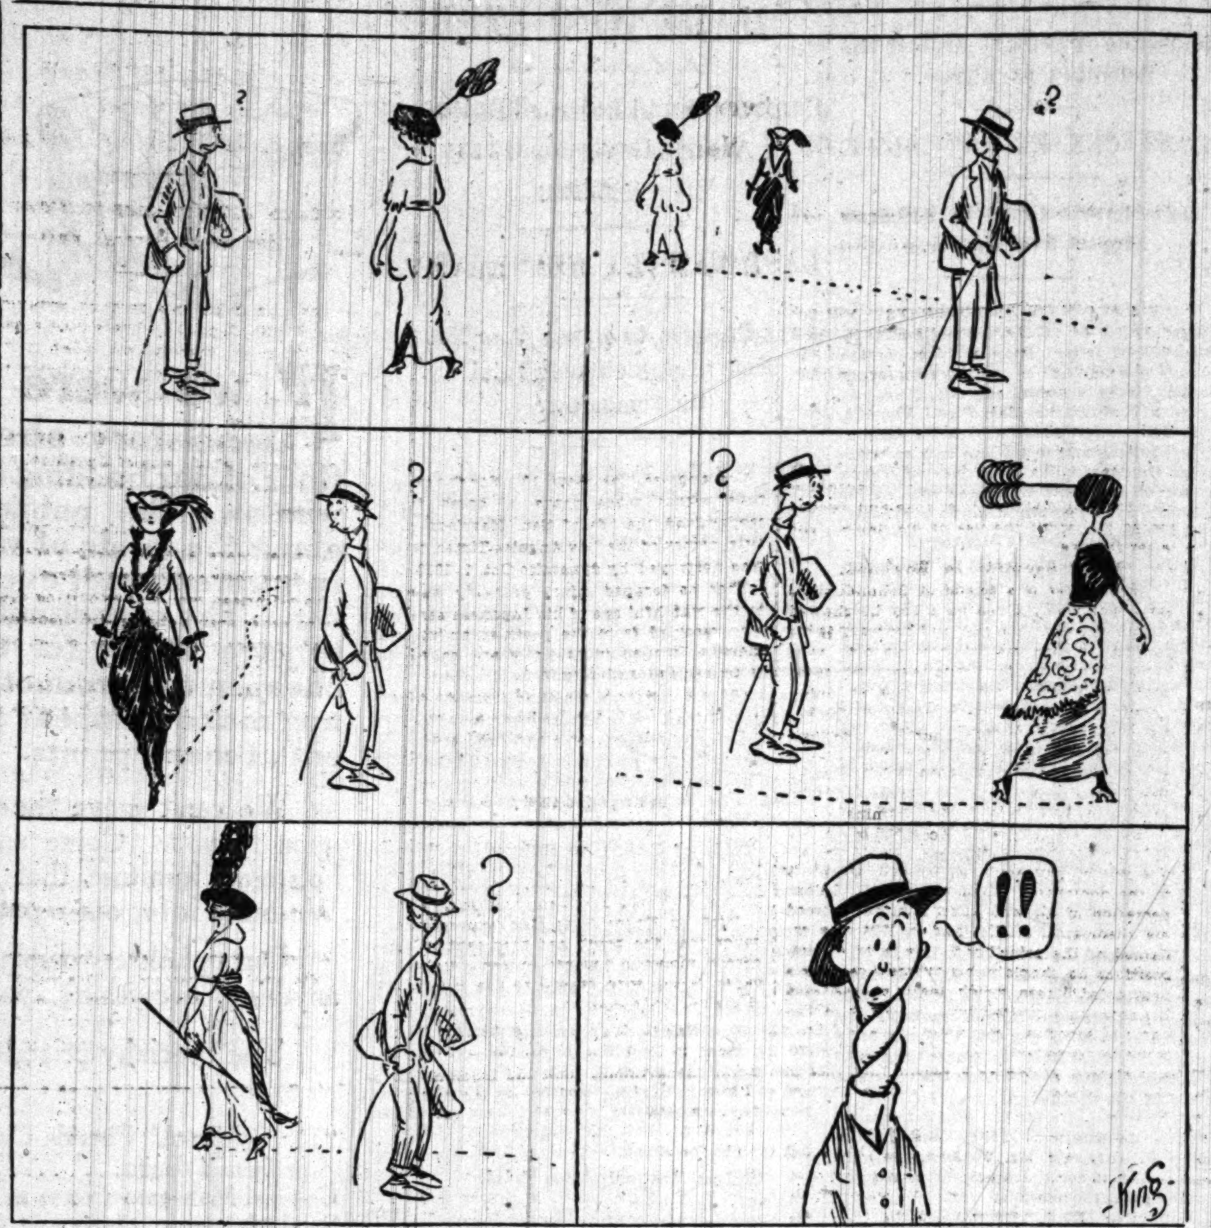

George M. Gould, member of the plumbers' union, when attending a meeting of the organization at 365 West Madison street last night was knocked down and beaten by two men. One man first struck him in the face, knocking him down. As he tried to rise he was struck with a cuspidor by another man. Policeman J. Ryan of the Central station took him to the Iroquis Memorial hospital. Gould said he did not know the names of his assailants. He lives at 5442 Stony Island avenue.

Hearing of charges against Justice of the Peace Charles Bell and Policemen Pine and Gritman of Melrose Park was begun yesterday by County Judge John Owens. Justice Bell and Pine are accused of conspiracy to hold up motorists and Gritman is alleged to have struck and seriously injured Mrs. W. S. Shawvan, 4857 Kenmore avenue, following the arrest of her husband while he was returning from the Elgin races on Aug. 30.

Among those who testified yesterday were N. H. Van Sicklen, president of the Chicago Automobile Trade association; Charles Gregory, former president of the Chicago Motor club; W. K. Young of W. K. Young & Bro., real estate agents; Operative Dwyer of the Burns agency, and Mr. and Mrs. Shawvan.

Policeman Pushes Woman.

W. S. Shawvan and Mrs. Shawvan testified that policeman 11, whom they later identified as Gritman, pushed Mrs. Shawvan from the steps of the police station at Melrose Park.

"Officer No. 11 pushed me," said Mrs. Shawvan. "I had followed my hnsband to the police station after he had been arrested for interfering with Policeman Pine's arrest of Operative Dwyer.

"I attempted to go into the police station with my husband. Gritman pushed me. I would have fallen if a friend of mine, Mrs. Vawter, with whom I was riding in the motor car, had not caught me. I was hysterical after that. After reached home I became ill and was confined to my bed under a doctor's care four days."

Dwyer testified that he had been arrested by Pine for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

"I had been sent with three other operatives to distribute circulars for the Chicago Motor club warning motorists to obey the speed laws in passing through Melrose Park," he said. "Constable Pine did everything he could to make me stop. Finally I was thrown into jail. They refused to give me trial. I was not drunk.

Shawvan Supports Dwyer's Story.

"When I told the judge I had merely interfered to prevent Pine beating Dwyer up he said I could go. I walked over to Dwyer and smelled his breath. He was not drunk," Shawvan testified.

To prove the charge that the officials were holding up motorists Mr. Van Sicklen, Mr. Gregory and Mr. Young were called to the stand. Mr. Young testified that he had been arrested in Melrose Park while traveling less than twenty miles an hour.

"We were taken to the station," he said. "I signed a bond and later appeared for trial. Two men testified that we had not been going more than twenty miles an hour through Melrose Park. Pine swore we had been going thirty miles an hour. Justice Bell said the evidence showed conclusively that we had exceeded the speed and fined me."

Young then appealed the case.

Took Her $40 Bond.

Mr. Gregory said that he was arrested on the dirt road west of the city. He left a $40 bond with Justice Bell and inquired of the justice what the fine usually was. Judge Bell said, according to Gregory, that the fine would be $40.

"I told him in that case," said Gregory, "that he could keep the bond. He said that would be all right if I got somebody to plead guilty for me. This I did."

OPERATION FOR FIELD'S SON.

Five Year Old Boy from Lake Forest Occupies Hospital Suite at $150 a Week.

The 5 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Field of Lake Forest is ill at St. Luke's hospital, where he is awaiting an operation for the removal of adenoids. The two best rooms in the hospital D-1 and 2, are reserved for him, at a cost of $150 a week.

The operation will be performed by Dr. George P. Marquis of 999 Lake Shore drive. It is said the boy will be out of the hospital a week after it is over.

Mrs. Field has spent the greater part of the summer in Maine, where she went on account of the health of the children. There are two older girls. She returned recently in order to have the operation performed on her son.

FRY TRAPS M'WEENY'S FRIEND

Scores Policeman for Releasing Langley Avenue Speeder.

TIP LEADS TO DISCOVERY.

Says That "Influence" Cannot Save Prisoners.

Municipal Judge Fry yesterday supported assertions that men with "influence" escape punishment for violation of the speed law and other automobile regulations.

"When I had the state's attorney's right of nolle prosequi abolished in this court," he said, "one avenue of 'fixing' these cases was cut off. Now another way of their escaping punishment has cropped out."

"Friend of McWeeny's."

This was his concluding statement after hearing the case of Frank Karg, 6143 Langley avenue, whose case he investigated personally Monday evening. In the afternoon a prisoner told the court Motorcycle Patrolman Dineen had captured another prisoner, whom he released at the Fiftieth street station. The prisoner—Karg—said he was a "personal friend of Chief McWeeny's."

At the station Judge Fry found no Karg had been booked for speeding. While he was there Dineen brought in the man he previously had released.

"The police must have been informed I was coming," said the judge, "for Karg was brought in and booked."

Dineen had told him on Monday that Karg had been booked previously, and when asked to explain the statement he said it was a "technical arrest," as an arrest slip had been made out.

Court in Control.

"Then why wasn't he brought into court?" demanded the judge. "After a man is arrested the policeman making the arrest becomes an officer of the court, and no man arrested can be released without the authority of the court. I am convinced that unless I personally had investigated this case Karg never would have been brought before me on this charge."

Karg said he merely had asked if he could not ask the chief of police to release him until Tuesday night. He was fined $25. Two other defendants—A. S. Harlan, 2438 North Clark street, and Bert Ohlson, 6539 Morgan street—were fined $100 each. Harlan failed to remember he had been up in the speeders' court on two previous occasions. Ohlson was traveling fifty miles an hour at midnight Saturday night.

INSANE FROM LOVE, SAYS JURY

Says That She Cannot Live Without Her Husband.

A coroner's jury got together in the back room of Boydston's undertaking shop on Cottage Grove avenue yesterday. In the morgue was the body of a young woman who had killed herself. The woman, Mrs. Grace Rinalda Scott of Omaha, it had been testified, was healthy, sane, and in the possession of a considerable income. The foreman of the jury, Oscar M. Dean, wrote with the stub of a pencil this verdict, which is believed to be the first of its kind:

"The deceased came to her death from inhaling gas. The key was turned by her. She killed herself because she was insane from love."

The jurors signed the verdict and went home in the rain.

Woman Tells Story.

Mrs. Dorothy Rutledge, who lived below Mrs. Scott in an apartment house at 3205 Cottage Grove avenue, told the story which caused the verdict.

"This young woman killed herself because a man whom she loved didn't love her," she said. "If she hadn't killed herself she would have died anyhow."

Leaves Two Notes.

Mrs. Scott left two notes. They were:

"My Darling Mother: I must bid you and my beloved ones good-by. Do with my body whatever will make you happiest. I am too sad to explain. Give Mabel my belongings. Love to all. Please forgive me. I cannot help it. RINALDA.

"I love Arthur better than my life and I am wiling to die rather than to live without him."

ARREST TWO IN GAMBLING RAID.

Detectives Find Men Operating "Baseball Pool" in West Van Buren Street Cigar Store.

Two men were arrested late yesterday in a gambling raid on a cigar store at 55 West Van Buren street. According to the police the two men had a "baseball pool" and were receiving bets on ball games.

FARMS' PROFITS SMASH RECORDS

Year's Lower Volume, Thanks to High Prices, to Pay Far More than in 1912.

TOTAL IS $5,000,000,000.

Bulletin of Orange Judd Company Finds Corn Shortage "Blessing in Disguise."

With a total quantity of agricultural products 22 per cent less than in 1912, the year's gross revenue for the farmers will be 6 per cent more than last year, according to a bulletin issued yesterday by the Orange Judd company, which publishes several agricultural papers. Total value will be $5,000,000,000, or $269,000,000 more than a year ago.

The reason for this extraordinary condition is, of course, the high prices per unit for several of the large cereal crops. Corn, for example, will show a total volume of 20 per cent under that of 1912, but with a value 42 per cent better will produce for the farmers $100,000,000 more than a year ago.

Expense of Harvesting Lighter.

"The wealth the farmers will receive for their decreased tonnage," says the report, "also has these two decided advantages: Less labor and expense will be required for harvesting and marketing the crops this year, at a time when farm help is scarce and high.

"Only the decrease of about 50,000,00 tons in the weight of these staples will enable American railways to move the crops of 1913 without a veritable breakdown of the transportation system, in view of the heavy tonnage of other freight and of passenger traffic caused by the resumption of good times.

General Conditions Bettered.

"The outcome of the agricultural season, therefore, is profoundly beneficial to industry, commerce, and finance, taking the country as a whole, although certain individuals and limited sections have been hard hit by the drouth.

"The shortage in new corn is not a disaster. It is a blessing in disguise. For with over 400,000,000 of old corn on hand Oct. 1, the aggregate supply of maize this autumn will be some 2,750,000,000 bushels. This just about equals the corn supply following the harvest of 1911—only two years ago, when the yield was 2,650,000,000, and the supply of old corn was then only about one-fourth as large as now."

Wheat Breaks All Records.

The wheat output will be the greatest in quantity and value in the country's history, and the value for potatoes, $224,000,000, $40,000,000 more than last year, breaks all records.

"Even more remarkable than the foregoing is the present promise of the cotton crop," continues the bulletin. "Although nearly a million bales less than last year, a decrease of 5 per cent, its price of around 14 cents per pound to the planter will make the cotton crop worth the unprecedented aggregate of nearly $950,000,000.

"In other words, cotton growers will receive a total of around $125,000,000 more than last year, or a total increase of 22 per cent. This will be the greatest amount ever paid to planters in the history of the cotton industry."

GIRL LOSES ARM, LEG, AND BREAKS SKULL; WILL RECOVER

Young Lithuanian Exhibits Remarkable Recuperative Powers After Being Run Over by Train.

Miss Patricia Roapika, a buxom young Lithuanian, who lives at 559 West Fourteenth street, is spending a few days at St. Luke's hospital with four injuries, any one of them sufficient to kill a person with vitality only a little below the average. She is doing well and is expected to undergo an operation or two today to hasten her recovery.

Miss Roapika is employed by the Pullman company as a cleaner. She started to cross te Illinois Central railway tracks at Fifteenth street to reach one of the company cars Monday afternoon. Down the track rattled one of the "teakettle" suburban engines. Miss Roapika continued across the tracks. But the engine was heavier than it looked. It tossed her against a caisson and plunged on over her.

The train crew and some yard men ran up with a stretcher. The girl had lost her left arm and left leg. She had a fracture of her skull. She was carried into St. Luke's hospital, a hundred yards away. After the operation she rallied so well that Dr. A. E. Halstead, the surgeon, predicts she will recover.

Court Receipts Increase.

In the report of the certified public accountant in the offices of Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court an increase in the clerks' receipts in the Municipal courts for the nine months ending Aug. 31 of $120,178.77 was noted over last year's receipts.

CHURCH EXPELS REV. HANMER

Free Methodists Find Him Guilty of Immorality.

NAMED IN DIVORCE SUIT.

Wife of the Rev. D. C. Nuel Nursed Him Through Illness.

The Rev. W. G. Hanmer, pastor of the St. Charles (Ill.) Free Methodist church, was found guilty of misconduct and expelled from the church and conference by a jury of his fellow ministers yesterday after the longest trial in the history of the church. An appeal was allowed to the general conference.

The charges against Hanmer were immorality and falsehood. Some time ago he was named in the divorce suit of the Rev. D. C. Nuel, whose wife had nursed him through a severe illness in Alameda, Cal.

Text of the Charges.

The statement given out last night by the Rev. E. A. Tapper of Elgin for Bishop William Pearce follows:

"The jury in the case of the Free Methodist church versus the Rev. W. G. Hanmer have returned a verdict of guilty after a consideration of the charges made against him.

"The penalty is great. He has been expelled from the church and from the general conference. He has been requested to surrender his parchments to the secretary of this conference.

"The sentence was pronounced by Bishop William Pearce in harmony with the findings of the jury.

Up to General Conference.

"Immediately at the close of the hearing the attorneys for the guilty minister, the Rev. F. E. Bennett of Evanston, took an appeal to the general conference. Their appeal was granted.

"Until the meeting of the general conference, which will be in June of the year 1915, the guilty minister will have no rights in the Free Methodist church either as pastor or member. The charges were immorality and falsehood."

ANDY HATRACK STILL WONDER; WASHES HIS FACE EVERY DAY.

Gary Boy Phenomenon Who Won Fame and Necktie for Cleanliness Still on the Job.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 16.—Andy Hatrack, the 7 year old Italian boy who won worldwide fame and a red necktie in the clean face contest at the Gary schools, is apparently developing other American traits. Andy was cornered in the school hall today long enough for the following interview:

"Did you wash your hands and face, Andy, every day this summer, as you promised Miss Knaggs, your teacher, you would do?" he was asked.

"Give me a penny," he replied.

"All right, Andy," but you must answer the questions first."

"Let's see money."

He was shown the coin and promptly said: "Sure, I keep clean give me penny."

"I wear the suit and red tie on Sundays. Miss Knaggs told me to wear them only on Sunday."

ANOTHER LOCAL AIRMAN DIES.

Lockjaw from Injuries Fatal to P. C. Davis One Day After Lillie's Death.

P. C. Davis, 901 Leland avenue, an aviator, died yesterday at the Columbus hospital from an accident while he was flying at the Juneau county fair, at Mauston, Wis. His death follows by one day that of another Chicago aviator, Max Lillie, killed by a fall at Galesburg, Ill.

Davis' machine struck a barbed wire fence while making a landing two weeks ago, Sept. 5. His collar bone and both legs were broken and his foot was torn. He was taken to the hospital on Sunday, suffering from lockjaw, and amputation was too late to save him.

HUERTA PROMISES HONEST ELECTION

Message to Mexican Congress Assures Freedom to Choose President.

DEPLORES STAND OF U. S.

Calls Strained Relations Unmerited Handicap; Believes Americans Friendly.

Mexico City, Sept. 16.—Provisional President Victoriano Huerta delivered his semi-annual message tonight at the opening of the second session of the Twenty-seventh Mexican congress.

In it he promised to spare no efforts to bring about the unrestricted election of a president and vice president of the Mexican republic next month, declaring it would constitute the greatest triumph of his career to turn over the office to his successor with the country at peace, as he hoped to do.

Gen. Huerta said the strained diplomatic relations between Mexico and the United States had caused the Mexican nation to suffer unmerited affliction and had retarded the pacification of the country. Nevertheless, he hoped for an early solution of the differences between the two nations and to see Mexico and the United States once more united in bonds of friendship.

Big Assemblage Hears Message.

The deputies and senators in joint session filled the floor of the chamber of deputies. The balconies were packed, the diplomatic gallery being filled with foreign representatives and their families.

The silence which prevailed during the reading of the presidential document by the clerk was broken at its conclusion by prolonged cheering, in which the congressmen were joined by the crowds in the galleries.

In his message President Huerta said:

"I will spare no effort and no sacrifice to obtain the coveted peace and to guarantee fully in the coming elections the free casting of the ballot. You may be sure it will constitute the greatest possible triumph for the interim government to surrender office to its successor, if the latter, as is to be expected, enters upon its functions with public peace and order an accomplished fact."

Text of Huerta Message.

President Huerta's message in part was as follows:

"Besides the fratricidal strife which exhausts us, the tenseness of our diplomatic relations with the government of the United States, although luckily not with that people, has put us in a state of apprehension, has made us suffer more than one affliction which was not merited, and retarded the complete pacification of the republic.

"As this affair is of so delicate a nature and as the permanent commission of congress already has been informed of the state of the negotiations, which as yet have not been broken off, I have only to indicate that the government hopes, with good grounds, to see quickly solved the differences which day by day keep in suspense that good friendship which of old united, and for an indefinite future should unite us, to our powerful civilized neighbor.

Huerta Explains Diplomatic Course.

"Upon taking charge, by virtue of the law, of the presidency of the republic, complying with the established international practices I communicated the fact of my having taken possession to all the foreign governments with which Mexico cultivates relations of friendship. Of these there hastened to answer by autograph letter the following: Germany, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Colombia, Costa Rica, China, Denmark, Ecuador, Spain, France, Guatemala, Haiti, Holland, Honduras, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Montenegro, Norway, Portugal, Russia, Salvador, Servia, Switzerland, Turkey, and Uruguay.

"I would call the attention of congress to the fact that in this list are not found some of the small governments in Europe, but this is due to the fact that we have no diplomatic relations with them, or that their replies have already been announced through the proper channels and did not reach the chancellory.

Deplores Latin-American Attitude.

"It has caused surprise, and at the same time regret, to the honorable chamber as to the executive, that some of the countries to which Mexico is united by ties of blood, language, and customs, and no less by identical aspirations and destinies, have not vouchsafed a reply to the letter.

"The executive is ignorant of the causes which may have prompted this conduct, and it certainly may be entirely worthy of respect. He abstains from endeavoring to learn, and contents himself with putting the result before your honorable body.

"There have been sent to our ports various foreign war vessels with the object, it is said, of extending protection, if that should be necessary, to the lives and interests of the citizens or subjects of the powers in question by reason of the state of insecurity, it is presumed, growing out of the revolution.

"In view of this departure in foreign relations I entered into correspondence with certain foreign diplomats, calling attention to the action of their respective governments, and upon receiving due explanations dictated orders towards the fulfillment of the law in such case.

"Since the law prohibited warships from remaining for more than a month in territorial waters, the senate authorized the said ships to remain, but with the understanding that those remaining should not entail an attack upon the dignity and sovereignty of Mexico. Such authorization limited them to a period of six months, dating from April 25 last, and it was not thought advisable to renew this authorization upon its approaching expiration.

"Other ships, which made visits of courtesy and not of vigilance, have been received by the Mexican authorities according to the international laws and customs."

Assures Elections Next Month.

On the subject of the approaching elections the president said that he had promulgated the law enacted by congress, complementary to the electoral law, under which the government will hold elections the coming October.

He declared the government would continue to make efforts towards the pacification of the country within a period relatively short. In this respect he could inform congress that the situation was already dominated by the government in a majority of the states, only Sonora and Durango being at present totally beyond authority.

Of the treasury funds, amounting to $27,000,000 at the beginning of the last fiscal year, $24,900,000, he said, had been expended for the pacification of the country. Of the loan of $160,000,000 authorized in May, French bankers took $30,000,000 at 90. Out of this Speyer & Co. had repaid $20,000,000, half of which was a loan to the national treasury, and half to the monetary commission.

At the close of the reading of the presidential message the session of congress was adjourned until tomorrow.

WILSON WITHHOLDS COMMENT.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan today received an abstract of Provisional President Huerta's message to the Mexican congress, but no comment on it was forthcoming from either the White House or the state department.

Administration officials were in a quandary today over whether to send the Huerta government a message of congratulation on the celebration of independence day throughout the Mexican republic. There was hesitancy about addressing a message of that character to a government which had not been formally recognized.

Cowboys Haul Down Mexican Flag.

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 16.—Three American cowboys rode into Pirtleville, Ariz., today and roped and hauled down a pole from which flew a Mexican flag.

Hearing that their national banner had been dragged in the dust on the anniversary of Mexican independence, a mob of 250 Mexicans congregated in front of a saloon into which the cowboys had retreated.

A riot call was sent to Douglas and police sent from here succeeded in dispersing the mob without serious consequences. The cowboys escaped. It was said warrants would be issued for their arrest.

The Mexican flag was raised again and beside it two smaller American flags were placed as a protection against a recurrence of the incident.

BRAND WHITLOCK WILL RETIRE.

Mayor of Toledo, O., Nominated While on Vacation, Returns and Resigns—Won't Take Fourth Term.

Toledo, O., Sept. 16.—Immediately upon his return today from a six weeks' vacation in Wequetonsing, Mich., Mayor Brand Whitlock resigned from the Toledo ticket upon which he had been nominated during his absence for a fourth term for mayor.

The Toledo ticket is a citizens' ticket, nominated by petition after the independents who have elected Whitlock three times nominated City Solicitor Cornell Schreiber for mayor.

Whitlock had advised the independents that he would not accept a fourth term.

Fall from Car May Be Fatal.

Pearl Hobson, 1239 West Thirty-first street, was hurt, probably fatally, last night when she fell from a Thirty-first street car at Arch street. She was taken to the Wesley hospital, where it was learned that she was suffering from a probable skull fracture.

HAD WRONG KIND OF GREEN GOODS

Italian Grocery, Raided by Secret Service Men, Rich in Counterfeit Money.

CLEW FOUND BY CHANCE.

Detective Sees Women Quarreling, Grabs Bad Silver, and Arrests Follow.

A little grocery at 1332 Larrabee street was raided last night as the headquarters of a band of counterfeiters who are believed to have passed hundreds of dollars of spurious coins and bills in Chicago during the last two months. The raid was made by city detectives and United States secret service men, headed by Capt. T. I. Porter.

Counterfeit money and the materials for making it were found behind pictures, in a stove, and under a bed. Mrs. Madalena Garlasio was placed under arrest. She protested her innocence and denied knowing where the bogus money came from, but admitted she slept in the bed where the money was found.

Banks Report Many Counterfeits.

Capt. Porter believes it an agency of one of the most troublesome gangs of counterfeiters in the country. For months spurious bills and coins have been circulated in Chicago, and the secret service men have been unable to locate the source. Many banks have reported the circulation of cleverly counterfeited $5 bills.

The counterfeit money was traced to the store by Detectives Edward Huber, Charles Hunnewell, and Edward Kavanaugh. It was almost by accident that Detective Huber ran across the woman and one of her customers quarreling in front of the store. He questioned the customer and learned she had been given several bogus half dollars in change.

Children Used by Gang.

Detective Huber took the bad coins and notified Capt. Porter. They began a search in the neighborhood among other stores and learned that several boys had bought candy and other articles with half dollars which later proved to be counterfeit. One of the boys was Frank Garlasio, 10 years old. The raid followed.

In addition to the bogus money was found a box containing a composition of lead, pewter, and aluminium. Mrs. Garlasio refused to help in the search and upon each discovery of new coins she protested her innocence. Neighbors told the police several men have been going in and out of the back door at night for several months.

Capt. Porter sent two men to the farm in Indiana where Pietro Garlasio is said to be working, and they expect to discover the stamps and molds from which the counterfeit money is made. The police believe the money is being made out of the city and sent here for disposition. Mrs. Garlasio was taken to the Hudson avenue police station, where she will be held pending the arrest of her husband.

ATTACK CHOICE OF VOPICKA

Thousands of Persons Protest His Selection as Envoy.

LEWIS CENTER OF FIGHT.

Illinois Member Urged to Withdraw Support from Brewer.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—Hundreds of letters from all parts of the country are coming to practically every United States senator, protesting against the recent confirmation of Charles J. Vopicka, a Chicago brewer, as minister to Bulgaria.

The protests are so general and so widespread that in all likelihood they will reach the ear of President Wilson as soon as his secretary, J. P. Tumulty, returns to the city.

Wins by Lewis Strategy.

Vopicka was confirmed as a result of some clever manipulation by Senator Lewis. A fight was waged against him before the committee on foreign relations, to which his nomination was referred. When the senate took it up in executive session, Senator Cummins of Iowa, who was one of his strongest opponents, found it impossible to be present and asked Senator Jones of Washington, a strong anti-liquor man, to oppose him. Senator Jones was assisted by Senator McCumber of North Dakota.

Senator Lewis persuaded these two men to withdraw their opposition and to permit Vopicka to be confirmed. He was confirmed by a unanimous vote of the senators present, although Senator Jones, as he had promised Senator Cummins to oppose him, refused to vote either for or against him.

Thousand Letters Wait Lewis.

Senator Lewis left for Chicago the night Vopicka was confirmed. The letters began to pour into his office the next morning and when he returns he will find upwards of a thousand there asking him to urge the senate to reconsider and condemning his efforts in behalf of the Chicagoan.

It is now too late for the senate to reconsider its confirmation. If the administration wishes to withdraw Mr. Vopicka, the only course open is for the president to request him to decline the mission.

VOPICKA WITNESS FOR SLAYER.

United States Minister to the Balkan States Testifies in Case of Joseph Nader.

Charles J. Vopicka, United States minister to the Balkan States, was a character witness yesterday for Joseph Nader, who is on trial for the murder of his wife, Nellie. Mr. Vopicka testified that Nader had been employed for seven years by the Atlas Brewing company, of which concern Mr. Vopicka is president.

More than a year ago a jury before which Nader was on trial for the murder, found the man had become insane after killing his wife. The jury ordered Nader's commitment to the Chester asylum.

Two months ago Nader was pronounced cured and released. He was turned over to the state officials on the assumption that he was sane when he committed the murder. hTs defense is that Nader was insane when he killed his wife.

TELLS OF LOANS MADE TO SULZER

Contractor and Railroad Builder Asserts Governor Owes Him $26,500.

LAST REQUEST FOR $10,000.

Says Promise to Repay Was Not Kept; Impeachment Trial On Tomorrow.

New York, Sept. 16.—Hugh J. Reilly, a contractor and railroad builder for the Cuban government, one of today's witnesses before the Sulzer board of impeachment managers, said he loaned Gov. Sulzer $10,000 in cash shortly after his nomination. Gov. Sulzer, he said, still owes him this money in addition to other loans which brought his total indebtedness to Mr. Reilly up to $26,500.

Reilly was questioned regarding his dealings with Mr. Sulzer when the latter was chairman of the foreign affairs committee in the house of representatives in connection with claims Reilly was pressing against the Cuban government. Their relations were referred to in recent litigation in which Reilly was involved.

Tells of Loans to Sulzer.

"Sulzer asked me for a $10,000 loan just after he was nominated," said Reilly. "He came to my house and I paid him the money in cash in the presence of my wife. I did not take any note for it. I had had previous experience with Sulzer's notes. He would pay me back in driblets, but when I gave him that $10,000 it brought his total debt to me up to $26,500, dating back over a long period. I did not want to lend him the $10,000, but he promised to pay me back the next February, and so I gave it to him. He never paid it and he still owes me $26,500."

The board finished taking testimony and left tonight for Albany.

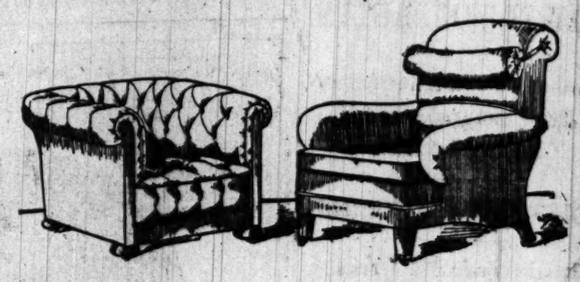

Sulzer Preparing for Trial.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Gov. Sulzer and his counsel are busy preparing for the opening of the impeachment trial on Thursday. They have given no intimation concerning their plans for the defense, but, it is understood they were practically completed at a conference yesterday between D. Cady Herrick and former State Senator Harvey D. Hinman.

IF we were to move our upholstery shop from the top floor of our building and put it in our show windows the public would learn more about the inside of well made upholstered furniture than it ever thought was possible. The opportunity to omit something, to save money for the manufacturer, to cheapen the product, and then to cover it and make it appear good would be apparent at many points.

We can't move the factory, but its doors are open to you. Come and see how we make upholstered furniture that will last for generations. We build it for our reputation and not just to sell.

Our upholstery display isn't equaled anywhere; anything, everything, you could want is here.

MOTHER OBJECTS TO WEDDING BELLS

When Two Daughters Announce Engagement She Calls It a Joke.

ONE WOOER A "COUNT."

Another Is Just a Plain Broker, but Parent Insists Both Girls Are Too Young.

Mrs. Philip Franklin of 3661 Lake avenue is embarrassed to find she has two engaged daughters on her hands, both having decided to marry without her consent. Miss Mignon Franklin and an alleged Austrian nobleman, whom she had known only one hour, and Miss Ketta Franklin and Floyd Kenton Smith, a young broker, are parties to the double engagement. Both proposals were made Monday night.

Mrs. Franklin yesterday expressed the opinion that the engagements are a joke. The sisters stanchly assert they are in earnest, however, and add that if parental influence becomes too oppressive they will elope.

Monday night young Smith telephoned Miss Ketta, whom he has been going with some time, and announced he was going to bring a 22 year old nobleman out to meet Mignon. When the young men arrived, the new acquaintance was introduced to Mrs. Franklin and her daughters as "Count A. Rudolph von Podlesek of the wealthy Austrian house of Podlesek."

Mother Leaves Daughters Alone.

After the introduction Mrs. Franklin withdrew and left the young couples in the drawing room. Her retreat was not far, however, as she acknowledged yesterday. She placed herself in a position from which, without observation she could chaperon the young people.

"I hope you don't think for one minute I am going to recognize those engagements," said Mrs. Franklin when the young men were about to go.

"What engagements, mother," asked the girls.

"O, I heard every word."

"Well, we are just as serious as can be," said Mignon, "and Floyd is going down to give the announcements to the papers tonight."

And that is just what Floyd did. He gave the following announcement to the society editor of THE TRIBUNE:

"Mr. and Mrs. Philip Franklin announce the engagement of their daughters, Mignon and Ketta, ages 19 and 18 years old, to Count A. Rudolph von Podlesek, age 22, and Floyd Kenton Smith, age 21."

Opposes Marriage of Girls.

A reporter was sent to ascertain the authenticity of the announcement. Mrs. Franklin answered the doorbell.

"It doesn't matter what the announcements say," she stated, "my daughters are too young to marry. When it is time for them to marry they must have my consent. They say they are 18 and 19 years old, but they stretched it a little."

"Who is Von Podlesek?" asked the reporter.

"Why, he is a really truly Austrian nobleman and has much wealth. We never saw him until last night, but we found out for sure he is a count. He stays at the Hotel Sherman. Floyd is a young broker. We have known him for a long time and his father is wealthy, but we would never think of letting the two youngsters marry. The girls were only joking, I am sure."

Girl Insists She's in Earnest.

At this point Miss Ketta Franklin, with her hair down her back and in a dressing gown, came running down the stairs.

"But, mamma, mamma, we are serious" she called out. "We are truly engaged, and the boys are just as serious as we are. We wanted that announcement to go in. We are just as engaged as engaged can be. Mister, you just go right ahead and put that announcement in the society column."

"As far as I am concerned," said Mrs. Franklin resignedly, "you can put the announcement in; but there is many a slip between the solitaire and the plain band ring."

"By the way," asked the reporter, "are you wearing an engagement ring, Miss Franklin?"

The girl blushed scarlet and answered:

"No." The boys didn't have time to get the rings. It was all so sudden, you know."

Reporters paged the Hotel Sherman unsuccessfully at night for Count Von Podlesek.

JOLIET'S DEFAULTING BANKER MAKES GUARD STAY BY BED.

Leaps from Cot in Jail During Night, Dreaming One of His Victims Is Attacking Him—Seize Estate Today.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—James O'Connor, the defaulting financial operator, formerly one of the wealthiest men in Joliet, who is confined in the Will county jail charged with forgery and larceny, has demanded that a county guard sit by his cot all night.

The jailed banker is unable to sleep because he fears his enraged victims will break into the jail and kill him. An effort to burglarize his house already has been made by one of his victims. It is necessary for a guard to sit by the banker through the night and hold his hand to calm his fears.

O'Connor is in a continual state of terror and will leap from his cot in the middle of the night and scream for help, thinking his victims, many of whom have lost all they had through his failure, are seeking to kill him. County Physician Dr. H. J. Higgins says O'Connor is dying of fright and maintains if the banker is not convinced no one seeks to kill him he will go insane.

Erastus W. Willard of Joliet, appointed receiver of O'Connor's estate by Judge Carpenter since an involuntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed in the federal court at Chicago, said today he would seize the property of the defaulted operator tomorrow. Joliet attorneys think O'Connor's creditors will receive about 25 cents on the dollar.

Expects More Election Indictments.

SEXTON GIVES 'WORKING DAYS'

All Except Sundays and Holidays, He Tells Harbor Board.

NAMES AGAIN ARE REFUSED.

But Firms Say They Are Willing to List Owners.

Corporation Counsel Sexton yesterday defined "working day" for the municipal harbor and subway commission. He held the working days of the year are all those which do not fall on Sundays or holidays.

His ruling, while informally given, threw the three engineers into a quandary. The lowest bidder for the contract to build the substructure for the first pier of the proposed harbor north of the river mouth offered to complete the work in 165 "working calendar days." Mr. Sexton said the word "calendar" might as well be omitted, as it did not affect the meaning of the term in the slightest.

Two Contracts in Mind.

The problem of the commission was whether it should draw up a contract for the completion of the work in approximately six months or should allow a longer time for the task. Under Mr. Sexton's opinion the "165 working days" would expire about April 15, if the contract were awarded about Oct. 1, as is expected.

The only other alternative open to them was to accept the intent of the low bidder, the Byrne Bros. Dredging and Engineering company, which, its representatives said, was that the days on which a rough sea or bad weather prevented their employes from working should not be counted in the total of 165 days.

Chance for Other Firms?

The other bidders, the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company and the FitzSimons & Connell Dredge and Dock company, named 300 and 380 days, respectively, as their time limits.

It was suggested, if the lowest price bidder were given a total of 300 calendar days, there would only be the difference of $37,251 between his price and the price asked by the Great Lakes company. Under these circumstances it would be possible, engineers said, to consider the comparative responsibility of the two in awarding the contract.

The names of the stockholders in the bidding companies again were refused at the commission's offices. But Emil G. Seip, secretary of Byrne Bros., said he would make public its list when the other companies disclosed theirs. C. J. Connell, president of FitzSimons & Connell, said he had no objection to revealing the list of his shareholders. W. A. Lydon, president of the Great Lakes company, could not be reached.

"SLATES" WIN IN NEW YORK

Few Voters Turn Out at First Trial of Direct Primary Law.

TWO FIGHTS BY GUNMEN.

Tammany Leader Forced to Appeal to Sheriff for Protection.

New York, Sept. 16.—[Special.]—The first trial of the new direct primary law today revealed a more than usual apathetic attitude on the part of enrolled voters all over the city. Even in districts where there were leadership fights, the vote was not heavy.

Although the board of elections late tonight had supplied no figures it was known from reports from the districts that the organization candidates on all tickets had been "nominated." Mitchell being chosen to head the Republican and Progressive tickets and McCall to head the Democratic ticket.

Gaynorites Lose Contest.

The scratching of these candidates was a negligible factor. In Brooklyn, where an earnest effort was made by the Gaynorites to put William R. Willcox on the Republican ticket instead of Mitchell, Willcox received few votes.

Results on the leading candidates indicate that the organization men have probably been chosen in all instances.

Two Battles of Gunmen.

In two assembly districts there was trouble. In the fifteenth, where there was a spirited contest for the Democratic leadership between James J. Hagan and George F. Form, there were clashes between rival parties of gunmen in automobiles, during which shots were fired. Names found in one automobile led the police to believe its occupants were "repeaters." Three men, who got away before the police arrived on the scene, are said to have been injured in one of the encounters.

Charges and countercharges that these gunmen had been brought into the district to intimidate voters came from the camps of the rivals for the leadership. For the first time in the history of Tammany politics a Tammany leader applied for the assistance of the sheriff in protecting voters. Leader Hagan made the appeal and Sheriff Harburger supplied fifty deputies. Hagan won his contest with Form about four to one.

Mayor Starts on Fishing Trip.

Mayor Harrison started for Quebec yesterday afternoon. From there he will make a short run to a starting point for his "private wilderness," where he goes in search of fish and scenery. Before returning to Chicago, about Oct. 1, he will go to Boston to meet his son, who is returning from a summer in Europe.

Announcement Extraordinary

Chicago Women will be interested

JOHN LYLE AFTER SHADY HOTEL MAN

Orders Owner of Geneva House to Cancel Lease or Face Prosecution.

WHAT ABOUT YOUR GIRL?

Offer to Pay Room, Board, and Bonus for Father and Daughter Declined.

John H. Lyle, secretary and attorney for the Englewood Law and Order league, yesterday gave Joseph Johnson, owner of the Geneva hotel at 6109 Wentworth avenue, his choice of canceling at once his lease of the property to Philip Shapiro or facing an indictment for leasing a building to be used for immoral purposes.

Johnson, who lives at 853 South Lawndale avenue, acknowledged he has owned the hotel for more than four years. He acknowledged he had received numerous complaints from Englewood residents regarding the place, but at first said he had been unable to get evidence of any immoral conduct.

Owner Suddenly Recalls Fines.

Attorney Lyle pointed out that Shapiro, who holds the lease, has been found guilty of conducting an immoral house, and on two convictions has been fined $200 and $90. Johnson admitted knowledge of the $90 fine and also of various newspaper accounts of conduct in the hotel.

Mr. Lyle announced he had affidavits to show that a 15 year old girl was lured and kept for three days in the hotel and in that time was subjected to various indignities. He said he had other affidavits and promised all in case the owner of the property should be sued by Shapiro for breach of contract.

Advised to Make Quick Decision.

Johnson refused to do anything without consulting a lawyer, and was advised to have his consultation without further delay. He was reminded that the matter had been agitated for more than a year.

"Let me test your sincerity," said Mr. Lyle. "We will give you $100 a month and board and room in the Geneva hotel if you will take your own daughter there to live for one month."

Johnson declined.

NATIONAL MOOSE ORGANIZER TELLS PROGRESSIVE GROWTH.

William E. Cadmus Returns from Western Trip—Finds Hostility to Tariff Program.

William E. Cadmus, national organizer of the Progressive party, dropped into Chicago yesterday for a conference with local leaders. He recently has completed a trip through the west, and is beginning another tour in the interest of the party.

"In Wyoming I found Democrats cooperating with Gov. Carey, Progressive, in the fight on Senator Warren, leader of the standpat forces," he said. "I discovered considerable hostility in the Rocky mountain states to President Wilson's tariff program. The beet sugar people feel the sugar trust will use the free sugar provision to cut off the western growers.

"So far as I could ascertain, there was no disaffection among the Progressives. Every state is facing the question of organization and doing it thoroughly. I aided in organizing Progressive clubs in Denver, Salt Lake City, Boise, Boulder, Pueblo, Grand Junction, Colo., and Ogden, Utah; also one in Baltimore. We are working out a lyceum bureau for lectures on Progressive principles."

At the noon meeting of the Progressive club today among the speakers will be Mrs. George Bass, Mrs. Antoinette Funk, and Dr. Clarence B. Strouse. Tomorrow Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett and Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout will speak.

TRAIN HITS HONEYMOON PAIR

Aged Couple Run Down at Englewood While on Way Home.

FRIENDS PLANNED SURPRISE

Wait at Station at Newark, O., Until Conductor Tells of Accident.

A score of startled persons stood on the platform of the Englewood station yesterday and saw an aged man make a vain attempt to save his invalid wife from being struck by a Pennsylvania flier. He prevented her from falling beneath the wheels, but both were knocked down by the locomotive's cylinder and probably fatally injured. They were struck by the train they intended to board. They are at the Englewood hospital.

At another station in Newark, O., a score of happy friends of the aged couple were awaiting the arrival of the train, so they could welcome "Pa" Jacob Kellenberger and "Ma" Kellenberger from their "second honeymoon" and escort them to the little cottage where they had lived for fifty years. When the train arrived at Newark the conductor announced the news of the accident to the crowd at the station from the platform of the train. He told them "Pa" and "Ma" Kellenberger probably would never return to the little cottage.

Had Been Visiting Son.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellenberger had been on a visit to Minneapolis, where their son, B. J. Kellenberger, is in the automobile business. They returned through Chicago and stopped for a week at the home of a niece, Mrs. Frederick Fenton, 4211 Lake avenue. They made plans to return to Newark yesterday.

Jacob Kellenberger is 70 years old. His wife is 68. Mrs. Kellenberger has been an invalid for many years and was a sufferer from paralysis. They were taken to the Englewood station by Mrs. Fenton. A few minutes before the train was due Mrs. Fenton picked up the baggage of the aged couple and Mr. Kellenberger took his wife's arm.

Tries to Save His Wife.

Both were feeble, but the husband was the stronger of the two. He assisted his wife slowly across the track, but did not see the approach of the Columbus flyer until the whistle shrieked a warning. He threw his arms about his wife and lifted her from the tracks.

The crowd on the station platform rushed forward to prevent the couple from falling under the wheels. In their haste to assist the aged man and his wife the crowd pushed them backward and they were struck by the cylinder of the locomotive and thrown fifteen feet. Both were picked up unconscious.

WOMAN FOUND LYING IN ALLEY.

Police Scent Traces of Carbolic Acid Poisoning—Husband Surprised.

Mrs. Effie Burkhardt, 1524 West Van Buren street, was found lying in an alley late last night in the rear of West Adams and South Ashland boulevard. At the county hospital physicians said that they found traces of carbolic acid in the woman's mouth. George Burkhardt, the husband, could give no reason why the woman would have taken the acid, unless by mistake.

You lift a load like this every morning

Perhaps you think you walk so little that it doesn't matter if the heels of your shoes are made of armor-plate leather, fastened with iron nails.

Suppose you walk down to your store or office—only a quarter of a mile. You take at least 440 steps in this short walk. You lift your entire weight with each step. If you weigh 150 pounds you lift the total of 66,000 pounds—33 tons—the weight of a loaded freight car.

EVERY ounce of this great weight must come down on your heels, as you pound along over the flinty pavements. Do you think it is good for your sensitive nervous system to undertake such a tremendous task with heels shod with hard leather and metal?

Remember that every step means a shock—when your weight strikes upon your heel the impact is carried directly to your spine; upward to the base of your brain; outward through every nerve in your body.

O'Sullivan's Heels of new, live rubber absorb the shock and relieve you of the strain. They are invisible cushions of springy rubber which last twice as long as leather. They give you an easy, light, graceful stride and the erect carriage and habit of deep breathing which naturally go with a step from which the burden and strain have been removed.

As a measure of comfort and health you need O'Sullivan's Heels on all your shoes. They cost but 50 cents a pair, attached, at all shoemakers. Some shoe manufacturers put them on your shoes before they leave the factory. All shoemakers and shoe dealers will attach them to your shoes when you buy them, or at any other time. Or, if you prefer, send us 35c in stamps, with a tracing of your heel, and we will mail you a pair.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1913.

TWELVE WERE TRUE.

Judge Mahoney should not despair. Eleven of the Saturday night police pickups whom he paroled on their honor Sunday morning to appear in court Monday morning found they had their liberty and no honor. Twelve were gentlemen of a stern Regulian code—or were persons of a nice understanding of human nature, and thought that their coming back would be tantamount to a dismissal of the charge against them—and reappeared. One was accounted for otherwise—in a hospital.

In the story books the proportion of brands snatched from the burning might be larger. In those enchanted realms all but one of the trusted twenty-four might return to drink from the bitter cup of justice, and that one might go staggering through the storms of life tormented by the reproaches of his soul. Twelve out of twenty-four is a credit to real life, no matter whether the twelve were shrewd philosophers or not.

The police do not get a hold of the chivalry of this fair and glorious city when they pick up the small disorderlies of Saturday night, and Judge Mahoney's proportion of honorables encourages optimism.

PUTTING ON THE GLOVES.

Mr. Taft put on the gloves with the American woman. He was carried out of the ring. The present administration would do well to remember that.

The Underwood bill fixed the rate on women's and children's leather gloves at $2 per dozen pairs.

The senate raised the rate to $2.50.

Meanwhile there is a reduction of the tariff on glove leather equivalent to 40 cents per dozen pairs.

Thus the benefit presumed to be destined for the consumer is neatly shifted to the glove manufacturer.

The house reduction on gloves was not large, but the senate gives the manufacturers better protection than the Aldrich-Payne act.

It is the cheaper gloves, from 85 cents to $1 a pair, that will be affected if this increase is retained in the bill. This means that the American woman and her children have once more met the privileged interest and lost the fight.

Then the American woman will put on the gloves with another recreant champion, who will be carried from the ring, perhaps, in the same state as his misguided predecessor.

There is no consistency in reducing the duty on real kid gloves and not on the lambskin gloves, which are the wear of the people.

KNOWING THE IMMIGRANT.

Protestant churches in New York are urging each of their members to become acquainted with at least one immigrant family in their neighborhood and to maintain neighborly relations with it. The suggestion comes as a part of an educational movement launched by these churches to bring the immigration population of the city within the fold of Americanism. Immigrants, the spokesmen of this movement assert, are not at present properly welcomed by the American people. As a consequence they don't "fuse" readily with our institutions and social and civic life.

The undertaking of the Protestant churches shows a high sense of citizenship on the part of the originators and backers of this movement. The aloofness of the American family towards its immigrant neighbors is responsible quite as much for the growth of exclusively foreign sections in our large cities as is the clannishness of the immigrants themselves.

The public schools have shown how susceptible the immigrant child is to assimilation. The churches, by adopting a policy of neighborliness, will soon find that even the older generation of aliens can be made to become a serviceable part of the American community instead of remaining outside of it.

WHAT WAS WRONG?

The coroner's findings upon the Bar Harbor express tragedy are not as fully satisfying as they might be. In fact, they are annoyingly inconclusive. Perhaps a more thorough report will be forthcoming from a grand jury or some other official source, but the coroner's finding leaves vital questions unanswered.

The positive judgment of this official is that the engineer of the White Mountain train and the conductor and flagman of the Bar Harbor express were responsible for disobedience of the rules and negligence.

The coroner, however, does not absolve the road from blame. Neither does he indicate that it is blameworthy. He speaks of "a sorry record" of disobedience to orders, but he does not say why such a record has been tolerated. He finds the mechanical safeguards were in working order. Only the human factor failed.

Were these three men special offenders, or were they offending against written orders in obedience to policy imposed upon them?

Was the engineer making up time at the risk of his own and his passengers' lives from mere recklessness and indifference, or because an engineer who does not make time is not favored?

Something is wrong with the system, and the system is not merely the written rules of a road. Its bedrock is not the rules but the enforcement of the rules.

WHO'S WHO IN CONTRACTS.

In these days of pervasive politics the city, about to let so important a contract as that for the construction of the pleasure pier, is wisely advised in asking bidders to submit the names of stockholders in their concerns.

What later happens to the specifications might be more readily understood. It might be possible to determine more easily in advance just what the city would be likely to get by reading the list of stockholders of the successful bidder than by reading the specifications.

The city hall may be informed at all times as to the persons with whom it is dealing under company names, and therefore be prepared for the little surprises which occasionally enliven a bit of contract work, but the general public frequently is left to grope in the dark and indulge in vain surmises.

In the city hall, where there is much wisdom, the authorities may even know what Byrne Bros., bidders for the contract for the construction of the pleasure pier, mean by a "working calendar day," within 163 of which Byrne Bros. estimate the construction can be completed.

There may be much information in the city hall with regard to contracts. A disposition to let a little of it out will be applauded.

HOUSING AGAIN.

The reaction against piecemeal, spasmodic reform in favor of comprehensive and well studied action is wholesome, and marks a welcome advance in community consciousness and efficiency.

But it can be overdone.

Take the problem of housing, one of the most important problems of Chicago. It has been discussed for ten years. There are ten or a dozen clubs and associations which have committees at work on it. Surveys have been made, reports have been drawn, recommendations have been presented.

All this is useful, but during this decade the most important concrete accomplishment has been the work of the health department. The various private agencies somehow have failed to concentrate and coordinate.

For this reason THE TRIBUNE believes Dr. Young's appeal for organizing effective support for the present building ordinance deserves first consideration. He gives warning that this ordinance is to be subjected to serious attack. His warning is backed by numerous signs.

This ordinance may not be perfect, but it is our fighting base, and if we neglect its defense while considering large plans for a "comprehensive survey" we shall make a tactical blunder which will set back housing reform.

The appointment of a central committee of all associations interested in this subject is a move in the right direction, and it is well that the committee is not large. It should be able to block out a practical policy for all bodies interested in housing to work upon. It should organize a more effective publicity; it should organize defense of the ground already gained. Then, though the $100,000 survey may be obstructed and delayed, progress will be made day by day in spite of it.

"CITY jails are unfit even for animals," says a headline. Pursuing that line of thought, what offenses do animals commit that call for a jail sentence as a punishment?

IF memory serves us rightly, there was a Henry Jenkins whose name should have been in that list of old men published a few days ago. He died at the age of 169, sincerely regretted by all who knew him. Dr. Parr, though better known, was less entitled to mention, for he passed away at the comparatively immature age of 150 or thereabout.

MR. ROCKEFELLER, who is supposed to furnish most of the gasoline for the motor cars, is said to be about to engage in the manufacture of automobiles himself. Let him now organize the undertakers into one gigantic trust, and he will catch the public going and coming.

ACCORDING to the latest definition, the man who induces somebody else to turn in a false fire alarm is a "googh." Don't be a googh.

THE people do not need any official report from Washington to assure them that the cost of living continues to increase.

STILL, when you pay 111 per cent more for a pork chop than you did in 1890, doesn't it seem to taste better than it did then?

MEANWHILE Mr. Bryan shows no intention, or even anything resembling a keen desire, to get rid of a paltry office that pays him only $12,000 a year.

WHAT Harry Thaw seems to need is a capable understudy, looking exactly like him, who can manage to make a quick sneak and trade places with him.

How to Keep Well, By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

NERVES AND DRUGS.

HAD the inventor of the submarine cable been an anatomist, he would have saved himself a lot of trouble. He could have studied a nerve and had a working plan for his cable. As it was, he probably puzzled his brain for years over the plan, using for his planning nerves built on the proper plan.

I presume that, occasionally, a telegraph operator will transmit an inquiry about something that he, the operator, could inform both the sender and the recipient of. But his duty is to transmit, and he holds his peace. I can imagine the nerves in the inventor feeling about it about like the operator does.

In the center of the nerve is the wire that runs from the sending office as a continuous unbroken cord. Around this is a lot of insulating, and around the insulating is the wrapping for strength and protection. The impulse travels from the center to the muscle to be moved.

In the spasmodic disorders so frequently noted, the seat of the trouble is not in the jerking muscle nor in the nerve which makes it jerk. The impulse is transmitted, unchanged, from some nerve cell, and the muscle jerks because it is powerless to disobey orders—which makes plain the absurdity of treatments directed to the muscle or even to the nerve in its course.

An old book directed that, when a baby's head was jerking in convulsions, it should be held still. The absurdity of such a plan any one can see. As nobody would be so foolish as to believe it, nobody is so foolish as to advocate it.

However, though the curtain is lifted and the imagination makes us see beyond the jerking head, it is not wholly lifted. We are still prone to stop short of the center where the trouble is starting and prone to forget that back of the disturbing cell lies that which has disturbed the cell.

Failing in other and better measures for control, the surgeon steps in and cuts the nerve.

At once the jerk stops, or the pain stops, if pain were the trouble. Or he kills the nerve by injecting alcohol into it.

No external expression of the nerve cell change can be given, but back of the cut the nerve cell change goes on.

The methods of cutting the wires with the knife and with alcohol injection replaces an older, less efficient, and much more harmful method. It was the drug method—the use of alcohol, or morphine, or cocaine.

These acted like nippers in cutting the nerve. The cut was not a permanent cut. In a few hours, the line had been repaired, and down it telegraph messages were going again.

Again, unlike the act of the nippers, the cut was not a clean one. Morphine, cocaine, and alcohol, in their efforts to cut the line, smash things generally. They lay out all the cells reached by the blood and amenable to them. It is from this action drug habits are born.

The use of sedative drugs is born of a partial view, not so foolish as holding a baby's head for fits, but nearly so.

CAMPHOR FOR COLD SORES.

E. W. S. writes:

"1. What is the cause of ulcerated sores in the mouth? Have they any relation to cold sores? It has been found that camphor is a good cure for cold sores. Would it be harmful to rub camphor on the inside of the mouth?

"2. What is the cause of large abdomen in a man 30 years of age? What exercise or remedy would you recommend to reduce the abdomen?

"3. What diet would you recommend for a man 30 years of age who is troubled with ulcerated sores of the mouth? He leads a sedentary life.

"4. Is the mortality from pneumonia high in Colorado or other places in the west of high altitude? Is it true that pneumonia generally results fatally in places of high altitude? If so, why is this the case?

"5. Is it true that a person who is inclined to be gouty or rheumatic, and who has had rheumatism, is not as apt to contract tuberculosis as others? Is it true there is an antipathy of the two diseases, rheumatism and tuberculosis?"

REPLY.

1. The ulcers in the mouth result from digestive trouble; cold sores from an infection. Camphor on the ulcers will do them good. Touch the ulcers with a bit of cotton saturated in spirits of camphor, or a stronger caustic will be better.

2. There are several causes. Obesity is one. If the other muscles are flabby the abdominal walls will be flabby. When the abdominal walls are flabby the weight makes them pouch out. As the abdomen pouches the shoulders are thrown back to compensate. This bows the back and makes the abdomen pouch still more. Cut down the food and take exercises to strengthen the muscles of the abdomen.

3. You are right in thinking the cure lies in the diet. How much you eat is of very much more consequence than what you eat. Eat vegetables, fruit, meat, and bread, varying your diet from day to day, but eat not more than two-thirds what you are now eating. It is evident that all your troubles are cut from the same cloth—too much food and too little exercise.

4. (a) Yes; (b) The mortality rate is high, but the disease does not generally terminate fatally; (c) I do not know.

5. Yes. There are certain families which run to rheumatism, and other families that run to consumption.

EXERCISE IS NEEDED.

H. M. writes: "My boy is 16 years old. He works in an office and is around on his feet most of the day. He always complains of fatigue. He sleeps about nine and a half hours a day. He weighs only ninety pounds. What can we do?"

REPLY.

Have him eat crackers or rice and a bowl of milk for lunch. Generally speaking, when a person complains of being tired all the time he is not getting enough exercise. Have him sleep fewer hours; have him play in the open air before or after work.

NO INJURY TO FACE.

D. H. W. writes: "Does destroying superfluous hair by the electric needle injure the face? Can any physician do it, or does it require a specialist?"

REPLY.

1. No.
2. Requires a specialist.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1913: By the Brentwood Company.]

IT is not often that cinematograph concerns, in arranging melodramtic acts and scenaria for reproduction on the films, are enabled to include a real full fledged monarch among the professional talent thus represented.

A couple of weeks or so ago King Christian of Denmark was cruising along the coast of Jutland on board his steam yacht Rita, with the queen and their two sons.

Suddenly from the other side of a headland loud cries of distress and a number of shots were heard. King Christian, who was on deck, shouted to the captain on the bridge to make for the spot at full steam.

As the royal yacht rounded the headland it came upon several boats, or rather barges, such as were used in the seventeenth century, freighted with a number of people arrayed in the costumes of that period and armed with arquebuses.

In the stern of one of the boats was a beautiful girl, who was weeping and wringing her hands in the most realistic manner.

Suddenly the king caught sight of a cinematograph apparatus in another boat, the operator turning the handle for all it was worth. Much amused at his mistake, he ordered the yacht to stop so that he might watch the remainder of the play.

In a few minutes the lovely heroine, one of the best known actresses of Copenhagen, tore herself from the restraining hands of those beside her, leaped into the sea, and proceeded to swim ashore.

As she was passing the yacht she uttered a cry of exhaustion and gave evidence that, hampered by her robes, she would be unable to reach her destination.

King Christian instantly ordered one of the yacht's boats to be lowered and, jumping into it, took the leading part in her rescue.

As the cinematograph operator continued all the time to record the scene, King Christian has a prominent place on the film, though the difference of his own costume and of the sailors manning the boat in which he was rowed to the rescue will be altogether out of keeping with the seventeenth century garb of the other actors in the drama.

The actress was taken to the yacht, where Queen Alexandrine and her ladies in waiting hastened to supply her to the best of their ability with dry clothing and with badly needed restoratives.

Prince François de Polignac and Mlle. Simone de Maillé have decided on Oct. 15 as the date of their wedding at Paris. The marriage will unite two of the great ducal and historic houses of France.

The prince is a younger son of the fourth Duc de Polignac, while the bride is a daughter of the late Duc de Plaisance.

Her only brother, who died last spring, not long after succeeding to the title, owed his dukedom to the fact that his grandfather, Comte Armand de Maillé, had married Jeanne Lebrun, only child of Jules Lebrun, second Duc de Plaisance.

The first duke was that Charles Lebrun who, after being deputy to the states general prior to the great revolution, and later on member of the council of five hundred, was elected third consul when Napoleon became first consul.

When Napoleon proclaimed himself emperor in 1804 he created Lebrun Duc de Plaisance and arch treasurer of the empire, subsequently naming him viceroy of Holland.

Lebrun's Napoleonic dukedom was confirmed by the Bourbons at the restoration, and he was accorded a seat in the chamber of peers. He was also appointed by Louis XVIII. grand master of the University of Paris.

He was succeeded by his only son, and when the latter's daughter, Jeanne, married in the early days of the reign of Napoleon III., Comte Armande de Maillé, the emperor issued letters patent, bearing the date of April 27, 1857, according to which the dukedom of Plaisance was to pass on the second duke's death to his daughter's husband, Comte Armand de Maillé.

The De Maillés are one of the oldest families in France and trace back their descent in an unbroken line to Gaurbero de Maillé, who flourished in 1035. Their present chief is Duc Artus de Maillé.

With regard to young Prince François de Polignac, he owes his title to the fact that since 1838 all the descendants in the male line of the then Duc de Polignac are Bavarian "fuersts," or princes. The dukedom, however, is a French one and dates back long prior to the revolution.

One of the De Polignacs was plenipotentiary of Louis XIV. to the congress of Utrecht in 1712. Duc Jules de Polignac was minister of state of Louis XVI. in 1780, and his wife, Duchesse Gabrielle, was the most intimate friend of Queen Marie Antoinette.

Their son, after taking part in the royalist insurrection in the Vendée, and being imprisoned by Napoleon from 1804 until 1814, was French ambassador to Great Britain after the restoration and prime minister to Charles X.

It is to him that are ascribed the measures which resulted in the revolution of 1830 and in the overthrow and exile of King Charles.

The duke was arrested at Granville, in Normandy, in that year, was sentenced to perpetual imprisonment, and spent another six years in captivity in the fortress of Ham, where, afterwards, Napoleon III. was confined.

In 1836 his sentence was commuted to one of exile. The present Duc de Polignac is his grandson.

One of the brothers of the late duke, Prince Edmond de Polignac, married, in 1893, Winnaretta Singer of New York, daughter and heiress of Isaac Singer of sewing machine celebrity. She is now a widow.

His brother, Prince Camille de Polignac, who served in the confederate army during the American civil war, gaining the rank of major general, married, in 1856, at the Cathedral of Valenciennes a Miss de la Bretesche, a native of New Orleans and daughter of a wealthy Louisianian, who was engaged in extensive enterprises both in New Orleans and throughout the south prior to the war.

De la Bretesche was ruined by the conflict, and Prince Camille thereupon took advantage of the plea that he had failed to secure the consent of his own parents to his marriage to Mlle. de la Bretesche in order to obtain its invalidation by the French courts, whereupon he married an enormously wealthy Austrian heiress, Marie Langenberger, who settled upon him $200,000 on the day of the wedding.

After Prince Camille's second marriage his discarded New Orleans wife married a Roumanian diplomat of the name of Vranas. M. Vranas died a couple of years later, but the union placed his widow beyond the reach of starvation, since it brought her a pension of $50 a month from the Roumanian government.

On her death the son whom she had borne to Prince Camille de Polignac sought the assistance of his father to secure for him some position in the consular or diplomatic service, being without means.

The prince, however, contented himself with offering his son, who had been forbidden by law to bear his name, a place as workman in a factory and then as salesman in one of the great retail dry goods stores in Paris, declining any other form of assistance.

CONDITIONS AT THIRTY-NINTH STREET BEACH.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I cannot feel that the city is fortunate in the selection of its Thirty-ninth street bathing beach. The place where it is located is adjacent to a coal yard; the ground has been made filled in with coal cinders, and hardly a dinner spot could be found along the lake shore. Just above it the lake is now being filled in with sweepings from the street. Today I was in there and the waves were stirring up all sorts of chips, straws, cinders, and dirt in general that stuck to your fingers when you lifted the water up and allowed it to run through.

There is no means of getting to the dressing rooms except to wade through cinders and sand and the floors of these rooms are positively filthy. In all the ocean beaches there is a little pool of water through which one must wade before he can get to the dressing rooms. Such could be easily made here. It is true that a little pail of water stands at the door, but this is wholly insufficient.

W. H. HEAD.

The beach was not selected as an ideal place for a beach by the city or any civic body. It was preempted by the neighborhood and for two seasons helped out by the Juvenile Protective association and this past summer it has been operated by a cooperative arrangement among city, south park commissioners, and the named association.

The conditions revealed in the complaint are not usual, but exist to some extent only after a storm. No beach not situated on a protected harbor is free from debris after storms or high winds on the lake. We cannot help such a condition and the pumping station belonging to the sanitary district just to the south has dumped cinders in the water in the past. This summer they have not done so, and during quiet weather our janitor has had the beach clean in every way.

We have tubs of water and not "little pails" at the doors of the dressing rooms. I am unable to see how the gentleman failed to see them. The floors never have been filthy. They have been wet and unpleasant but never filthy, for the reason that they are scrubbed twice a day and sometimes oftener.

We have had chemical analyses made of the water and no dangerous bacteria have been discovered. This beach is an attempt to do a real service to a community and certain fundamentals are necessary in all such undertakings. The proximity of beach to population, nature of the bottom and its pitch, proper regulation and expense, all must be borne in mind. Upon such a basis of rating the Thirty-ninth street beach is a very good beach. J. R. RICHARDS,
Superintendent Playgrounds and Sports.

NO EXTENSION OF STATE STREET LINE.

No extension of the State street car line south of its present terminus is contemplated at the present time. CHICAGO CITY RAILWAY COMPANY.

ENTIRELY TOO FREQUENT.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Aug. 30 I boarded a Cottage Grove car at Eighteenth and Indiana, through route No. 1, secured transfer and transferred at what I thought was the logical transfer point, Division and Clark, for a car going north on Lincoln avenue, as I desired to go west on the Fullerton avenue line.

I boarded car No. 441, conductor No. 613, and when I handed him my transfer and asked for another one he said: "What the hell do you mean? This is not the transfer point. Clark and Center is where you transfer. You ought to be damned glad I let you ride on this one." When he saw me looking at the number on his cap he said: "Get my number and see if I give a damn." Of course the writer had to pay another fare at Fullerton and Lincoln.

It seems to one who has always been taught that "courtesy is an old fashion gentleman that is never out of style" that there is, indeed, a lack of it among a great many city railways conductors. I wonder what they think about it.

UNLAWFUL USE OF WATER.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—We live on Campbell avenue, north of Thirty-eighth street. There is a water plug on the corner of this street and one across the street, about forty feet north of the house. This one is used regularly by men who work on the railroad, and when it is open the water in our hydrant becomes muddy and unfit for use for some time afterwards.

M. H.

Fire hydrants can only be used for fire protection. Inspectors will be sent out to make an investigation of the matter and the parties using hydrant will be warned against any further use of same under penalty of the ordinance applying. W. J. McCOURT, Superintendent of Water.

WHY STAND YE ON THE BRINK?

Evanston, Sept. 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The most surprising thing to the layman in Sir Oliver Lodge's address is the helplessness of science before life itself. Invisible, intangible, the laboratory can analyze some of its manifestations, but the power itself eludes every grasp. So keenly does Sir Oliver sense a great personality behind so much harmonious law and beauty that one might call him a spiritual scientist.

In saying, "the loom of time is complicated by a multitude of free agents who can modify the web. . . . I venture to maintain that manifest imperfections are thus accounted for and that freedom could be given on no other terms nor at any less cost," he comes so close to the truth, what hinders him from bridging the chasm on whose brink he stands so wistfully? Just the lack of accepting the reality of the absolute law back of the words of Jesus Christ, "No man cometh to the Father but by me."

For nineteen hundred years men and women of every race and color, in every walk of life, have crossed the chasm which separates man from fellowship with God. Their witness proves Sir Oliver's assertion false when he says, "the actions of the Deity make no appeal to any special sense, only a universal appeal. . . . There is a principle of relativity here, and unless we encounter flaw, or jar, or change, nothing in us responds." All men have this special sense, but Christ is alone for it the bread of life.

It is not enough for a man to believe there is one God. "The devils also believe and tremble." For the weak and sinning there is then hope; not only hope for victory over his own nature in the life of God offered to him freely, but hope for a blessed fellowship with him who is the source of righteousness and love, hope for immortality, hope for the resurrection of the body. "That we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us; which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast.

MABEL E. T. GOODENOUGH,
631 Hinman avenue.

ALSO, MAKE ALL DRIVERS QUALIFY.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Why beat about the bush on the safety question? All the police and committees combined cannot stop the loss of life so long as the engines of high speed are allowed on the public highways.

When a steam engine kills or maims people at a grade crossing, there is an agitation to have the tracks elevated, even though the engine is run on a track by an experienced engineer under strict discipline; but when a gas engine is run at a much greater speed by an inexperienced operator on a public highway, without any tracks or discipline, the public simply says "It's awful."

Compel automobile owners to equip their engines with a valve that will absolutely prevent the car from running over the speed limit and to come to a dead stop before crossing a bridge or car track, the same as street cars do, and then there will be little killing and maiming by such machines.

W. R. BETHAM.

AUTOS AND GRADE CROSSINGS.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Trains carry passengers and freight. Street cars carry passengers. Automobiles carry passengers, and yet the laws of this state as they are now written permit the concomitant use of a grade crossing by a train and an automobile at the same time. Permit if you please the occupancy of the same place at the same time by opposing forces.

What would you think of a train dispatcher who would be permitted to allow two trains running in opposing directions to occupy the same place at the same time? How long would the public sit idly by and permit this to be the law of the land? Yet this is the situation with reference to the automobile.

These machines are heavy, ponderous things, yet their mechanism make them subject to easy control; not so with a train. It is not subject to that ease of control with which an automobile is governed.

It is my judgment that never will the toll of death be lessened unless we have a law, rigidly enforced, that will make it absolutely necessary for automobiles when approaching a grade crossing to stop, and view the situation similar to that of a street car, which likewise carries passengers.

WAR ON GAMBLING.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I desire to commend the editorials in THE TRIBUNE against gambling, and I speak from an experience of many years in contending against that evil and in prosecution of gamblers and there is no gambling worse than that of children, and young people spending their pennies on games of chance and in the petty gambling, "20," as it is called, in cigar stores, saloons, and other places. This petty gambling could probably be called the "kindergarten" of gambling.

More power to THE TRIBUNE and to every other paper that uncovers these evils which have been a destroyer of humanity.

ARTHUR BURBAGE FARWELL,
President Chicago Law and Order League.
Secretary Hyde Park Protective Association.

WHAT'S HIS PLAN?

Chicago, Sept. 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Referring to the communication from M. S. R., Tiskilwa, Ill., are we to infer that he has a better plan for achieving the overthrow of the saloon, or that it can never be overthrown, and that the traffic in liquors can never be abolished? But if M. S. R. has a better plan, or whatever it is, will he not tell it? P. S. B.

HOYNE GETS DELAY FOR "26" GAMBLERS

Counsel for Defense Tells Court He Has Agreement with State's Attorney.

JUDGE CONTINUES CASE.

Assistant Prosecutor Faye Makes No Effort to Have Prompt Hearing.

Through an agreement with State's Attorney Hoyne, a representative of John C. Williams, the state's attorney's personal lawyer, yesterday secured a thirty day continuance of the hearing of the "26" gambling cases before Judge Wade in the Englewood police court. Williams is attorney for the cigar and pool room owners who are defendants in the cases.

When court opened at 9:30 a. m. Attorney John H. Lyle of the Englewood Law and Order league was present with nine members of the executive committee of the league. He had the paraphernalia which he had confiscated, the legal citations, and the witnesses on hand—all ready for the immediate hearing of the cases.

Only Two Defendants Present.

Only two of the defendants—Quinn and Lehnhardt—were present. When the cases were called the attorney for the defense asked the court for a thirty day continuance. He said he had an agreement with the state's attorney for a continuance. Assistant State's Attorney Faye made no comment.

Attorney Lyle then asked that the motion for a continuance be postponed for fifteen or twenty minutes. He explained he wanted to have a complete stenographic report of the hearings of each case and his stenographer would arrive within ten minutes.

"O, you don't need a stenographic record of a continuance," said the court. "What are the names of the defendants?"

Court Names Date.

As the list was read off the court wrote down the date of the continuance—Oct. 16—after the name of each defendant. Then he said:

"Is there some one else here interested? Any objection to the continuance?"

Attorney Lyle replied he had no objection to a continuance, but that he had all the witnesses and evidence of plaintiffs on hand and citations from the statutes showing the defendants were conducting gambling games in their establishments. He said he was eager to have the cases heard at the earliest possible moment.

The attorney representing John C. Williams, general counsel for the defense, then said that Williams was out of the city, and that the continuance was regularly agreed upon. The assistant state's attorney said, "Yes, we agreed to that." The cases were continued until the date set by the court, and all witnesses asked to be present on that date.

Calls It a Frameup.

"It looks to me as if it were all cut and dried between the attorney for the defense and the state's attorney that the cases be continued," commented Attorney Lyle. "I am informed that John C. Williams, Maclay Hoyne's personal attorney, was paid $3,500 to defend the '26' gambling cases. We will undoubtedly have to put up a hard fight to get the cases tried. Assistant State's Attorney Faye fought against the issuance of the warrants, and now he is not at all anxious for the cases to be heard.

"But we intend fighting every case to the finish, regardless of the opposition of the state's attorney's office. And we will get convictions if we are given fair trials. The law is plain. I have briefed cases exactly in point, showing '26' to be gambling."

Chinamen Trial Continued.

The trial of the twenty-three Chinamen arraigned before Municipal Judge Mahoney in the South Clark Street court was continued until Saturday until some one could be present to state definitely whether the cardboard chips which had been confiscated represented money or not. Upon the arraignment Detective William Schubert exhibited the chips and said they were being dealt out to players when the raid was made. Schubert said he thought the chips were being used for money, but was not sure.

Struck on Head; Dies.

Julius Bederman of 1627 North Winchester avenue died at the County hospital yesterday, supposedly from a skull fracture. He was struck on the head with a piece of iron on Sept. 13 by Morris Schlinger of 1627 North Winchester avenue, following a quarrel.

Says Gen. Custer Died in His Arms.

Ben McIntosh, "Curley the Crow."

Ben McIntosh, or "Curly the Crow," the only government survivor of the Custer massacre, is in Chicago for a few days' stopover on a mission to the great white father at Washington. He is stopping at the Grace hotel, 75 West Jackson boulevard.

"I cannot read or write myself," he said yesterday, "but I have eleven children and they are all educated. They have different positions of responsibility, and, of course, have citizen's rights. But there are thousands of other young Indians who have educated themselves and have come back to live on the reservations with their parents. They are imposed upon by Indian agents and all sorts of grafters. We want state rights."

"Curly" is a wealthy Indian. He owns 320 acres of fine farm land near Butte, Mont., and has valuable stock, as well as large crops. "Gen. Custer died in my arms," he said.

CUTS OFF SISTERS IN WILL

Isaac Horner Leaves Women Only $1 of Property.

BROTHERS DIVIDE $140,000.

Relatives Declare There Will Be No Contest Over Estate.

The will of Isaac Horner of 2945 Michigan avenue, who died last May leaving an estate of $140,000, which was filed yesterday in Probate court, disposed of the estate entirely to his brothers and sisters. But the bequests were far from equal.

The four sisters—Mrs. Minnie Yondorf, 2960 Prairie avenue; Mrs. D. Levy, 4801 Forrestville, avenue; Mrs. Dora Yondorf, 4123 Michigan avenue, and Mrs. Mattie Straus, 4334 Grand boulevard—and Joseph Horner, a brother, with whom Isaac Horner lived, get $1 each, and no more. The other four brothers, Harry, Albert, Charles, and Maurice, get the residue in equal shares.

An attempt was made to learn from Mrs. Minnie Yondorf why she had been given only 1-140 part of the estate. It was news to her, and it came so suddenly that she abandoned the telephone instrument to a male member of the family. That member, who said he was Mr. Yondorf, listened to the reading of an abstract of the will and then said he could not explain it.

"But," he added firmly, "we do not need my brother's property. We have ample without it. There will be no contest so far as I know."

For some time attempts to reach other members of the family by telephone were unsuccessful. All appeared to be talking with each other. Eventually Maurice Horner was found. He said the relatives who had received $1 had been amply cared for before Mr. Horner's death, and denied there had been any family quarrel.

HOYNE KIDNAPERS HELD FOR TRIAL

Carlin and Flannigan Waive Examination in Michigan Police Court.

HAVE TO GIVE $10,000 BAIL.

Released Pending Hearing of Schartenberg Charges on November 3.

Grand Haven, Mich., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—James Carlin and Thomas Flannigan, personal detectives for State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne of Cook county, Illinois, were held to the Circuit court today on bonds of $5,000 each to answer to charges of abducting Charles Schartenberg, an employé of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and his wife, Martha.

Having been beaten in appeals to the Illinois state and federal courts in efforts to avoid trial in Michigan, the two detectives, at the advice of Mr. Hoyne, came to Grand Haven this morning and surrendered themselves. They were in charge of Deputy Sheriff Thomas Morrison of Cook county, and were accompanied by John C. Williams, Mr. Hoyne's personal attorney, and Assistant State's Attorney Bell. Prosecuting Attorney Louis Ousterhaus and Sheriff Hans Dykehaus of Ottawa county were waiting in the office of Police Magistrate D. C. Wachs where Deputy Sheriff Morrison turned over his prisoners to Sheriff Dykehaus.

Waive an Examination.

"You can have a preliminary hearing now or waive examination and be bound over to the Circuit court," said the justice.

"We are not prepared at this time," said Mr. Williams, "and waive examination."

The bonds for each prisoner were offered by Nathaniel Robbins, a local banker and real estate dealer. Mr. Ousterhaus said Robbins would be acceptable and the Chicago detectives were released.

"The case will come up on Nov. 3 in the Circuit court," said Mr. Ousterhaus. "If the defense is ready it can be tried at once, as the state of Michigan is ready to go ahead at any time."

Story of Kidnaping.

The information and complaint on which the men were arrested, extradited, and held for trial charge them with going to Macatawa Park, in Michigan, several weeks ago and getting a Michigan constable to swear out fugitive warrants against Schartenberg and his wife, who were spending their vacation there. The Michigan officer was told by the detectives that Schartenberg had fled from Chicago after a warrant had been issued accusing him of shooting Alexander Belford.

Although there never was such a charge against Schartenberg, he was arrested, and with his wife and 2 months old baby was rushed on board a boat bound for Chicago, and were kept confined in their stateroom until Chicago was reached. They were then rushed before State's Attorney Hoyne and the grand jury, but immediately were released by Judge Theodore Brentano on a writ of habeas corpus.

After learning of the deception practiced by the Chicago detectives in having the warrant issued, Prosecuting Attorney Ousterhaus had a complaint filed against the men. Gov. Dunne honored a request for extradition, which State's Attorney Hoyne fought unsuccessfully through two courts.

Don't Use Drugs For Constipation

Just Try Nature's Cure

We all know that constipation brings on countless other complaints if not taken in hand, appendicitis among them—also that any drug will lose its power after being taken for a time—but we should also know that every drug forces Nature instead of assisting her, and will, if continued, make us slaves to them.

There is now a method of internal bathing which will keep the intestines as clean and pure and free from waste as exacting Nature can demand—which, taken occasionally, will prevent constipation, biliousness with its depression, and the countless more serious diseases which are caused by the blood taking up the poisons from the intestines and carrying them through the system.

That method is the "J. B. L. Cascade," which is being enthusiastically used by many thousands, is prescribed by the most enlightened physicians everywhere and is now being shown and explained by The Independent Drug Company, State and Adams streets, Chicago.

Everyone should at least investigate this nature-cure without delay.

GRANDPA'S STEPS HARD FOR NOBLE

Young Italian Finds Fortunes Are Not Picked Up in Stockyards.

FATHER HAS SPENT ALL

Son of Chicago Woman Who Married Abroad Comes "Home" for Life Work.

department, for English, Italian, French, and Spanish were all and equally at the ends of his tongue and fingers. His wages were $25 a week and every Saturday night he sent $10 back to his mother at the Bettini paslazzo in Rome.

FROM the start the other clerks guyed his good manners and made cruel fun of all his little foreign ways. Especially was he the butt of Ed Hogan, the bull necked young man who had been made head of the department more for his executive than linguistic abilities.

Only with the stenographers was he a favorite from the start. These wise young women appreciated the politeness with which he ushered them to chairs and thanked them when he had finished his dictation. Perhaps, also, they were a little impressed with the touch of the grand manner which persisted whenever Giovanni had to do with a woman. Miss Marguerite Kelly, belle of the department, expressed the general opinion.

"I think Mr. Betts is grand. His manners are elegant, and I never saw such long eyelashes. I believe he is a duke or something at home."

ALL of which was sufficiently near the truth, but did not tend to endear the object of the maidenly eulogy to Ed Hogan, who looked upon Miss Kelly with an eye in which the masterly execution of scorn was tempered with a more tender emotion.

Being thus started on a stern but hopeful chase after his million, Giovanni Betts lost no time in getting the best available advice on how to accelerate his speed. On his first idle Saturday afternoon he dressed himself immaculately and appeared at the reference room at the public library.

"I wish to get the advice of Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockefeller on how to become a millionaire."

Used to handling the most incredible requests, the head of the department allowed only a twinkle to appear in the corner of her eye. Presently an attendant spread before the potential millionaire a dozen volumes, bound magazines and more serious books, in which money, always voluble, had allowed words of wisdom to drip from its golden tongue.

AT the end of an hour Giovanni departed with light heart and winged feet. He had accumulated not less than a dozen sure recipes for riches, each of them from the pen of a master of many millions.

"Industry, thrift, and perseverance are the true secrets of wealth."

"I attribute my good fortune to the fact that I have always given a proportion of my earnings to the church."

"Never watch the clock"—though Giovanni could not imagine why it should be necessary to warn anybody against such a peculiar habit as that.

He spent Sunday afternoon in illuminating his mottoes on little cards, which he might stand on his desk and carry about in his pocketbook. Sunday morning he had dropped half a dollar in the poor box at early mass. He went to work on Monday feeling that he was ready for a sprint. And then the first blow fell.

MISS KELLY, whose ability as a shorthand writer was by no means on a par with her beauty, had come in to take his dictation—out of her turn, and somewhat to the uneasiness of Mr. Hogan. Giovanni was in the midst of a difficult translation, and half a dozen times the stenographer had interrupted to ask him to repeat a sentence.

Finally, wrapped up as he was in his work, he had unconsciously lost patience. As he swung round in his chair his elbow struck Miss Kelly's notebook, and it fell to the floor with a bang.

Giovanni was on his feet in an instant. And it was the most natural thing in the world for an Italian gentleman when he handed the book to the flustrated Miss Kelly to bend over as he presented his apologies and kiss her only half reluctant hand. The fact that Ed Hogan opened the door and looked in at that moment may have been due to the uneasiness which possessed him, or it may have been only the working of an inscrutable fate.

A HOT blush swept Miss Kelly's face as Mr. Hogan waved her to the door, rage mantling his own countenance. "You may be excused, Miss Kelly. I'll see that you are not insulted again by this dago."

Before the fair Marguerite could turn her crisp blue linen back on this dangerous but delightful situation the fist of Giovanni Bettini had landed full on the unsuspecting and upturned nose of Mr. Hogan. Miss Kelly screamed and everybody in the department came running to the door of No. 3.

It was well, indeed, that the noble marquis had learned "le box" during his sojourn in England, for Eddie Hogan was one of the best little men who ever came out of that bellicose region "back of the yards."

IT was stiletto against meat cleaver for a minute, until half a dozen men separated them. Bettini's upper lip was cut and Hogan showed a nasty black eye in addition to the slight damage to his nose caused by the first blow.

After an investigation, in which Giovanni's explanations were laughed at, he was discharged without notice. Most of the people in the department, their feelings perhaps not unaffected by that envy which is said to be the result of conscious inferiority, said that it served him right. Only Miss Kelly was moved to remark—at a time when Mr. Hogan could easily overhear her—that "you can say what you please, but, anyhow, Mr. Bettini is some scrapper."

As for Giovanni, the vast injustice with which he felt he had been treated led him to drink four or five solitary highballs, so that he reached his boarding house, west of Halsted street, that evening in a condition more befitting an Italian nobleman or a potential millionaire than a young immigrant out of a job. He woke the next morning with a head that ached for several reasons, and in as many different ways. His wandering eyes first fell on one of his recipes for riches which stood on his writing table. "Be Aggressive" it said, and the spirit of old Ebenezer Hall twisted his split lip into a grin.

OMITTING only the highballs, Giovanni wrote a full account of his disaster to his mother, bidding her, however, not to lose heart for a moment. Then he went out to look for another job.

When his letter reached Rome the poor lady on the Via Marche wept that her prophecies had come true. It remained for her late husband's maiden sister, whom poverty had left clinging like a withered olive to the ancestral branch, to encourage her.

"Bah! My dear," said the Lady Angelo, "it will not be the first time that a man of our house has conquered a city. Little more than a hundred years ago my own great-grandfather, thrice removed, sacked Assisi at the head of his own retainers. Don't worry about our boy."

COUNTY PREPARES STATE ROAD MAP

WORK TO BEGIN IN 1914.

Archer, Milwaukee, and Western Avenue Extensions to Be First.

A map of the roads of Cook county, designating those which are to be known as state aid roads, and to be constructed in part from the funds provided by the new state aid road law, will be sent to the state highway commission by the county board today.

The roads which are recommended for state improvement have been approved by the board, and will enter into the general plan of the state commission. Construction upon them will begin next spring. The first ones to be improved will be the Milwaukee avenue, Archer avenue, and Western avenue roads.

$125,000 Will Be Available.

About $125,000 will be available from the automobile tax fund and the general fund of the state for the improvement of the county roads, and to this amount the county must add an equal sum.

The roads shown on the map sent to the state commission include the Algonquin, Dundee, and Higgins, Rand, Milwaukee, Glenview, Wheeling, Lincoln avenue [to Niles Center], Irving Park boulevard, Western avenue, Chicago Heights-Dyer, Dolton-Hammond, Lake street, Plainfield, Joliet, Arche, Lemont, and Joliet roads, and the Twelfth, Twenty-second, One Hundred and Eleventh, One Hundred and Twenty-seventh, One Hundred and Forty-third, and One Hundred and Fifty-ninth street roads.

May Use Prison Labor.

If the convict labor employed on the roads near Dixon, Ill., is found to be a success there is little doubt that it will be used on the Cook county roads, according to Commissioner Gard.

The contract for the first mile of cement road to be constructed in Cook county has been let by the county board. It lies between Niles Center and Evanston. The expense is borne by the county, by the Evanston Business Men's club, and the township.

Noisy Picnic Trials Continue.

Miss B. Harris, 4819 Prairie avenue, another of the forty picnickers arrested in Oak Park ten days ago for too noisy conduct, was put on trial yesterday before Justice Arthur J. Kendall in Oak Park. Charles Shonk, the complainant, said he did not see her in the partly until he reached the police station. Thirty-seven cases have been disposed of, and only one of the defendants found not guilty.

ASKS GOOSE OIL; GETS JAIL.

Drug Clerk Thought He Was Being Baited by Customer and Calls Policeman.

When Capt. Frederick Franklin, former chief of police at Pretoria, Transvaal, South Africa, now living at the Leland hotel, went into a drug store at Clark and Division streets and asked for goose oil, several customers laughed.

Samuel Epstein, the clerk, thought he was being baited and ordered Capt. Franklin out of the store. He refused to go and Epstein had him arrested.

"A friend of mine recommended goose oil for a cold in the chest," said Capt. Franklin to Municipal Judge Scully. "I did not understand what the people were laughing at."

"I think there was a misunderstanding on both sides," said Judge Scully. "You are discharged."

Actress Tells Secret

A Well Known Actress Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair and Promoted Its Growth With a Simple Home Made Mixture.

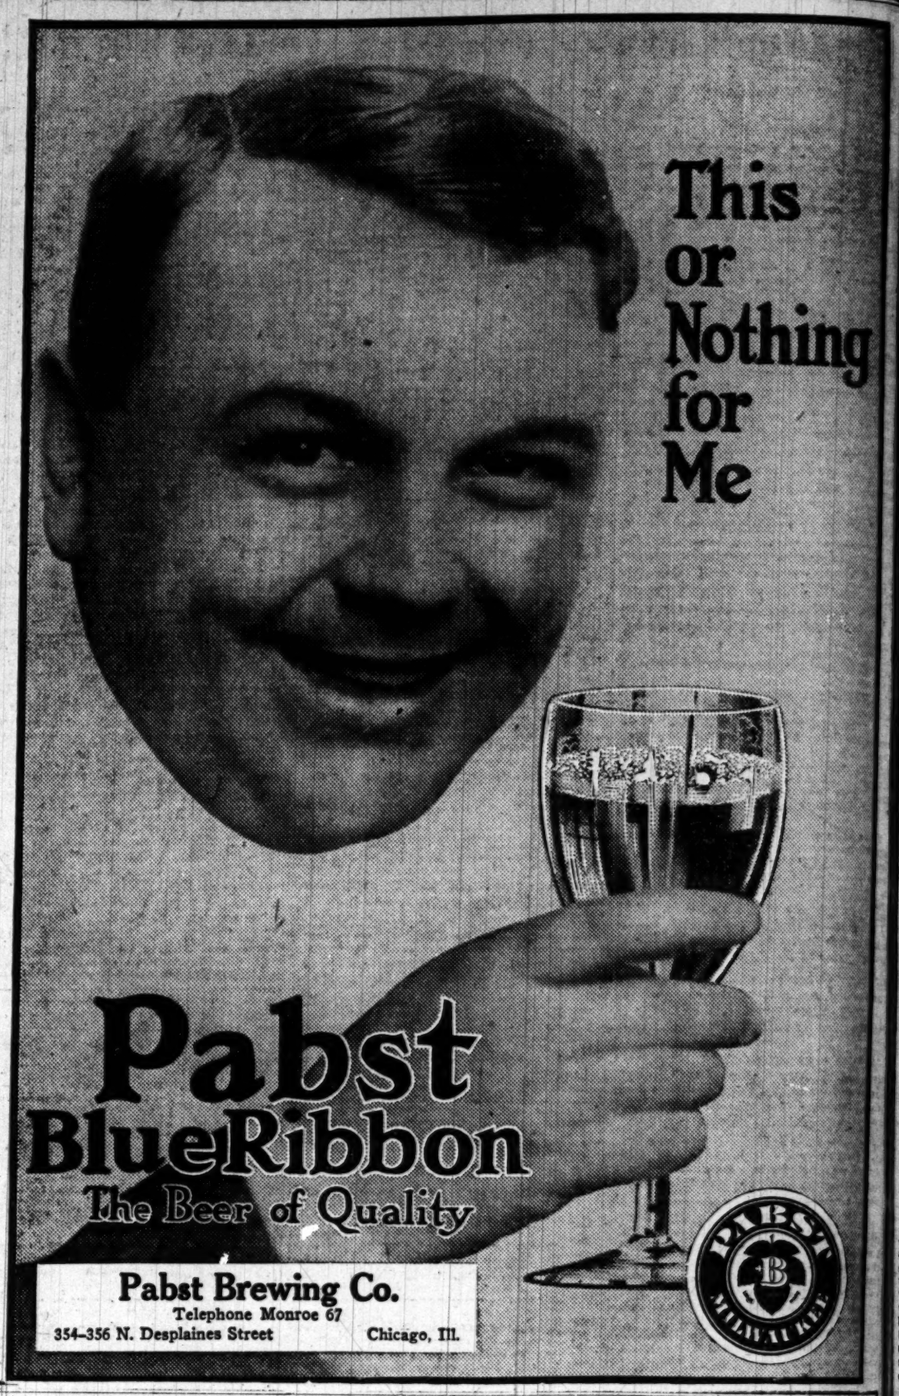

Miss Blanche Rose, a well-known actress, who darkened her gray hair with a simple preparation which she mixed at home, in a recent interview at Chicago, Ill., made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the required shade. This will make a gray haired person look 20 years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of hair, relieves itching and scalp humors and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair." Advertisement.

Resinol

stops skin troubles

No matter how long you have been tortured and disfigured by itching, burning, raw or scaly skin humors, just put a little of that soothing, antiseptic Resinol Ointment on the sores and the suffering stops right there! Healing begins that very minute, and your skin gets well so quickly you feel ashamed of the money you threw away on useless, tedious treatments.

Resinol is not an experiment. It is a doctor's prescription which was so unusually successful for skin troubles that it has been used by other physicians all over the country for the past eighteen years.

Cured awful itching in one night

New York, April 26, 1913.—"The skin on my hand got red and rough. It itched and I began to scratch it. It itched so that sometimes I could not sleep all night. I was suffering very much. I used —— salve and ——, but they did not seem to help me. This went on for six or seven months. Then I tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. I used them one night. In the morning, to my surprise, my hand was all well and the trouble has never returned. This is the absolute truth."—(Signed) Miss Celia Kleinman, 61 Columbia St.

Wherever drugs are sold you can get Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. For trial size, free, write to Resinol, Baltimore, Md. All druggists sell them.

News of the Theaters.

At the Varieties; Notes of the Stage.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

AMONG other mysteries at the Majestic this week is a blonde alien who entitles himself "Svengali" for the reason that he hypnotizes a young woman and causes her to sing. Thus, he leads her to the piano, makes an occult pass over her eyes, and then, moving through the audience, communicates telepathically their desires in the way of song. These desires are by no means simple, ranging from "Yankee Doodle" to "Salome," and the blonde gentleman is forced at times to writhe and beat his breast in the process of transmission. Every wish is gratified apparently, however, and no complaints are made. The young woman, whose name is Elsie Terry, is handsome and audible, though her gifts are evidently more hypnotic than vocal or instrumental.

Drama is proferred later in the Majestic's program by Henry Woodruff and some associates, who play a funny play named "A Regular Business Man." The star herein is a gay and penniless young lawyer in love with his pretty stenographer, and the plot tells how he gets the money by being kind to a troubled widow and outwitting an unscrupulous business man. Mr. Woodruff is shrill, smiling, and extravagant, just as they want him to be, but the others are unusually capable and should be complimented by name. And so they are—Miss Margaret Lotus, Mr. James M. Brophy, and Miss Isabel West.

Still further in the schedule at the Majestic is Joe Whitehead, an amiable song and dance buccaneer, who by sheer spirit and considerable facility in humor causes most of the laughter. An educational interlude is offered by Martin Johnson with a moving picture story of his South Sea island adventures with Mr. Jack London—exhibiting interesting motion photographs of a crocodile eating a goat, et cetera. No vaudeville bill is complete without its prima donna, late of the Metropolitan Opera company, and this week's arias are sung by Miss Edna Showalter, of whom it may be said that she makes more music and more applause than any of her predecessors.

To be observed at the Palace Music hall these afternoons and evenings is Miss Kathleen Clifford, a nifty young person, who dances and wears nobby boys' clothes. That she may have no secrets from her audience Miss Clifford dresses behind an illuminated and transparent sheet and so she is seen by those who care to look, shifting her trousers and waistcoast, aided by an agile valet. The disclosures are prudent if not becoming. But the little lady is cunning of manner and fairy of feet, and she sings at least well enough to be the headliner, which, no doubt, she is.

There is a small musical comedy at the Palace showing Vera and her college chums from Vassar entering airily to meet the comic Englishman who loves Vera, but who becomes compromised with the sentimental beldame. It has pretty songs and pretty dresses and Ralph Lynn clowns amusingly. Walter Lawrence and Miss Frances Cameron repeat their pleasant offering, "A Bit of Broadway," and Harry K. Thaw is exhibited eating corn on the cob, thinking of his mother and conversing with Hal Reid, the ex-playwright. The audiences hiss when Mr. Jerome's picture is shown. Numerous other events transpire at the Palace this week, among which is the appearance of Saharet, a dancer.

Myron Leffingwell, who was found dead the other day in a north side hotel, was at one time a well known actor. He attracted a great deal of attention when, in 1891, he accepted a part that had been refused by at least twenty other well known players for reasons of sentiment—the part being that of John Wilkes Booth, the brother of Edwin Booth, in a play called "Abraham Lincoln," written by the late Archibald Gordon. The prediction was at the time freely made—among actors, of course—that no player could take the part of Booth and survive.

When John Drew revives Haddon Chambers' "The Tyranny of Tears" as a tribute to the fact that the public of New York City is not interested in his Benedick, he will use with it "The Will," a new play by J. M. Barrie that has won more than common attention in London. It is based on a variant of the "Milestones" idea, but is in one act, which is divided into three parts. Miss Laura Hope Crewes and Miss Mary Boland will have in the Chambers comedy the respective parts of the tearful wife and the cheerful amanuensis.

The Messrs. Shubert have arranged to produce the London-America music revue, "Oh, I Say," with tunes by Jerome Kern. The cast includes Walter Jones, Joseph Herbert, Richard Temple, and Misses Alice Yorke, Mabel Hamilton, Flavia Arcaro, Clara Palmer, and Elizabeth Arilans.

Miss Ethel Mantell, daughter of the second Mrs. Robert Mantell (Miss Charlotte Behrens), will be among her stepfather's Shakspearean players this season, appearing as Lady Blanche in "King John," Jessica in "The Merchant of Venice," and the Prince of Wales in "Richard III." The young woman is 17 and convent bred, and this will be her theatrical debut.

Miss Elsie Terry, at the Majestic.

End Vice Drama in New York.

New York, Sept. 16.—[Special.]—Redlight drama in New York received a knockout blow today. Lee and J. J. Shubert voluntarily withdrew "The Lure" from the Maxine Elliott theater as an acknowledgment of the protest of public decency, and the Henry B Harris estate promised to tone down "The Fight" at the Hudson theater so that the objectionable scenes and dialogues will be eliminated.

Both firms pledged themselves to the district attorney that there would be no further attempt to show the interior of a bawdy house on the stage.

The grand jury was to have reported on "The Lure" and "The Fight" today. The report was rendered unnecessary by the voluntary action of the management of each of the plays in cutting out the bagnio scenes and removing dialogue of strumpets and their male parasites from the text. There will be no grand jury action and the charge against Lee Shubert in the Court of Special Sessions will be dropped.

Refrigeration Congress to Open This Evening.

MORE than 2,000 of the world's champion ice men will arrive in Chicago today as delegates to the International Congress and Exposition of Refrigeration, which opens this evening at the stockyards amphitheater.

Among this number will be more than 500 representatives of foreign governments. Twenty-five delegates from Australia arrived yesterday afternoon. The other foreign guests of the exposition left Washington yesterday afternoon on a special train for Chicago. At the capital they were received by President Wilson and members of his cabinet.

While important questions regarding the conservation of the world's food supply are to be taken up at the congress, the opening evening will be taken up with the inauguration of the exposition at the stockyards. Col. W. E. Skinner, general manager, announced that everything was in readiness to receive the visitors. Practically all of the exhibits were in place during the afternoon.

Two of the features of the exposition will be concluded this morning. They are the ice slide and the ice fountain, neither of which ever has been seen in Chicago before. The ice slide is constructed especially for the children who are expected to visit the ice show, and it is arranged in such a way that they literally can slide right into the big amphitheater. The slide is more than 50 feet long.

Another exhibit which is expected to interest the women of Chicago is the huge government icebox. This big refrigerator is the largest ever built in the world, contains more than two dozen rooms, and is presided over by experts from the United States department of agriculture, who are there to demonstrate the correct way of refrigerating foods. Housewives who wish to learn something of household economy will be given regular daily lessons.

Mayor Harrison is expected to open the exposition this evening and all of the delegates who arrive from Washington will be present. The business of the congress will be transacted in special rooms at the Hotel La Salle. Different sections of the congress will meet daily. The congress and exposition will continue until Oct. 1.

Dr. Evans Tours Western Canada.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Evans leave tonight for Regina, Sask., where Dr. Evans is to make two addresses before the Canadian Public Health association and respond to the toast "Kindred Associations" at the banquet to be given tomorrow night. Miss Mary McDowell also is to speak before the association and to respond to the toast "The Ladies." Dr. Evans will go from Regina to Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, Saskatoon, and other points in western Canada, where he will make addresses, returning to Chicago about the first of October.

Want Sane New Year's Eve.

A campaign for a "sane New Year's eve celebration" yesterday was launched by the Young People's Civic league. Effort will be made to enlist churches, synagogues, missions, settlements, and social organizations in the campaign, which will aim to make New Year's eve celebration one for "hearty, wholesome, rollicking fun and earnest thought and resolve instead of the usual debauchery and lawlessness." One plan of the league is to secure special attractions in parks and public buildings on New Year's eve.

Drug Association in Session.

Parcel post legislation against indiscriminate sale and use of narcotics and similar trade problems were discussed at a meeting of the executive committee of the Mississippi Valley Drug association, held at the Hotel La Salle yesterday. No action was taken on the problems discussed. A. J. Topping of Peoria presided at the meeting.

Law School to Open Tonight.

The formal opening of the fifteenth year of the John Marshall Law school will take place in the main lecture room of the school in the Portland block this evening at 6:30 o'clock with addresses by members of the faculty.

Only Woman Delegate to Farming Congress.

Mrs. Scott Durand.

Mrs. Scott Durand, society woman and owner of the Crab Tree dairy farm at Lake Bluff, will be the only woman delegate to the international farming congress and exposition of soil products to be held in Tulsa, Okla. Yesterday Mrs. Durand received a letter from Gov. Dunne appointing her a delegate from Illinois. It is probable there will be but one or two more delegates from the entire state.

Newspaper Publishers Discuss Advertising.

ADVERTISING as a commercial proposition, newspapers as merchandise distributors' coöperation and trade topics were discussed at a fall meeting of the Inland Daily Press association, held in the college room of the Hotel La Salle yesterday afternoon.

Jason Rogers, publisher of the New York Globe, advocated coöperation and organization as the best means for success of any commercial proposition, his address being the principal feature of the session.

Many of those who informally discussed advertising were of the belief that a higher rate should be charged for all advertising matter, pointing to the prosperous condition of the country.

H. H. Bliss of Janesville, Wis., president of the association, presided at the meeting and luncheon that followed.

The organization is composed of publishers of daily papers of middle western states.

Farewell Banquet to Dr. Safford.

A farewell banquet was given at night at the Kimball café in honor of the Rev. George B. Safford, for seven years secretary of the church extension board of the presbytery of Chicago, who has resigned to take the superintendency of the Anti-Saloon league of Minnesota, with headquarters in Minneapolis.

How to Earn Money at Home

The purpose of this department is to find profitable employment for women in occupations which they can carry on at home without interfering with their domestic duties. To stimulate suggestions The Tribune will award $1 each for every help published.

Address—Sally Joy Brown, care The Tribune, Chicago.

The exhibit room in The Tribune Building is open from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. except on Saturday, when it closes at 1 o'clock.

Confidence Something Any Woman Can Have.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

HAVE you confidence in yourself? Isn't confidence one of the hardest qualities to acquire? I've known women who have lost the opportunity of doing really worth while things in the world just because they didn't have any confidence in themselves to attempt the work. Haven't you always found after you have once started to do anything, no matter what it is, that confidence comes to you?

Here's a letter that came to me from one of my home workers—that is, she is one of my home workers now, but she wasn't for a long time:

"I've often wished I were like some of the women that accomplish things. They always seem to be so sure of themselves when they attempt anything. I've known women who have "made a success" in one line of work, and who would start out in something they had never done before with the most wonderful confidence in their power to succeed. But I have never been that way. I've always lacked even the slightest hint of confidence in myself—until lately.

"I used to read about the women who were making money at home and wish that I could do something, too, but I would keep putting off trying because I didn't have any confidence in my powers of making a success. If you have never felt that way you don't know what it means. That feeling is harder to bear than any other that I know about because it will give any one a wrong impression of you, and what other people think about you has a lot to do with what you think about yourself. I'm beginning to feel now that it has everything.

"I don't know what it was that made me determine one day that I'd try to do something, and that it didn't really make a bit of difference whether I failed or not, that it was the trying that counted, anyway. But I did feel that way hard enough to try to do some work at home. I was sure when I sat down and thought about it that I'd be one of the unsuccessful ones, and I began to worry about having tried. It seemed kind of silly to me to think I had tried.

"I guess that my getting orders right away for my comforters was a lesson to me. I shall never forget how I felt when the first one came. And when I had received the third order I felt a thrill of confidence I had never felt before. I knew right then that the reason I had never felt any confidence in myself was not because I couldn't do things just as well as other women, but because I had never tried and I didn't know what I could do.

"Since then I've been wondering if there aren't a lot of other women in the world who are like me, and that's one of the reasons why I am writing to you, hoping that you will be able to publish my experience and that it will help some other woman who has been lacking confidence all of her life.

"The biggest reason, though, was to thank you for helping me to find myself. I do thank you with all of my heart, and I appreciate more than I can ever tell you what you have done for me by helping me to find that confidence is something that all of us can have."

Doesn't her letter make you feel like trying to do something?

I knew that it would, and, of course, it has made me happy to be able to publish it and give it a chance to help you.

Perhaps your confidence would grow more quickly if you knew how a hundred other women had been able to make their work successful. There is a little booklet called "A Hundred Ways to Earn Money at Home," that will go off to you by next post if you will send your name and address. Will you?

Does Beautiful Hand Work.

I know a widow who does beautiful hand work, and adds to her income by designing and making beautiful articles for babies. She makes a specialty of robes and blankets. A robe may be made of either elderdown or cricket cloth; either is warm and makes up nicely. If made of elderdown she binds them in satin ribbon, trims with a large bow; or if made of cricket cloth she crochets the sides with colored thread. They sell or $2 to $3.50, and are not hard to make. She supports herself and baby girl.

MISS JANE WILSON, 6050 Monroe avenue.

Farm Woman Dries Corn.

I have a friend who has been making money just drying corn. She sells it for 20 cents a pound, and cannot begin to supply the demand for it. It is easy work, especially if one has a drier, which is not at all expensive. Good work for farmers' wives.

MRS. G. S. SCOVEL, Paw Paw, Mich.

Reading to Children.

Children the world over love to be read to and any woman with a pleasant reading voice and who is fond of children will find this an enoyable way of earning money. She can have one afternoon a week when she reads aloud to the youngsters in the neighborhood at her own home, and charging 25 cents apiece will make it well worth her while. If she can spare Sunday afternoon so much the better, as that day, when the children can't play games, is always something of a problem, or if she wished she could simply set aside stormy afternoons for her reading. When the cold fall days with their early dusks set in she will find plenty of eager little listeners. Then, too, when a child is sick and hard to amuse the tired mother will be more than glad to pay the "reading fairy" for her services.

MARGARET RENWICK, 4347 Shridan road.

From an Old Stocking.

A woman takes one old stocking, cuts off the foot, lays a piece of old flannel or piece of underwear inside and folds it into a square large enough to make an iron holder. She buttonholes the four sides with darning cotton. It looks nice, costs her nothing, and sells readily for 10 cents. Having a family of four children, she always has plenty of old hose, and one would be surprised how much money she makes.

ELAINE CASTLE, 4842 Forrestville avenue.

For Invalids and Children.

A young girl takes orders for sparklers for favors, showers, invalids and children. For children gay little bags are filled with a dozen 5 cent articles wrapped in rose and blue paper, such as a tiny Noah's ark, a game, bright ball, wee doll, and a jumping jack—something for each hour of the day. The favor bags are of gold and silver paper. A bride's favor which is popular is a dozen little biscuit and cooky cutters in odd shapes, all daintily wrapped. Grandmother's treasure bag is one of her best sellers. They are quaint three-cornered lavender bags, containing needle book, tape measure, pin book, thimble, tiny mirror, a dozen kid curlers, thread, lavender sachet, a box of caraway mints, and an almanac.

JEAN FANCHER, 291 North Ashland avenue, River Forest, Ill.

Stretching Lace Pieces.

An easy and pleasant way to earn money at home is by stretching Cluny lace pieces. You can stretch them on a sheet after they have been washed in white soap. Pin each point down with good common pins. If stretched right they do not have to be ironed. Any one would be willing to pay 10 cents for the smallest size and 25 cents for next size and so on, according to size.

MISS R. SOLOMON, 1806 Grand avenue.

Rents Out Phonograph.

I have an acquaintance who has a phonograph, and, tiring of it, has rented it out at 50 cents a week.

DIGGS AND ATTORNEY FREED ON SLAVE PERJURY CHARGE.

Caminetti and Comrade in Famous Mann Act Case to Be Sentenced by Federal Judge Today.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 16.—Maury I. Diggs, former state architect, and Attorney Charles B. Harris of Sacramento were found not guilty by a jury in the United States District court today of subornation of perjury in connection with the Diggs-Caminetti white slave cases.

The jury was out an hour and thirty minutes. None of its members would discuss the verdict afterward.

Neither defendant attempted to conceal his elation when the judgment was read. For the first time in six weeks there was evidence of genuine happiness at the table where the defendants have sat in trial that attracted nationwide attention.

Diggs and Caminetti will be sentenced tomorrow by Judge Van Fleet for their violation of the Mann act. Motions for new trials will be made, and in the event of their denial by the court appeals will be taken.

ARE YOUR MOVIES "CERTIFIED"?

City to Issue Honorary Placards to Theaters with Proper Ventilating Systems.

Within a few days every theater whose ventilation equipment complies with the city ordinances will receive an "honorary" placard reading thus:

> This is to certify that the ———— theater is provided with a system of ventilation which, if operated as it is intended to be, will insure to the patrons the supply of fresh air required by law. GEORGE B. YOUNG, Commissioner of Health.

By this method of creating "certified" theaters the health department hopes to encourage the public to seek out those in which the air is good. It is expected the placards will be placed in front of the playhouses.

CHICAGO JEW GIVEN HONORS.

Charles K. Horwitz Selected as One of Five Harvard Men to Aid in Reform Work.

Charles Kalmen Horwitz, who has the odd distinction of being the only Jewish student from Chicago who is at present attending Harvard university, was yesterday confirmed as one of the five Harvard men who will assist in solving Boston's juvenile delinquent probem next year.

The American Reform league will attempt to place delinquent boys with students attending Harvard, Tufts, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and surrounding New England colleges.

Four Harvard men will assist Mr. Horwitz.

MOTHER AIDS HER ELOPEMENT.

Miss Camille Coolidge Bringhurst Weds Dr. Hammond of Chicago Despite Father's Objections.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—Evasion of a church marriage and an elopement were easy for Miss Camille Coolidge Bringhurst, 26 years old, daughter of Robert Porter Bringhurst, St. Louis sculptor, and Dr. William D. Hammond of Chicago, simply because Miss Bringhurst's mother favored the idea. Mr. Bringhurst, who insisted on a church wedding, was away on a trip.

WOMAN'S DEATH QUESTIONED; CORONER-COUSIN INVOLVED?

Maryland Physician Signed Certificate for Former Governor's Relative at Suggestion of Official.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 16.—Important developments, it was learned today, are expected to result from the investigation State Attorney E. O. Weant of Carroll county is making into the death of Miss Ella Warfield, a relative of former Gov. Edwin Warfield. Miss Warfield, who was 60 years old, died at night on her farm near Sykesville, about seven weeks ago.

It developed recently that an empty bottle said to have contained poison was found on her bed. The certificate issued by Dr. Daniel B. Sprecher gave acute indigestion as the cause of death. Dr. Sprecher said he gave the certificate at the suggestion of Coroner Ora Miller, a cousin of the dead woman.

Mr. Weant today refused to disclose the contents of a note found beside the body. Those familiar with the inquiry believe this note throws considerable light upon the death of Miss Warfield.

Society and Entertainments.

Daughter of Dr. Myers to Wed Lewis M. Hart.

THE Rev. and Mrs. Johnston Myers have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Martha Osterhoudt, to Lewis Malcolm Hart, which will take place next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Immanuel Baptist church, of which Dr. Myers is pastor. One thousand cards have been sent out. The bride's sister, Miss Dorothy Myers, will be the maid of honor, and Mr. Hart's brother, Melville Hart, will serve as best man. As Dr. Myers will perform the ceremony, the bride will be accompanied to the altar by her brother, Robert Myers. Hosmer H. Allyn Jr., J. Herbert Cattell, W. Paul Ferris, James B. Meigs, Heber H. Smith, A. D. Titsworth, J. Stewart Weston, and John E. Williams will be the ushers.

The marriage of Miss Mabelle J. Cass, daughter of Mrs. Emma T. Cass of 451 West Sixty-fourth street, to Dr. Edward L. Cornell, son of Adna J. Cornell, was a celebration of 8 o'clock last night at the Englewood Christian church. The Rev. Charles G. Kindred performed the ceremony. Mrs. A. Floyd Hamilton was the matron of honor and Miss Edna Baldwin and Miss Louise Rapp were the bridesmaids. Dr. Earle B. Fowler served Dr. Cornell as best man and W. Marshall Bridges, F. Harrison Wells, A. Floyd Hamilton, and Carl F. Brown as ushers. Five year old Janet Baldwin was the flower girl.

Dr. and Mrs. Cornell will go to Tennessee on their wedding trip and will be at home after Oct. 10 at 7204 Emerald avenue.

The marriage of Miss Clara Weldon, daughter of Mrs. John Weldon, 6025 Jefferson avenue, to Louis Theodore Falk of Rockwell City, Ia., took place last night at 8 o'clock at the family home. The wedding is the second service in Mrs. Weldon's family circle within the last three months, Miss Edna Weldon having become the bride of Leo Carter De Tray, University of Chicago football player, on June 28 last. The bridal gown was of white crêpe de chine trimmed in pearls and lace. The veil was of tulle and the bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Helen Weldon, a sister, who was the maid of honor, wore yellow charmeuse and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Little Helen and Isabel Weldon of Wilmette, the bride's nieces, were the flower girls. They wore lingerie frocks with yellow sashes and carried baskets of small yellow chrysanthemums. The Rev. Father Carroll performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Falk will reside in Rockwell City, Idaho.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Ellen Harcourt Schoenthaler and Howard G. Hetzler of Hinsdale, which took place on Monday at the residence of the bride, 5311 Cornell avenue. The Rev. Herman Page officiated. Mr and Mrs. Hetzler will be at home after Oct. 15 at 24 Park avenue, Hinsdale.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Chase of St. Louis announce the marriage of their daughter, Ysobelle Haskell, to Burt Wallace Peirce of Chicago. The wedding took place Wednesday night, Sept. 10, at "The Shelter," the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Shoals at Saugatuck, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Peirce will be at home after Nov. 1 at 6558 Ellis avenue.

Cards have been issued for the wedding of Miss Helen Cecil, daughter of Col. and Mrs. George Russell Cecil of Detroit, to William Henry Allen, formerly of Detroit, but now of Chicago. The ceremony will take place next Wednesday evening in St. John's Episcopal church, Detroit. John Whiting, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hill Whiting, is to be one of the ushers. The future home is to be in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Blumenthal of El Paso, Tex., announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Jeannette, to William L. Lindenthal, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lindenthal of 4553 Ellis avenue, to take place this evening at the Hotel El Paso Del Norte, El Paso, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller of 6443 Green street announce the engagement of their daughter, Jennie to Dr. Charles A. Smith of Detroit, Mich.

Two additional debutante tea dates have been announced—Saturday, Nov. 15, when Mrs. John Davis Kales of 1356 North State street will introduce her daughter, Miss Marguerite Mellen, and Saturday, Nov. 22, when Mrs. J. Wallace Wakem will present her daughter, Miss Madeline Wakem.

Mrs. Sydney Walker Jr.

The marriage of Miss Isabel Clarke Irwin and Dr. Sydney Walker Jr. took place last night at Crerar Memorial Presbyterian church, the Rev. John W. Nicely officiating. Miss Olivia Irwin served as maid of honor and the Misses Marian McKinm and Ruth Allen as bridesmaids. John C. Irwin was best man and the three brothers of Dr. Walker—Percy, Walter, and Burgess Walker—with Dr. George McAuliff were the ushers. The bride's gown was of ivory satin charmeuse draped with Chantilly lace and the bouquet was of lilies of the valley. After an extended trip through the Canadian northwest Dr. and Mrs. Walker will be at home at 5824 South Michigan avenue.

Mrs. E. Behrendt of 3471 North Clark street announces the engagement of her daughter, Mindelle, to Hugo C. Loring of Chicago. At home announcement later.

Mrs. B. A. Eckhart of Lake Forest, who has been giving a series of luncheons, will have a company of twelve at luncheon today.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bush and family will leave Lake Forest this week and will return to their house at 1538 North State street. Mrs. Bush and her small daughter have just returned from Harbor Point, Mich., where they spent three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Higginson Jr. are again with George Higginson at The Corners, Lenox, after having spent a month with various members of the family along the north shore.

Mrs. Fielding Marshall and Miss Virginia Marshall have gone to Atlantic City for a short stay after having spent some time at Hot Springs, Va. Mr. Marshall has returned to Chicago.

Mrs. R. T. Crane Jr. and children, who have been at Stockbridge, Mass., for a brief visit, have returned to their summer place at Ipswich.

Catholic Women to Give Colonial Table Benefit.

COLONIAL TABLE is the name of the benefit which women of the parishes have planned for St. Mary's this year, to begin on Oct. 8 and continue for two weeks.

Fifty women will meet in the Hotel Sherman on Saturday to complete arrangements. A large dance in Paulist hall, 804 South Wabash avenue, will mark the closing of the benefit.

Women of every parish in the city are expected to ransack their homes for antiques and offer them as donations for charity. These gifts will be on display on tables bearing the drapings of colonial days. The Altar society will have ancient altar cloths on a table. The Paulist boys' choir will have a table of rare melodians, ancient harps, and articles picked up in their European travels. The Children's Aid society will have everything for sale that is of interest to children. Girls in Martha Washington wigs and flowered dresses will wait on those who come to buy.

It is the wish of the Rev. Peter J. O'Callaghan, pastor of St. Mary's, that the bazaar be universal, so nothing will be barred from the sale.

The patronesses will be:

Mrs. Carter H. Harrison,	Mrs. Charles Hanagan,
Mrs. Lawrence J. Reed,	Mrs. Edward Hines,
Mrs. William Lorimer,	Mrs. Andrew J. Ryan,

O'Shaughnessy Issues Statement.

Thomas O'Shaughnessy, the artist who has opposed the removal of the Columbus caravels from Jackson park, made public a statement last night in reply to a letter sent to the south park commissioners by John A. Verhoeven, attorney for William N. Selig.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy's statement follows:

"The south park board in justification of its action in giving to private individuals the Columbus caravels has made use of a letter written by some one represented as an attorney for a moving picture producer. This letter attempts to make it appear that the sails with which the caravels are equipped were not a gift from me.

"While these sails were originally made for a moving picture company they came into my possession as my property in justification of a claim. These sails were presented by me to the south park board and accepted by them to be held in trust for the school children of Chicago.

"The removal of the Columbus caravels from the lakes in the unqualified opinion of marine experts means their destruction. These boats can more safely cross the ocean than they can travel along the coast, being built for the express purpose of making voyages across."

Just a Few Questions for Chicago Suffragists.

AN examination for woman voters has been prepared by R. A. Widdowson, secretary of the city civil service commission. Mr. Widdowson, who has had experience in preparing questions for the examination of all varieties of applicants for positions in the city service, was asked by some prominent suffragists to devise a test which the qualified woman voter should be able to pass. Mr. Widdowson admits that the examination is not an easy one.

The questions follow:

"1. What are the principal provisions of: 'An act granting women the right to vote for presidential electors and certain other officers and to participate and vote in certain matters and elections,' passed by the legislature of the state of Illinois in the year 1913.

"2. In what states and countries have women secured the voting franchise, either partially or otherwise?

"3. What do you understand by the term property and what are the securities for property in the United States?

"4. What are the property rights of women in the state of Illinois as compared with their property rights in England, France, Germany, Russia, Turkey, or New Zealand?

"5. What do you consider the chief benefits that will folow from the exercise of the right to vote by women?

"Explain some of the evils at present existing in society which you think may be lessened by granting the franchise to women.

"6. How does the commission form of government differ in form and operation from a municipality such as Chicago or New York?

"7. Describe in not more than 200 words the progress of the woman's suffrage movement in England, France, Russia, Turkey, Germany, Spain, Finland, Denmark, New Zealand, Canada, and Brazil.

To Win Converts with Smile.

"How to Win Recruits to Christianity by Smiling" will be one of the themes to be considered at the convention to be held on Friday and Saturday by the Chicago Christian Endeavor union in the Northwestern University building.

The "gospel of the smile," as one of its advocates termed it, will be promoted by Miss Blanche Thomson, superintendent of the social department of the Christian Endeavor union; Miss Estella Jorgensen, Miss Nora Caborn, and Attorney H. A. Hautau.

Five conferences will be held in which the delegates representing the four hundred societies of the Christian Endeavor union will be trained to become "soul savers" by the smiling process.

Mrs. Booth-Clibborn of France, the Rev. Ozora S. Davis, the Rev. John Marvin Dean, Prof. E. O. Sellers, the Rev. E. L. Reiner, the Rev. Melbourne P. Boynton, and thirty-four other speakers are on the program.

The convention will open with a devotional service at 6:15 o'clock Friday evening to be conducted by A. G. Fegert, president of the Chicago Christian Endeavor union, and will close with the address by the Rev. Dr. O. S. Davis on Saturday evening.

Notes and News of Chicago Organizations.

THE Illinois Colony club will hold its formal opening of the club season on Sept. 30 at the Auditorium hotel. Arrangements were made yesterday at a meeting of the continental council of the club. The opening meeting will be in charge of the North Carolina colony. Mrs. Thomas Casey is chief of the colony.

The Altrui club of Jefferson park will hold its annual banquet tomorrow night at the Jefferson Park Congregational church. The guests of honor will be Mrs. Frederick A. Dow, president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, and A. A. McCormick, president of the board of county commissioners.

Mrs. Mary Plummer has been elected president of the Oak Park Civic and Suffrage club at a meeting held at the residence of Dr. Anna Blount. She will complete the term of Mrs. J. B. Morton, who has resigned.

Ald. Freund will speak on the work of the city council at a meeting next Tuesday in the council rooms of the ward and precinct chairmen of the Woman's party of Cook county. Mrs. Gladys Randall will have charge of the meeting.

Speaker McKinley Talks to Women.

The workings of the Illinois house of representatives during the last term and the passage of the more important bills were explained by Speaker William McKinley yesterday to a hundred members and guests at the semi-monthly luncheon of the Woman's Association of Commerce at the Grand Pacific hotel.

"The present legislature," said Speaker McKinley, "has passed more and better laws than any other ten legislatures in Illinois. I can refer you to the public utilities, the good roads, teachers' pension, nurses', and woman's suffrage bills."

An invitation was extended women to visit Springfield. Their new duties as the result of the passage of the suffrage bill and the acquirement of knowledge in the political field was the reason given.

"It depends on how you are going to use the ballot next spring," said the speaker, "whether surrounding states may grant suffrage. You will be watched and your mistakes, if you make any, will be pointed out by the enemies of suffrage."

Gold from Lead Possible, Glasgow Professor Says

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BIRMINGHAM, England, Sept. 16.—Zoologists, physiologists, and botanists jointly discussed the origin of life at today's session of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Benjamin Moore, professor of bi-chemistry at University college, Liverpool, opened the discussion with a technical paper describing experiments which afforded evidence of what he believed to be the first organic step in the evolution of life. He suggested that strong sunlight or a mercury lamp acting upon certain solutions can convert lifeless into living matter.

Sir Oliver Lodge, the president of the association, said that even when they got potential living matter it would not be the origin of life, but the construction of a physical and chemical vehicle which could be made use of by life.

Dr. Henry Armstrong, professor of chemistry at the City and Guilds college at South Kensington, was sarcastic in regard to the claims that had been made about creating life. He said that for the moment he was not prepared to accept the views of Prof. Schaefer as expounded at last year's session of the association.

Several papers dealing with problems of radiography were read in the engineering section, where the consensus was that research work in aerography ought to be controlled by a committee. It was announced that steps were being taken to organize amateurs for observation and research who will report to such a committee.

Mme. Curie, co-discoverer with her late husband of radium, returned to Paris rather hurriedly, filled with enthusiasm, to demonstrate her view of a matter in regard to which she has had a most amiable dispute with Dr. Frederick Soddy, lecturer on radio-activity at the University of Glasgow.

They differ in regard to the spectra of lead and radio-lead. Prof. Soddy is certain that they are exactly the same, while Mme. Curie is equally sure that they are not, and she has returned to her laboratory, where she has a whole gramme of radium, "more than anybody except the Austrian government possesses," she says, "to work out the problem."

Prof. Soddy in the course of a technical paper which he read today contended that it is quite possible to turn lead into gold. It has not been done yet, he said, because it is not feasible to work with electricity at a sufficiently high potential. The present limit is 100,000 volts. Prof. Soddy maintained that it would require at least [illegible] times that potential.

Cripples and Orphans See Movies.

The first of a series of entertainments for the city's crippled children was given yesterday in Orchestra hall, when the management of the Auditorium and the owners of "Les Misérables" pictures reserved the front section of the main floor for seventy-five crippled children from the Home for Destitute and Crippled Children and the Chicago Home for the Friendless. One hundred and fifty children from the Home for Jewish Orphans will be entertained Sunday afternoon, and children from the Illinois Home and Aid society will be given a theater party this week. William Sievers, owner of the films, provided automobiles for the cripples and gave them the opportunity to see the heroes of the Victor Hugo story as real moving picture characters.

Russian Salad.

A REQUEST for "Russian salad dressing" arouses my curiosity as to what some c ok has, quite independent of tradition, given that name. As far as my experience in a number of countries goes, the salad dressing served with Russian salad is the mayonnaise alone, or for more exquisite salads a mayonnaise mixed with a bit of gelatin or highly seasoned meat jelly (aspic) melted.

In some cases if a fine salad is wanted each of the ingredients is mixed with a French dressing (marinated), and allowed to stand for an hour or more before they are put together, and served with)a mayonnaise. Perhaps it is the effect of the two dressings that my reader refers to when she says: "It is delicious, and I wish to make it at home."

As to how a Russian salad is different from a French macedoine or jardiniere (the gardener's wife's salad) it might be hard to decide, in some countries, but there is probably no doubt but that in Russia smoked salmon and other fish are used in it. As it became popular in other countries only the mixture of cooked vegetables has been used, peas and carrots being essential.

Russian salad in Italy is defined as "all kinds of cooked vegetables cut up together and served with mayonnaise."

The recipe for "insalata alla Russa" in the cook book of the city of Genoa may be translated as follows:

Make a good meat jelly; then a good mayonnaise dressing. Take mushrooms and artichokes for decoration. Cut up beans and carrots well and cut in thin slices a young and tender lobster, well cooked and removed from the shell. Take a little gelatin melted in water and add it little by little to the mayonnaise. Put into a mold first a little of the meat jelly. Spread them on this some slices of lobster; then a layer of the mayonnaise mixed with the gelatin. Then put on the mushrooms and artichokes with some pickled watermelon and a few capers. Then put on the mayonnaise and let it set. Turn out and serve

This recipe is certainly unique and purely Genovese. It is followed by:

MORE ECONOMICAL RUSSIAN SALAD—The first essential, as above, is a good mayonnaise. Then put together beans, pumpkin, the points of asparagus—whatever vegetables you choose, make them to mold and grow cold in the same way as above, and serve.

Artusi says that the thing called Russian salad (insalata Russa), "now the mode for dinners," has the fundamental characteristic that cooks slop together what they please. He states that he makes it simply of lettuce, beet root, green beans, potatoes, carrots, capers, little cucumber pickles, salt anchovies, and a hard boiled egg.

He cuts up and arranges these, according to his own fancy, and then makes a mayonnaise. He prepares a gelatin, puts a layer of it into a mold, and arranges on a layer of it different colored vegetables, et cetera.

The greater the cook the more elaborate is the mold of this mixture which he prepares. A quarter of a century ago about the only salad one could get in our large American hotels was this Russian salad decorated outrageously with chickens made of cooked turnip and all sorts of fantastic things made of beet root. It was the heavy thing which gave that false idea of what a salad ought to be, which we have not yet outgrown.

The following is a famous Belgian cook's recipe:

SALADE RUSSE—"There enters into the composition of this salad an infinity of vegetables. One can mix with the vegetables little pieces of fowl, of red tongue, of fish, the whole cut in dice, and some smoked salmon. It is necessary that it be highly seasoned and served cold. Cut in little dice a handful of cooked potatoes, carrots, and beet roots. Put into a bowl with the same quantities of little pieces of cauliflower, not cooked too soft, some green beans in dice, some fine peas, a quarter of a pound of smoked salmon, some filets of sole or other fish, the whole cut in pieces of the same size. Season with salt, pepper, oil and vinegar; cover and let marinate for some hours. Add at the moment of serving three or four tablespoons of 'mayonnaise à la gelée' (with gelatin) well seasoned, which you have beaten to a cream on ice. Dress in a dome form and cover with mayonnaise. Decorate with details of pickles, of beet root cut in rounds and crescents, with capers and filets of anchovy."

Laura Jean Libbey's Advice

By Laura Jean Libbey

The number of letters received daily from correspondents who wish to be answered through the columns of "The Tribune" is so large in comparison with the space allotted to those answers that there is necessarily some delay in replying to many of the questions asked of Miss Libbey.

If you wish a prompt reply inclose in your letter a stamped, addressed envelope.

Neglected Opportunity.

[Copyright: 1913: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

"Golden opportunity
Is never offered twice; seize then the hour
When fortune smiles and duty points the way."

AN old lady once remarked, "If our foresight was as good as our hindsight we wouldn't have to stop to consider which was best." It is not quite as important for a young girl to weigh each step which she takes or to look upon every man she meets in the light of a would-be lover. But it is different with the woman whose chances for matrimony are becoming fewer and far between.

Opportunity may not knock at her door as often as in her younger days. The man who would a-wooing come may not be as well off in this world's goods as the amount of fortune which she has considered necessary to have. She has turned him away and said him "nay" and let slip perhaps the last opportunity of becoming a bride.

There is no one living to whom this thoughth has not come: "If life could only be lived over again we would not neglect its golden opportunities, which were so ruthlessly cast aside."

There are women who say that they have no opportunity of meeting marriageable men. There are other women similarly situated who make their own opportunities by refusing to stay indoors if the way presents itself of getting out and going hither and thither.

These may be said to make their good opportunities instead of neglecting them. No one should cry out against fate and its cruelty toward them. If they look the matter in the face squarely they will be apt to discover that it was a case of opportunity neglected on their part.

We cannot all have the power to hold the guiding reins to turn our future into sunny paths. But we can at least grasp the golden opportunities which present themselves to us ere they take wings and soar beyond our reach. One should ever be on the watch for opportunities which come to us and make the most of them.

An Appropriate Gift.

"Dear Miss Libbey: Since every girl expects and appreciates a little gift on such occasions as Christmas, Easter, her birthday, St. Valentine's day, etc., please give me the idea of what would be appropriate for one of very moderate means to present on occasions throughout the whole year. The particular birthday occurs after the middle of October. Your information will be appreciated. LEROY."

If you are not engaged to the girl flowers and candy are the very nicest things that you could send on any of the occasions you name. If you are engaged some little piece of silver for her dressing table, gloves, or a favorite picture might be sent for Christmas or birthday. Flowers for Easter and heart shaped boxes of candy for St. Valentine's day are most appropriate even for the engaged girl.

Shall She Tell Her Friend?

"Dear Miss Libbey: Which would you consider true friendship? A girl who discloses to a girl friend the fact that her father isn't worthy of a girl's company, to keep a friend from accepting his invitations, or a girl who, to save her own pride and keep her family affairs to herself, lets the friend accept the father's invitations without knowing the father has deserted his family for other women? Which is the correct thing to do in this case, and which girl would really be the true friend? E. M. S."

It would be a greater act of friendship to acquaint the girl with the fact that the man she is going about with is a wife deserter. Instead of breaking the friendship, I am sure the girl would feel deeply grateful for being saved the misery and unhappiness that would follow such an affair.

Marion Harland's Helping Hand.

By Marion Harland

Graham Nut Bread.

ONE and one-half cups graham flour, two cups white flour (or two cups graham flour and one and one-half cups white flour), one cup nuts, two cups sweet milk, one cup sugar, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder. Bake thirty or forty minutes and wrap in flannel while warm.—Kindness of a reader.

Roquefort Cheese Salad Dressing.

Make an ordinary French dressing of one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon white pepper, three tablespoons olive oil, one tablespoon vinegar. Stir until smooth and thick, then work into it one tablespoon Roquefort cheese, which has been crumbled and mashed fine with the back of a silver fork. The cheese should be blended smoothly with the French dressing and put on the lettuce, as would be done with any dressing.—Request of L. B.

No Reply to Letters.

"I wrote to you some time ago for the address of a correspondent who offered music. You were kind enough to send the address of two persons offering some. I answered both, but did not receive any reply. Will you please send me the address of Mrs. O.? Thank you so much for your kindness. MRS. C. G."

The probability is that both of the persons to whom you wrote had parted with the music to earlier applicants. If you inclosed a stamp for reply the least they could do was to let you know this. If not, they were under no obligation to notice your letter. I am sorry to tell you that Mrs. O. has apprized us that her hands are likewise empty. I trust this notice may bring in a third supply of the music you wish to get, with request for your own address. I shall rejoice with you in the gift.

Lanterns for Lawn Party.

"We have a small club of girls, who want to give a lawn party. We have everything but lanterns, and we do not feel as if we would want to buy them just for one occasion. I wish you would print my letter in your Corner, asking some church or club that has old lanterns to assist us. MILDRED J."

Our junior members will take hold of the matter. Lose no time, as the season of out of door entertainments is flying fast.

Wants a Typewriter.

"Could you please find me a typewriter? I cannot afford to buy one to learn on. I will pay freight or express on it. An old one some one is through with will suit me. R. M. M."

We have procured two typewriters for worthy workers within a couple of months. Otherwise I should hardly dare to enter another application, so small is the supply and so great the demand. What the Corner has done it may do!

Disposing of Home Work.

"Will the woman from Panama who offers cotton pieces for patchwork kindly send a few to me? I read of the woman who made and sold patchwork quilts. Surely with your kind assistance I could do that. I should be glad to have a few dollars that were all my own. Will you tell me how I can dispose of such work?

"MRS. W. E. E."

If you had added to your request the initials signed to the letter from Panama we could tell you whether or not the pieces are still at our disposal. I wish it were possible to impress upon members the positive necessity of doing this in asking for addresses! With regard to ways of disposing of home made articles for the purpose of eking out your income, I have little to say. The easiest and perhaps the most practical method is to advertise privately that you are willing to make quilts or whatever you may choose to undertake at reasonable prices and to order. Have neat cards printed and send through the mail to your neighbors and townspeople. Make the fact known also in other ways, speaking of it to those interested in you and your work, and asking them to mention it to others. Get up a "connection" in this way, and when orders come in fill them to the best of your ability. I hold your address. If offers of "pieces" arrive you shall hear of them. Our cordial wishes for your success go with this.

Wheel Chair Much Needed.

"I want to thank you for your great kindness in publishing my request for a wheel chair and for your eloquent appeal in my behalf. I very much hope that some one who has a chair not in use will respond. Soon after I was first afflicted a friend of mine told me that she had two that her mother, who was an invalid for many years and had recently died, had used, both loaned. She said she would call one in for me, but, thanking her, I declined. I did not care to benefit if some poor creature must lose what I should gain. GEORGE R. M."

Should your first letter fail in bringing the much needed wheeled chair let us know, that we may make a second effort to procure one. Your self-denial in favor of "some other poor soul" should be recognized and rewarded. It will be, of course, in the long run. Be it our privilege to make the "run" shorter!

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

If you prefer to have your question answered by individual letter please send stamped envelope.

EUGENE R.: The habit of sleeping with the mouth open results in dull eyes and a sagging, flaccid mouth, which in time displaces the muscles of the jaw. You may correct the defect by passing a bandage over the head and under the chin at night for perhaps a month. Sleeping upon the right side instead of on the back will also help you to overcome the habit.

MRS. I. K.: Iodine or witch hazel will help, but the main thing is to get the joint back into its normal position. To do this, first of all you must wear a shoe large enough to keep the toes from being pinched together. Put a piece of absorbent cotton between the great and second toes, large enough to keep them apart, then take an adhesive plaster bandage and bandage the ball of the foot firmly, holding the joint in place. By doing this the inflammation will soon leave it and it will become normal.

N. B. M.: When your face is red be careful in the color worn. A blue, yellow, or lavender frock will make you look redder than ever, while a scarlet one makes one long to put in a fire alarm. A pink dress, though it gives color to a pale face, has the power of lessening the painful hues of a burnt face. White does not heighten the flaming hues, but the best choice is a low necked black frock; not low enough to show a line between burnt skin and the sun shielded portions.

RUTH: Don't use cocoanut oil on your face. It is too heavy and will cause a growth of hair. Massage the face daily with a good skin food and at night when retiring put a good portion of it on the face to become absorbed in the skin. This will feed the tissues and will fill out the cheeks. I shall be glad to send you the formula for skin food with complete instructions for facial massage if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

ANNE: You are still a very young little girl, and I would not advise you to attempt to use any creams. Your neck has plenty of time to fill out. You didn't tell me whether you wanted to wear a ribbon on your hair or not. If you do you might part your hair in the middle and braid it in two braids and then put the braids around your head. Another pretty way to arrange your hair is to make three coils low in your neck. However, I think there is nothing prettier for a young girl than to wear her hair in a braid down her back. I think you are too young to do up your hair. I would wait a few years before putting it up. Plenty of time to wear it on top of your head. Don't make yourself appear shy older than you are.

B. H.: For inflamed or granulated lids the following wash is good: Eight ounces distilled water and one ounce of a 20 per cent solution of boric acid and ten drops spirits of camphor. Mix and use in an eye cup every morning. If the camphor smarts your eyes dilute it with a little clear water. Be careful not to touch the eyes with your hands if they are soiled. In rubbing the eye, always rub toward the nose. Be careful about rubbing the eye, as it is a bad habit and inflammation sometimes follows which may lead to injury of the sight. In going back and forth on the train or car give your eyes a rest. After using them all day don't read while riding, close them and give them a rest.

TRAINMEN ASK HIGHER WAGES; CITE INCREASED LIVING COST.

Expert Offers Statistics Before Arbitration Commission in New York—Charges Interlocking Control of Roads

New York, Sept. 16.—The increased cost of living was cited as a reason why trainmen and conductors should receive higher wages in today's hearing before the arbitration commission.

Dr. Frank J. Warno, introduced as a statistical expert by the trainmen, presented tables and diagrams showing comparisons in the prices of staple articles on Feb. 15, 1913, with average prices between 1890 and 1899. Eleven of these articles, Dr. Warno said, had advanced more than 50 per cent.

In further testimony Dr. Warno said that interlocking ownership among railroads worked against the interests of the employés. "We are dealing with the names of forty-two railroads," he said, "but in reality there are but five or six large railroad systems involved."

FUNK CASE AGAIN DECLINED.

Judge McDonald Refuses to Hear Conspiracy Trial, Transferred from Two Other Courtrooms.

Judge Charles M. McDonald of the Criminal court yesterday refused to hear the case of Attorney Daniel Donahoe, Isaac Stiefel, and Aileen Heppner, who are under indictment charged with conspiracy to defame the character of Clarence S. Funk. He is the third judge to refuse to hear the case. Judge McDonald made know his refusal in a note to Chief Justice Theodore Brentano, in which he said that in view of the "present situation" he would have to decline the assignment. Judge McDonald said he would give no reason for his action in view of the fact that the case was on the calendar for trial and he wished to make no statement which might affect the trial, set for Sept. 22. Judge Brentano's reassignment of the case is awaited with interest at the Criminal Court building.

"WAR DANCE" LEADS TO DEATH.

John F. Brady, 6 Years Old, Dies from Burns Received While Playing Indian.

John Francis Brady, 6 years old, 4080 South Fifth avenue, died at his home Monday night of burns sustained earlier in the evening.

With several companions he built a fire in a vacant lot adjoining the Brady home. They imitated Indians in a war dance around the fire. The Brady boy danced too close and his clothing became ignited and he was burned on the face and body.

His cries were heard by neighbors and they extinguished the flames by rolling him on the ground.

BREAKS UP HURLING DUEL

Benz Outpitches Johnson Until Lucky Swat Comes with Two Out in the Ninth.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—A measly low fly over shortstop, scratched off the handle of the bat of a lad named Spencer, with two out in the last half of the ninth inning today, terminated a brilliant pitched battle between Joe Benz and Walter Johnson in favor of the Washington star by a count of 2 to 1.

It was a magnificently contested scrap all the way and worked the crowd up to a high pitch of enthusiasm in spite of the fact nothing like a pennant was depending on its issue. Until near the close the advantage was all with Benz.

The Indiana butcher boy seemed capable of holding Washington down to nothing and making good on the slender margin of one run which the White Sox had pounded out of Johnson's speed right off the reel in the opening spasm. For six innings not a hit was made off Benz and only one man reached first base.

Trouble After Two Outs.

Two went out in the seventh inning before the break came. Then a pair of ringing drives down the left foul line wiped out Chicago's one run margin and would have copped the game right there but for some swell fielding which nipped what would have been the winning tally at the plate.

It was almost a hopeless battle for Benz after that because there was only an outside chance that the White Sox could make another run off Johnson this season, and the best the Indiana spitball artist had in prospect was a drawn game. Rallying finely he staved off what seemed certain defeat in the eighth inning. Then in the ninth it looked as if he were going to emerge safely from an even deeper hole when Spencer's Texas league scratch broke up all calculations.

Milan led that winning attack in the ninth with a clean single over first. While Foster was trying to advance him Milan took matters into his own hands and stole second with nobody out. Easterly muffed the pitched ball or he might have flagged Milan at second. However that may be, it was the play that turned the scale and it won because of its unexpectedness.

Winning Run Crosses Plate.

Foster and Milan then worked a hit and run play which also helped win. Foster hit to Weaver sharply, but Milan had gained such a lead that there was no chance to stop him at third, so Weaver had to throw out Foster at first. That put the winning run where any old thing would score it from third base.

Gandil and Morgan, who had broken up the game in the seventh, were coming at bat. After a brief conference Benz was ordered to pass both Gandil and Morgan without giving them a chance to hit. That filled the bases and made possible a double killing. Ainsmith popped a little fly to Weaver and there were two out. Spencer, youngster that he is, was allowed to take his turn at bat in that pinch and delivered, but had to have a horseshoe with him. He hit a ball close to his hands and popped it just out of everybody's reach in short left center, letting Milan in with the tally that stopped the combat.

The way the White Sox happened to have a chance to beat Johnson at all was like this: Weaver hit the first ball Walter pitched for a single, stole second, and went on to third because of a wild throw to get him. Lord grassed hotly to Morgan and was out without permitting Weaver to count. Collins struck out in this situation, but Chase delivered a two base blow on which Weaver meandered home with what for a time promised to be a fateful tally. Bodie flied out.

Johnson Holds Sox Safe.

That was about all for the White Sox and the way the mighty Walter mowed them down in the next few innings made everybody realize how fortunate the Sox were that they had one run in. Not until two men were out in the sixth inning did the Callahans get another man to first. Then it was Buck Weaver who soused a single to center, went to second on a wild throw to catch him, and stole third with the help of good luck. It did not help any, as Lord struck out in the pinch and Collins fouled out.

Meantime Benz was outpitching Johnson and looked as if he could go on doing it. In six innings only nineteen batsmen faced him and only one of them reached first base. This was Johnson, who got there after striking out in the third inning because Easterly missed the third strike. This slip by Ted did not prove as costly as his muff in the ninth, which gave Milan an unmolested steal.

Two were gone in the sixth when Gandil broke the string with a sharp double along the left foul line. Before the yelling ceased it was redoubled by Morgan, who whaled another fast one to left along the line. It went almost to the boundary before Chappell overtook it. Then a swell peg, brilliantly relayed by Weaver, nailed Morgan at the plate by a couple of steps, and only Gandil's run scored. That was sufficient to tie up the game and wipe out most of Chicago's chance for victory.

Benz Escapes in Eighth.

The seventh inning brought two White Sox hits together, but not until after two were out, and Johnson made sure nothing happened by striking out Berger. In the eighth it seemed as if the game were sure to slip away. Ainsmith opened with a single. Spencer bunted and Benz fumbled it, making both runners safe. Instead of blowing up right here Benz settled and retired the side. He struck out McBride and Johnson and let Moeller down with a grounder.

The Sox had a chance in their ninth. Collins opened with a loud liner to left, and it came close to getting past Spencer. If it had a home run was sure, but the fielder held it to two bases. Chase's grounder resulted in Collins' death, but Hal reached second on the play. Bodie struck out and Chappell grounded. The Senators were more fortunate in their half. Score:

COLE DOESN'T LIKE NEW JOB.

Former Cub Not Pleased on Learning He Is Awarded to Chance's Club by Draft.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—There is one drafted American association star whose heart is not filled with joy, although he has been burning with ambition to return to the big league. He is "King" Cole of Columbus.

Cole was coaching at the third base station in Minneapolis yesterday when informed that he had been awarded to the New York American league team. As soon as he heard the news, Cole dashed his cap on the ground and displayed other evidences of disgust.

The reason is that Cole was with Frank Chance on the Chicago Cubs and did not get along well with the Peerless Leader.

Worst "Bonehead" Play I Ever Saw.

Chicago.—[Baseball Editor of The Tribune.]—The worst bonehead play I ever saw happened four weeks ago in a game between the W. S. leaguers and the Pike A. C. With the score 2 to 2 in the sixth inning the Pikes had three men on the bases and two out. A high fly was hit to the second baseman. The runners all held their bases and the second baseman dropped the ball, then recovered it in time to force a man at second base.

SOX SYDELIGHTS.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—New York is next on the Sox list.

Umpire Egan left in the seventh inning to catch a train, putting it up to Bill Dineen to arbitrate the rest of the mess. Dineen replaced Evans, who was here previous to today's game.

Berger came in for a share of applause when he stole a safe hit from Foster in the seventh inning. It came just before Gandil and Morgan bit the ball for the first Washington run.

The Callahans left right after the game for New York, where they are due to begin a three day engagement with Chance's men with a double header tomorrow.

Johnson struck out eleven batsmen, getting Lord, Bodie, Easterly, and Berger twice by the whiff route. Benz was pitching some strikeout stuff as he fanned seven Senators.

Weaver made a remarkable play to get Ainsmith's grounder in the second inning and nearly the whole crowd stood up to cheer him as he walked to the bench, for the play retired the side.

Foster made a plucky catch of Collins' foul fly in the sixth inning. Eddie ran in to the corner back of the visitors' bench and pinched the ball just after it missed the roof of the grandstand.

Chase was caught off second base in the ninth inning by a quick throw from Johnson, but McBride failed to hold the ball and lost the out. It did not make any difference as Chase never got nearer to the plate.

EVEN BREAK FOR PHILLIES IN TWO GAMES WITH REDS.

First Contest of Double Header Goes to Tinker's Men, 4 to 3—Second to Philadelphia, 4 to 0.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 16.—Philadelphia and Cincinnati broke even in a double header, the locals winning the first game, 4 to 3, and Philadelphia capturing the second in six innings, 4 to 0. The second game was begun in a drizzling rain which continued almost throughout the contest and was called at the end of the sixth on account of darkness. Scores:

MACKS DOWN NAPS IN TENTH

Long Drawn Out Game Marred by Poor Pitching.

SCORE AT FINISH IS 8 TO 7.

McInnis Leads with Stick, Getting a Triple, Double, and Two Singles.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 16.—In a long drawn out game, marred by poor work by several twirlers, Philadelphia defeated Cleveland in ten innings, 8 to 7. McInnis, who led both teams at bat with a triple, a double, and two singles in five times up, scored the winning tally on his two bagger and Walsh's single. Score:

Defeat St. Louis Browns in Final Contest of the Season Between Two Teams, 5 to 4.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 16.—Boston defeated St. Louis 5 to 4, in their final game of the season between the two teams. After two were out in Boston's half of the ninth, Hooper walked and advanced to second on Engle's infield hit. Both men moved up on a wild pitch and Hooper came home with the winning run when Speaker drove a liner past Balenti. Score:

CLOSE RACE IN INTERNATIONAL.

Newark Leads Rochester by Game and One-half, with Season Rapidly Drawing to Close.

New York, Sept. 16.—The close finish in the International league race caused by the rapid slide of Newark in the last month and the steady climb of Rochester saw no diminution in interest as the result of today's games. Newark had a lead of a game and a half when play started this afternoon, and retained this margin over Rochester tonight. Newark won a close game from Providence and Rochester beat Toronto.

Newark has six games left to play, four regularly scheduled affairs and two postponed contests. It is possible these last will not be played off. Rochester has five more games on its schedule.

PURSE TO PETER BILLIKEN.

Lands 2:14 Trot, While Robert Nulrol Captures Coin in 2:07 Race.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 16.—A muddy track today made necessary the postponement of half the program, including the $5,000 purse for 2:12 pacers, and only two events were completed at the grand circuit race meeting. The 2:14 trot went to Peter Billiken in four interesting heats, and Robert Milroi captured the 2:07 trot with ease.

The fastest time of the day, 2:13¼, was made in the second heat of the 2:07 trot. Marigold gave the bay gelding a battle until they turned into the stretch, when Robert Milroi forged to the front and splashed home with more than a length to spare. Esther W. was distanced in the first heat, and the other four horses finished in the same positions each time they raced.

Vaster Takes Second Heat.

After winning the first heat of the 2:14 trot Peter Billiken broke, and Vaster led the field home in the second brush. Nuckols sent the chestnut horse to the front in the third heat, and after breaking once the trotter overtook Vaster on the stretch and won easily. Peter Billiken broke again in the fourth heat, but his speed and gameness were too much for the field.

The 2:12 pace will be the third event tomorrow, when the Michigan stake for 2:15 trotters, purse $10,000, also is carded. The 3 year old pace, postponed today, may be decided later in the week.

WOLGAST TO PILOT TROTTER.

Former Ring Champion Will Drive Nag Named After Him in Race at Cadillac.

Cadillac, Wis., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—The local trotter Wolgast will be driven by Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, in the 2:28 trot at the northern district fair races here on Thursday. The horse is owned by one of Ad's Cadillac friends. At Saginaw last week the nag took second place in the 2:30 trot. Ad believes he can drive the colt to victory. Wolgast is spending his time on his father's farm just outside this city. Some of the best live stock and the finest fruits from the Wolgast farm are to be on exhibition at the Northern District fair this week.

CUBS AND GIANTS GO FOUR INNINGS

Rain Stops Contest Started on Muddy Field, Neither Side Scoring.

FINAL CLASH OF TEAMS.

New Yorkers Go to St. Louis for Series, While Boston Braves Open Here Today.

BY SAM WELLER.

For some unknown reason the Cubs and Giants attempted to play a game of ball yesterday afternoon on the west side, but after four innings had been completed it was called off on account of mud and water.

As this was the last chance for the two rival teams to compete this year, the game will have to go into the discard as one impossible to play. Probably the only reason for trying to give a show yesterday was because it was the last appearance of the New Yorkers, and consequently there was no chance for a postponement.

The rain of the night before and the misty drizzle during the morning hours had made the grounds thick with mud, but by means of dry dirt and brooms the field was prepared by 3 o'clock so it was possible to start the pastime. Not more than 600 fans were present, so the money taken in at the gate wasn't worth playing for.

Shower Stops Combat.

When the first half of the fifth was started a regular shower struck the grounds and Umpire Klem called time. The shower lasted only about ten minutes, but enough water came down to spoil all the work done by the groundkeepers, and after Mr. Klem had tested the earth in various parts of the diamond he announced that the game was called. This permits the patrons to use their rain checks for any remaining game of the season.

As neither side could score in the four rounds, no one was greatly disappointed because the game wasn't finished. Bert Humphries was on the slab for the Cubs and Al Demaree, the Chicago lad who is famed both as a hurler and cartoonist, took the job for New York.

Both pitchers were in good form and none could make any progress over the muddy path. It looked as if the only way to get a run was to hit the ball out of the lot and then wade around. In the first inning Johnny Evers belted one almost to the fence in left center and by tremendous plodding made a two bagger of it. That was the only blow the Cubs made. The Giants had two safe ones, one being a drive to the wall on the left field line for two bases by Fred Merkle. Burns got a single before that on a sharp carom off Heine Zim's thigh.

Heine Zim Back on Job.

Heine Zim was back on the third base job after serving time for three days and went through the four rounds yesterday without even looking cross at the umpire. In fact, no one had a fuss, so the whole affair was awful tame and uninteresting.

The Giants left last night for St. Louis and the Boston Braves will be here today to battle the Cubs for a series of three games. Young Midget Maranville will be in the game, but we have to announce that he will have a fist fight with any of the outsiders. It cost him $50 to exchange punches with Joe Tinker last week down in Cincinnati, so he may have decided there's nothing in the fight game.

There is good reason to believe that G. Pierce, the dandy southpaw spitball flinger, will be on the slab for the Cubs today, as he has been resting too long to suit his highly strung temperament. He trimmed Boston the last time the Cubs were there. Jim Vaughn, the husky southpaw, also is primed for another game and might be chosen today.

PLAN GREATEST MOTOR RACE.

Entry Blanks for Indianapolis Speedway Race in 1914 Sent to All Parts of Earth.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—Speedway 1914 entry blanks for the 500 mile international race, approximately 600 in number, were sent today to all parts of the earth for the purpose of drawing the greatest aggregation of drivers in the history of the world to the brick oval next year in quest of glory and gold. No country is safe from their lure. Italy, France, England and Germany alike will be tempted to make us of them.

Entry fees have been materially reduced, being lowered from $500 to $200. A further reduction will be effected by returning half of this sum to the entrant in the event that his car makes a start. Should he fail to appear at the tape he will be out the entire amount.

Other changes from previous years are that each contestant must present a doctor's certificate as to his physical condition before being allowed to enter, that his steering knuckles and tie rods must be new two days before the race, and that aluminum steering wheels will be barred.

VARDON LEADER IN GOLF TOURNEY

British Professional Tops Field in First Preliminary Round at Brookline.

BRINGS IN CARD OF 151.

Ouimet, Amateur Champion of Massachusetts, Finishes in Second Place.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 16.—An English professional and an American amateur divided interest in the first section of the qualifying round of the United States open golf championship, played over the Country club course today.

When the cards of the thirty-three qualifying players were computed, it was found that Harry Vardon, South Herts, England, led with a total of 151 strokes for the thirty-six holes, with Francis Ouimet of the Woodland club but one stroke behind.

After the leaders came a long line of professionals, including MacDonald Smith of Wykagyl, with 154; Tom McNamara, one of the three home bred professionals, with 158, and Louis Tellier, the solitary French entrant, dividing the honors with the home professional, Alex Campbell, both having cards of 161.

The rearranged course was slightly over 6,300 yards in length, the yardage of the holes being as follows:

Out—430, 300, 435, 300, 420, 275, 185, 380, 520.
In—140, 390, 415, 320, 470, 370, 125, 350, 410.

Vardon Plays Up to Form.

The gallery which followed Vardon was well rewarded, for the English player held true to his reputation, playing sterling golf. His driving and mashie shots were well nigh perfect, and it was only occasional lapses in putting that disappointed. Going out on his forenoon round Vardon came through the first nine holes without the semblance of a flaw in his play and turned for home with 37, two strokes better than par.

On the trip in slight trouble befell Vardon on the twelfth and thirteenth holes, but despite this he turned in a forenoon card of 75.

On the afternoon round Vardon played more erratically, losing several fours due to indifferent putting, but recovering with some sensational mashie shots. He closed his day's play with a thirty foot putt on the home green. Vardon's card follows:

Out	4	4	4	4	5	4	4	4	4	—37
Par	5	4	5	4	4	4	3	4	5	—38
In	3	4	5	4	6	4	3	5	4	—38—75
Par	3	4	5	4	4	4	3	4	4	—35—73
Out	4	4	5	4	5	4	3	5	5	—40
In	3	4	5	5	5	4	3	4	5	—36—76—151

Ouimet Gets a 74.

Ouimet on his forenoon round played just as brilliantly and steadily as Vardon. He got both length and direction with iron and wood and putted better than Vardon. There was a burst of cheering when he turned in 74 for his first round.

In the afternoon Ouimet did even better on the outward trip than on the first round. He headed for home with a card of 38 and played smoothly until he reached the fourteenth hole, when he sliced into a sand pit. On the eighteenth hole he pulled into the rough, but a splendidly executed mashie shot landed him on the green more than 150 yards away. He just missed a twenty foot putt which would have given him a tie score with Vardon of 151. Ouimet's card was:

Out	5	3	6	4	5	4	4	4	4	—40
In	3	3	4	4	4	5	3	4	4	—34—74
Out	4	3	5	4	6	4	3	4	5	—38
In	4	5	5	3	7	4	3	5	4	—40—78—152

Frenchman Appears Nervous.

Louis Tellier, the French entrant, did not show anything startling in the way of play, being decidedly nervous during the forenoon round. He had a tendency to slice his drives and also missed some apparently easy putts. He was steadier in the afternoon, and playing a safe game easily qualified with the following card:

Out	5	4	4	4	5	4	4	4	5	6—41
In	4	4	6	4	4	4	4	3	6	—39—80
Out	6	3	5	4	5	4	4	5	6	—42
In	4	5	4	4	4	4	3	5	5	—39—81—161

Wm. H. Taft a Spectator.

Among those who formed the gallery at the home green during the afternoon was former President William H. Taft. He watched the play keenly and frequently applauded clever shots made by the finishing pairs. He said that he had come over from Manchester to see "just how the big professionals played the game," and that he regretted he could not remain for the entire tournament.

The players forming the second division of the qualifying round will have their chance tomorrow.

A number of notable amateurs and professionals will participate. Edward Ray and Wilfrid Reid, both of England, will divide interest with John J. McDermott, the present title holder in the professional class, while Jerome D. Travers, the amateur champion; John G. Anderson, the runner up to Travers; and John M. Ward will be among the notable amateurs.

WHITE MAY LAND GO WITH RITCHIE

Milwaukee Promoters Want Sheridan's Conqueror to Meet Champion.

LOSE ON RACINE MATCH.

Receipts Total Only $922 and Club Officials Face Deficit of About $500.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

The decisive victory of Charley White over Mickey Sheridan in the second round of a ten session bout at Racine, Monday night, will land him a match with Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, if the title holder will agree to make 135 pounds ringside.

Matchmakers from several Milwaukee clubs were at the ringside Monday night and White's quick disposal of his opponent, who never had been knocked out before, led them to believe a ten round bout between the local battler and the champion would be an attractive affair.

Tom Andrews, matchmaker of the Badger A. C., who has an option on the Exposition building in Milwaukee, stated he would make a special effort to induce Ritchie to meet the local boxer.

White and his manager, Nate Lewis, are eager for the contest.

Promoters of the Racine club lost in the neighborhood of $500 on the show. The house represented $922. Of this amount White had been guaranteed $600, and Sheridan fought for 25 per cent of the receipts. Mickey's share amounted to $231. The Wisconsin boxing commission received 5 per cent of the gross, or $46.10. Matchmaker John Wagner was not discouraged and said he would stage other shows in the hope of getting his money back.

Nate Lewis, manager of Charley White, yesterday received an offer from Akron for White to meet Tommy Bresnahan over the ten round route on Sept. 30.

Tony Caponi, the local Italian, and Jack Dillon of Indianapolis are scheduled to box twelve rounds at Winnipeg tonight. The result of this bout will be watched with interest, as the winner will be matched to box the victor of the McGoorty-Klaus fight to be held in Milwaukee on Sept. 29.

"Spike" Kelly, the local welterweight, has severed connections with his manager, Fred Gilmore. Kelly gave as his reason the inability of his manager to secure matches for him. Larney Lichtenstein will look after Kelly's interest.

Tommy Walsh, matchmaker of the West Side A. C. of New Orleans, who makes his headquarters in Chicago, yesterday matched Mike Glover and "Young" Denny for a ten round bout in the southern city on Sept. 29. The weight will be 145 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Joe O'Neil, manager of Johnny Ritchie of South Chicago, is anxious to match his fighter with Ruby Hirsch, "Young" Sinett, or Artie Armstrong. In a letter received from O'Neil, the latter states he is willing to pit his fighter against any of these boxers who will agree to make 116 pounds.

Charley Fischman, manager of Nate Kalb, wants to match his fighter with "Young" Sinett. Aurora promoters probably will stage the mill as the semi-windup in the next show, on Sept. 25.

KING COLE.

(A movie in four reels.)

First reel—1910—The King pitches the Cubs to the pennant and is the only successful hurler against the Athletics in the world series.

Second reel—1911—The King's misbehavior brings down on his head the ire of the P. L. The King, smarting under verbal abuse and fines, threatens to desert the Cubs and go to China. The P. L. tells him: "I'll pay your fare over there if you'll promise never to come back."

Third reel—1912—The King is traded to Pittsburgh and sold by Pittsburgh to Columbus. The P. L. "resigns" the management of the Cubs.

Fourth reel—1913—The P. L. signs to manage the New York Yanks. The King pitches for Columbus. The drafting season arrives. The King is awarded in the draft to the New York Yanks.

Old King Cole was a puzzled old soul,
A puzzled old soul was he;
And he said: "Well, well, now, wotinell
Are they trying to do to me?"

The big league draft gives fate a chance to play all manner of pranks, and the jade takes full advantage of her opportunities. There's the Cole case, for instance. Also, there's the Jimmy Johnston case. The Sox had an option on Jimmy, but passed it up because the San Francisco club was not ready to let him go. And the Cubs got him in the draft.

Then there's the St. Louis National league team. Badly in need of recruits, it landed one man, and his name is Noah.

THE SOX DRAFT.

Barber, Graham, Holstein, Reisburg,
Shavelin, Ashley, Pepe, Magee,
Shortlen, Roth; wished on this nice burg;
If amongst your crowd there be
One outfielder who can slam it,
Welcome to our open arms;
But if not, then beat it, damit;
Beat it hence, you false alarms.

We have little fault to find with the draft except that it gave another guy named Baker to the Athletics.

BUT HOW ABOUT EVERS?

Seven column line—"Have You Ever Noticed That He Who Talks Loudest Knows Least?"

First basing for and managing the Jake Stahls won't be much of a change for Jake Stahl. They've been going about as well as the Red Sox.

E. A. Batchelor, the noted Detroit expert, was here giving the Giants the once over, with a view to tipping off Tigertown fans to their prospects in the world's series. For Batch's benefit we'll state that no matter how the Giants look in September they always look different in a world's series.

The course of Washington's Love is running so smooth that one can't help doubting that he's the real article.

IF—

Detroit could give us all the laugh,
And make its knockers quit,
If members of its pitching staff
Could pitch like they can hit.

But suppose one of the men who took part in that New York-Philadelphia game should die before Oct. 2. Then nobody would ever know just how this pennant race came out.

We have it on good authority that when Bill Brennan asked McGraw: "Do you insist on the enforcement of the ground rules?" the New York manager answered "Yes" from force of habit and without knowledge of what Bill was talking about.

The news that M. Guillaux flew 118 miles in fifty minutes with a passenger, fills us with amazement and gratitude, the latter because we were not the passenger.

Why did they introduce Bat Nelson at Racine? Was there anybody in the world who hadn't met him?

John Alcock of Chicago spent Monday afternoon and evening at Racine. In the afternoon John had his first glimpse of Lake Michigan, a large body of water near there.

In the opinion of F. Merkle, the well known Giant, the National league directors should make the Phillies and Giants play out that last inning at Philadelphia at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and with the same bugs in the bleachers. Merkle doesn't care much, for it was he who had made the one out when the trouble started.

FOUR 'PREP' STARS JOIN STAGG CAMP

Foss, Corey, Agar, and Fisher of University High Enlist at Midway.

NEWS CHEERS MAROONS.

Newcomers Expected to Strengthen Chicago in Football and Track Sports.

BY MAROON.

Coach A. A. Stagg's roster of freshman athletes got its biggest boost of the early season yesterday when four University High stars of the first caliber enrolled under the Maroon banner. The new acquisitions, who will matriculate at the Midway university on Sept. 29, are Frank Foss, Charles Corey, Jack Agar, and "Mush" Fisher. Each of the newcomers will boom University of Chicago athletics in more than one department.

The announcement that the University High performers would join the Midway forces provided the Maroons with a large amount of rainy day cheer. The local stars have been rushed hard by several institutions, and Chicago fans feared they would decide to give their services to some other school. Their all around ability makes them as valuable a haul as the Maroons are likely to get from any one school.

Three Are Football Players.

Foss, Corey, and Agar expect to report for football practice next Saturday. Corey is a tackle of class and has a brilliant reputation as a track athlete. He starred in all the University High track meets last spring, winning points galore in the hurdles. Foss did the same thing in the pole vault. Fisher also did excellent work in the vault. Agar was quarter back on the University High football team two years ago and is one of the best of the Cook county sprinters.

The Maroons expect to draw heavily from the Cook county high schools this year, but uncertainty exists as to which athletes will enter at the Midway. Two or three Oak Parkers are possibilities for Chicago, and Hyde Park, Englewood, and Wendell Phillips also will furnish football material. A number of outside athletes who appeared in the Maroon interscholastic meet last spring promised to enter the university. They are expected to report for practice some time next week.

Three outside freshman candidates arrived yesterday. One of the most promising is Ayers, who played a year at Southwest university of Texas. Ayers is a tackle, weighs 170 pounds, and is strong in the discus hammer events. Miller of Polo, Ill., appeared at Bartlett gymnasium and took a short drill in track togs. He will try for a back field position. Sprague of Polo will arrive within the next few days.

Kansan a Versatile Athlete.

Another new football candidate is Lee of Junction City, Kas. Lee is a 167 pound back field aspirant and has a good reputation in track in addition to his gridiron talents. He is a sprinter and broad jumper and is so versatile that he wants to combine baseball and track next spring. Coach Stagg will be fortunate if many more of the freshmen turn up with all around ability.

Half a dozen of the Maroons exercised in the rain yesterday to get used to damp gridiron drill. Moulton, Whiting, Foote, and Remb introduced the forward pass and got valuable experience in this specialty under inclement conditions. They declare they will keep it up, rain or shine, under Saturday's official practice.

FIRST DRILL FOR WOLVERINES.

Only Three "M" Men in Squad of Twenty-seven at Initial Gridiron Practice of Year.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—With only three of last year's team on hand, Coach Yost today inaugurated the Wolverines' training season with two practice sessions. Twenty-seven of the thirty-three candidates who were expected to be present were on hand, but of the "M" men only Capt. Patterson, "Squib" Torbet, and Jim Ransford showed up.

The men were given two hours' work this morning in passing the ball and punting, and in the afternoon got a really strenuous workout. In addition to the punting and passing, two teams were formed and for a half hour they ran through some simple formations.

Capt. Patterson looked bigger than ever this season. He has recovered entirely from the injuries which prevented his best work in the big game last year, and he is confident of playing a vastly improved game this season.

Among the new men who looked good in the opening workout was Meade, a member of the reserve squad last season. He put in a half hour or more punting. He kicks a long, high spiral which is particularly hard to handle, and if he can get them away during a game in the form he displayed this afternoon he will be a valuable man on the squad.

Forbes Manager at Evanston.

Charles Forbes, a senior at the Evanston High school, yesterday was elected manager of the swimming team for the coming season. The squad includes five veterans, Capt. Gould, McCarthy, Foreman, Forbes, and Wheeler, and there is much promising material.

WOMEN TIE FOR GOLF PRIZE

Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Colburn Top Field at Glen View.

LEAD QUALIFIERS WITH 66.

Semi-Finals for the Club Title Will Be Decided This Morning.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Mrs. Edmund T. Perkins and Mrs. F. S. Colburn tied for first place in the qualifying round of the women's championship at Glen View yesterday, each getting a score of 66 for the twelve holes played. These were the first nine, the tenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth.

Mrs. Perkins finished the first nine in 49, Mrs. Colburn taking two more. At the seventeenth hole, 273 yards, Mrs. Colburn notched a three and this enabled her to tie, as Mrs. Perkins took five. Miss Louise Fergus was unable to compete on account of a severe cold.

Rain fell at intervals and four players defaulted their matches in the first round. The players will meet in the semi-finals this morning, being paired in the order in which they stand in the summary.

Results in First Round.

Qualifying scores and results of the first round:

CHAMPIONSHIP.

Mrs. F. S. Colburn [51—15—66] won from Mrs. W. A. Vilas [56—17—73] by default.

Mrs. E. T. Perkins [49—17—66] defeated Miss M. Knapp [61—18—79], 4 and 3.

Mrs. C. H. Poppenhusen [61—21—82] won from Mrs. John Slade [61—20—81] by default.

Mrs. C. E. Yerkes [54—16—70] defeated Mrs. H. R. Hixon [62—20—82], 4 and 3.

WOMEN'S OLD HICKORY CUP.

Miss D. Dox [63—21—84] won from Mrs. H. Pearsons [62—21—83] by default.

Mrs. A. Bentley [68—30—98] defeated Mrs. E. H. Adams [72—25—97], 4 and 3.

Miss D. Harvey [57—25—82] defeated Miss G. Chandler [71—20—91], 4 and 3.

Mrs. F. P. Davis [62—21—83] defeated Mrs. E. S. Jackman [66—20—86], 5 and 4.

THORNAPPLE CUP.

Mrs. A. McNally [77—27—104] defeated Mrs. F. F. L. Elting [79—27—106], 1 up, ten holes.

Mrs. R. W. Newton [69—37—106] defeated Mrs. C. E. Dox [77—22—99], 4 and 3.

Failed to qualify—Mrs. H. T. Holtz, 122; Mrs. F. Van Schlegall, 125; Mrs. P. J. Halla, 125.

The "one club" handicap for the players who did not qualify was not staged, owing to the unfavorable weather, but will follow the consolation handicap, open to all contestants defeated in the first match round, this afternoon. Candidates for the unique handicap laurels may choose any club they may desire and make every stroke in the nine holes of medal play with it.

Women Play at Windsor.

Women members at Windsor qualified yesterday for the Gardner trophies, and, despite the rain, there was a good turnout. Qualifying scores with pairings for the first match round follow:

Class A—Miss R. Sheehy [97] and Mrs. J. M. Taylor [109], Mrs. H. B. Judd [107] and Mrs. R. Crombie [110], Mrs. S. J. Chadwick [105] and Miss G. Curtain [109], Mrs. A. L. Burke [108] and Mrs. E. A. Bateman [110].

Class B—Mrs. R. H. Stirton [103] and Mrs. J. L. Sheehy [112], Mrs. M. B. Curtain [110] and Mrs. M. R. Stuart [119], Mrs. G. L. Franklin [107] and Mrs. F. H. Walz [119], Mrs. R. E. Gurley [110] and Mrs. J. D. Winsow [121].

Class C—Mrs. A. D. Wiggins [109] and Mrs. Tracey [130], Mrs. W. E. Hathaway [120] a bye, Mrs. G. E. Smalley [116] a bye, Mrs. W. H. Bishop [128] a bye.

Finals for the secretaries' trophies resulted as follows:

Class 1—Mrs. E. A. Bateman defeated Mrs. E. E. Harwood, 2 and 1.

Class 2—Mrs. M. R. Stuart defeated Mrs. R. E. Gurley, 3 and 2.

Class 3—Mrs. G. H. Keller defeated Mrs. G. E. Smalley, 3 and 2.

This is grandfathers' day at the Homewood Country club, and if the weather is fine a field of at least fifty veterans will compete in the eighteen hole handicap. The starting gun will be fired at 1 o'clock, as it is expected that many of the old boys will be followed by admiring family galleries. An officer will be detailed with each pair to prevent clashes between rival factions. Each player receives a half stroke for every grandchild he possesses, and this fraction is converted into a whole stroke if the grandchild is present at the tee.

Members of the Women's Western Golf association will compete in an open event at the South Shore Country club this morning.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS.

William (Billy) Papke, aspirant for the middleweight championship, today celebrates his 27th birthday. Papke was born in Spring Valley, a small Illinois town, the main industry of which is coal mining. It was in the mines that Papke started to earn a livelihood, but he did not remain at that occupation long before he discovered that he could lick the other boys in the mines. His success caused him to enter the ring, and in his first professional bout, which was staged at La Salle, Ill., he won from a boxer known as the Mexican Wonder in four rounds. More bouts and greater success followed quickly, Papke showing that he possessed a knockout punch. He advanced in the ring game until he finally was matched to battle Stanley Ketchel for the title, and his bouts with Ketchel have gone into history as some of the greatest in pugilism. He fought Ketchel four times, the first time losing the decision in ten rounds at Milwaukee. In their second battle Papke knocked out Ketchel in twelve rounds at Los Angeles and became champion. Ketchel knocked out Papke in their third meeting at San Francisco, the fight ending in the eleventh round. Their fourth and final bout resulted in a decision in favor of Ketchel in twenty rounds at San Francisco. Papke's fights have been few and far between in the last year, but he still is a claimant for the title, which is disputed by several other aspirants.

ANOTHER SYNDICATE PLANS TO BUILD DEFENDING YACHT.

Members of New York Y. C. to Back Second Herreshoff Boat in Trials for America Cup Defender.

Bristol, R. I., Sept. 16.—Another New York yacht club syndicate, to include Frederick G. Bourne, George F. Baker Jr., and probably C. Oliver Iselin, to back a second Herreshoff boat to compete in the trials for the America cup defender next year, is a strong probability.

Plans for this syndicate were discussed today at a meeting of certain members of the New York Yacht club. While Nat Herreshoff, the designer, has let it be understood heretofore that he would accept only one commission, that of the Vanderbilt syndicate, for a cup defender candidate, it is said that he is in a more receptive mood.

Another meeting of New York Yacht club members to plan for the new syndicate will be held early next week. Mr. Baker and Mr. Bourne, who are mentioned in the prospective syndicate, are already members of the group, headed by Cornelius Vanderbilt, which has placed an order for a seventy-five foot sloop with Herreshoff.

"PREPS" DEFI ATHLETIC BOARD.

Boys Will Organize Independent Basketball League if Officials Refuse to Reinstate Sport.

If the Chicago public high school board of athletic control does not change its decision abolishing basketball as an interschool sport, the high school boys will organize a league of their own and disregard the opposition to the game set up by members of the board of athletic control and several high school principals.

This was the assertion made yesterday by Van Gray, student representative of Hyde Park High school in the movement organized at south side high schools to restore basketball as a major sport.

Gray's declaration was made to Faculty Representative Miller of Hyde Park, who acted for George W. Steffens, president of the board, at a meeting of school representatives at Hyde Park High school yesterday.

To secure another vote on the question by the board of athletic control, it will be necessary for the students to find some member of the board who is willing to bring up the question at the meeting on Friday. It is thought Mr. Wiggum of Carl Schurz High will make such a motion.

Joe Sherman Downs Shelton.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 16.—Joe Sherman of Memphis, Tenn., a lightweight, was awarded the decision over Jack Shelton of St. Louis after eight rounds of snappy fighting tonight. In the semi-windup "Peanuts" Schiberl of Rock Island, Ill., defeated Ollie Bishop of St. Louis in eight rounds.

AT THE BILLIARD ROOMS.

Becker [20] won the rapid fire three cushion tourney at Weeghman's rooms, Barlow [16] finishing second and Goodman [15] third.

"Cowboy" Weston defeated Bradshaw, a Blue Island amateur, 125 to 52, at Fraser's rooms last night, the local player getting more balls than any of Weston's recent opponents. Weston will play at the Jefferson rooms tonight.

KILBANE BESTS JIMMY WALSH

Champion Victor in Twelve Round Bout at Boston.

FLOORS OPPONENT IN TENTH.

Loser Shows Clever Defense in Early Sessions, but Is Outboxed.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 16.—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, O., the featherweight champion, won a decision over Jimmy Walsh of Boston in a twelve round bout at catch weights tonight.

It was the third bout between the two men and the first decision at any of their meetings. Walsh apparently was much lighter than Kilbane and fought defensively most of the time.

Without offering a strenuous offense, Kilbane scored minor points in nearly every round. Walsh did not land half a dozen blows up to the tenth. Then he started an attack of left and right swings, several of which found their mark on Kilbane's body and neck.

Floors Walsh in Tenth.

The champion, thus aroused, rained blows upon his opponent, and one right uppercut sent Walsh to the mat. The local boxer apparently was dazed for a second or two, but sparred for time, taking a count of eight. Then he straightened out for action. Kilbane rushed him, but was stopped by the bell.

Except for the twelfth round, this was the only extended series of punches throughout the fight. In the closing sessions Walsh became the aggressor, but Kilbane checked all but a few of his efforts, then himself took up the attack and scored two punches for Walsh's one in the last two minutes of fighting.

Walsh Slips to Floor.

During the early rounds Kilbane made some futile swings around Walsh's head, so clever was the Boston boy's defense. Occasionally the blows landed, however. One left hander caught Walsh over the eye in the third round and made him wince. Another landed under his left ear in the fifth. In the seventh Kilbane crossed a right to the jaw, followed it up with several light lefts, and Walsh, entirely at a loss to evade the blows, slipped to the mat. It was not a knockdown. Jack McGuigan of Philadelphia refereed.

NELSON WOULD MEET WOLGAST.

Bat Seeks Go with Man Who Beat Him for Title—May Clash at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—Battling Nelson, former lightweight champion, was in the city today and issued a challenge to Ad Wolgast, who took the title away from him, or a ten round no decision contest here next month. Nelson has rested for several months and thinks he is in form again. He reports his hands in fit shape and thinks they will not go back on him again. Nelson accepted terms with the South Side A. C. for a match with Wolgast next month. The Cadillac scrapper has been wired for his terms.

'YOUNG' AHEARN SHADES FAGAN

California Middleweight Outpointed in Ten Rounds at Gotham—Worries Victor at Start.

New York, Sept. 16.—Bert Fagan, the Californian middleweight, made his first appearance in the east tonight in a ten round bout with "Young" Ahearn of Brooklyn. Although Ahearn conceded seven pounds to his opponent, he outfought and outpointed the Californian in every round but the first. In this session a heavy right to the heart almost knocked Ahearn to the mat. "Bull" Anderson of Brooklyn outpointed Tommy Bergen and Johnny Howard had the better of Larry English in ten round bouts.

CROSS NEXT FOE FOR RITCHIE.

Lightweight Champion Engaged for Ten Round Bout in New York in October.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 16.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, announced tonight he had been engaged for a ten round boxing bout with Leach Cross in New York. Ritchie said the date had not been fixed, but that he thought the fight would take place early in October. He will leave tomorrow for the east.

Clabby to Meet Petroskey.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 16.—Jimmy Clabby, the Milwaukee middleweight, and "Sailor" Petroskey have been matched for a twenty round fight here on Oct. 2. The weight will be 158 pounds at 3 p. m.

COACH JONES WANTS BEARCATS

Reprimands Player Who Apologizes for a Hard Smash and Says Yale Men Must Be Fighters.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 16.—"Excuse me, old man, I did not mean to get into you so hard," said a big fellow after he had smashed pretty heavily through a guard during the football practice at Yale field today.

Head Coach Howard Jones heard the remark, and striding up to the men, said to the apologizing candidate:

"Here, you, what are you excusing yourself for? You're here to play football, not to make excuses. If some one gets a hard knock in this game it's all in the day's work. This is a man's game. I want every one of you to go in and fight and fight hard. And I don't want to hear any more of this 'excuse me' business. Now give us your signal, Mr. Quarterback."

The men were having breaking through drill at the time and the work was roughing up considerably. Coach Jones' remarks indicated to the men the kind of work they were expected to do and the manner of team he was planning to bring out.

The schedule of work for the candidates this week includes a forenoon drill of two hours and another in the afternoon of about the same length. All of the men are in good condition and no injuries have been reported.

BADGERS START WORK TODAY.

Players Will Take Initial Gridiron Drill at Madison—Regular Practice to Begin Saturday.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 16.—The first of the 1913 football candidates at the University of Wisconsin will arrive in Madison tomorrow ready for work.

Practice under regular coaches will not begin until Saturday, under the conference rulings, but the men may do as much cavorting around on their own time as they wish to. The lower campus and Camp Randall will be the scene of this preseason rehearsing, and there will be plenty of the faithful on the side lines to scrutinize the early work of the Badger hopefuls.

The loss of Bellows and Hinman by their failure to return is giving more concern to the coaches than was first thought. Bellows was the best bet for the quarter back position vacated by Eddie Gillette, and Hinman was expected to fill Van Riper's place at half back. To this extent the prospects for the team are not the brightest.

GOOD MATERIAL FOR PURPLE.

Students Hope for Strong Football Team This Season—Heavyweights in Back Field Squad.

With the return of Wilbur Hightower, last year's star quarter back, Northwestern university students are hopeful for a good football team this season. Official practice will not begin until Saturday, when school opens, but many of the players already are at work on Northwestern field.

Coach Grady yesterday declared the material is very promising.

"We will have a heavier back field than last year, or for several years," he said yesterday. "All the candidates for back field positions are heavy men.

"The line may be a little lighter than last year, but we have some star material."

Every Woman Should Have a Molded Dress Form

Whether she makes her own clothes at home or deals with a dressmaker, she needs the Molded Dress Form. It is a truly wonderful invention that does away with tiresome hours of standing up to be fitted, and assures stylish, perfectly fitting suits, waists and dresses. The Molded Form is an exact reproduction of your own living figure, made by a new process that preserves every line and curve, and your natural pose. This page clearly shows how the Molded Form is different from anything you have known or tried, and tells why it is used in Chicago's fashionable shops and endorsed by home dressmakers everywhere.

FOR THE NEXT THIRTY DAYS WE OFFER A BIG REDUCTION FROM THE PRICE OF ANY MOLDED DRESS FORM TO EVERY WOMAN WHO WILL BRING IN THE COUPON PRINTED ON THIS PAGE

Your Molded Dress Form may be sent to the dressmaker. Repeated visits for fitting are then quite unnecessary.

Our Latest Sensation

We have ready a new type of Molded Dress Form that can be adjusted to meet any variations in your figure. As you become thinner or stouter this model will always reproduce your contour correctly and can also be adjusted to conform with different styles and fit of corset. Satisfaction is guaranteed or your money refunded.

With a Molded Dress Form in the home you can study your ... lines and make for yourself stylish, well-fitting dresses.

Made From an Actual Impression of Your Own Figure

The unequaled merit of the Molded Dress Form lies in our exclusive process of production. A MAGIC JACKET—two layers of fabric with a soft and plastic material inside—is carefully fitted to your figure, as shown in the picture below. In a few minutes this inner layer sets hard and rigid as a board, thus retaining your every line and curve. From this perfect cast we make the papier-mache form which faithfully reproduces neck, shoulders, bust, waist and hips—in fact, your very self. The form is then set on a stand at your exact height and natural position, so that you can even turn the hem of your skirt.

The whole fitting "operation" is brief and pleasant. We have comfortable private service rooms and expert lady attendants. The whole process is shown in these pictures.

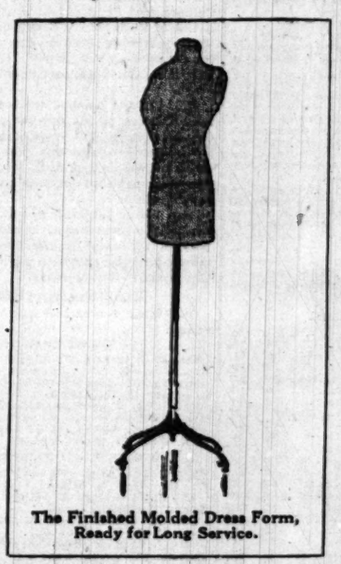

The Soft, Pliable Jacket Ready to Mold to Your Figure.

Simple but Effective Way of Doing the Molding.

The Jacket—Hard and Rigid—an Exact Impression of Your Figure.

The Finished Molded Dress Form, Ready for Long Service.

THE ONE BEST FORM

Remember that Molded Dress Forms are totally different from any other form on the market. In the first place they are the only ones to give a scientifically exact replica of your living, breathing figure in its natural pose. Molded Forms make it easy to fit any garment, to drape waists and hang skirts—in a word, to get the modish effect you want. They are your deliverance from the fatigue, worry and uncertainty of dress fitting.

Molded Forms are made of best quality 4 and 5 ply papier-mache, and covered with soft, thick material you can pin to. They are light, durable and practically indestructible—have no wadding to sag, no sawdust stuffing to grow lumpy, no plaster to soften and break. Molded Forms are strongly mounted on a metal stand to give proper height.

Mme. Ripley, leading Modiste and Head of the Chicago Dressmakers' Club, says of the Molded Dress Form:

"I received my Form and am delighted with it. Your method of obtaining a duplicate of the living figure is the best and most accurate of any I have knowledge of, and I shall recommend you to my clientele." (Signed) MME. A. RIPLEY

Opinions of Other Dressmakers and Home Users

"Have purchased five different dress forms and the Molded is the first one to prove successful."

"Since my Molded Form came home I have made over all my last season's clothes and saved several times the price of the Form."

"I wouldn't take one hundred dollars for my Molded Form if I couldn't get another."

"I always had such trouble with my yoke and collar, but that is all past. The form seems to be perfect."

"I finish my dresses on the Molded Dress Form, even to the last stitch, and find that they fit me perfectly."

"I bought an 'adjustable' stock form two months ago but I can't use it. So I want a Molded Form. The process is wonderful."

WILSON OUTLINES NEW TRUST POLICY; PLANS RIGID CURB

President and McReynolds Confer on Course to Be Used Against Combines.

PACIFICS CASE A MODEL

Hope to Avoid Weakness Apparent in Standard Oil and Tobacco Decisions.

INSISTS ON REAL COMPETITION

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—A comprehensive trust policy, designed to enforce effectively the Sherman law and carry out the provisions of the Democratic platform has been decided on by President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds.

The two officials today discussed the suits which have been instituted and those to be inaugurated. It is no secret that Mr. McReynolds is dissatisfied with the results of the court decrees entered under the last administration "dissolving" the Standard Oil and the tobacco trusts. These combinations and their subsidiaries have been under investigation to determine whether or not they have been operating as independent units, as prescribed by the order of the United States supreme court. Mr. McReynolds holds the government should take action to make the supreme court decree effective.

The administration does not care to disturb business too much at this time, when the tariff is undergoing revision and the currency system is being reformed. Nevertheless, the president is in full sympathy with his attorney general's purpose to apply rigidly the Sherman law.

Pacifics' Case an Example.

It is not generally known that the policy adopted in the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific case is the Wilson administration's remedy for the settlement of the trust evil. In that case the plan of dissolution adopted was designed particularly with a view to avoiding the results in the Standard Oil and tobacco trust cases.

The criticism of the plans followed in those cases was that the various competitive units which had composed the combination were placed in control of practically one set of stockholders, who were the same persons who brought about the combination.

Several plans of dissolution proposed by the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific combination were rejected by Mr. McReynolds because he did not consider them adequate to guard against a result similar to that in the Standard Oil and tobacco cases.

Decree Ended Two Combines.

In breaking up the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific combination the attorney general also succeeded in discontinuing the control of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad by the Pennsylvania railroad. The plan approved by Mr. McReynolds was that out of the total holdings of $126,650,000 of the stock of the Southern Pacific company by the Union Pacific company $38,292,400 should be sold to the Pennsylvania railroad in exchange for its entire holdings of the capital stock of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad—namely: $42,347,200.

Obviously that exchange helped to separate the Southern Pacific company from the Union Pacific company and to break up the unlawful combination between them. Furthermore, it divested the Pennsylvania railroad company of a large amount of the capital stock of an active competitor—the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company—and thereby remedied another highly objectionable condition.

Nor was any new combination in restraint of trade created by the exchange, since the Pennsylvania system and the Southern Pacific system are noncompetitive and the Union Pacific system and the Baltimore and Ohio system are noncompetitive.

Provides for Future Events.

It was recognized, however, that while at present no federal law forbids one railroad company from owning stock in another noncompetitive line, congress may hereafter deem it advisable to change the national policy in that regard.

Therefore, in order that any future legislation by congress on the subject of the holding of stock by one railroad company in another, and also any new interpretations of existing law, might certainly apply to the holdings which the Pennsylvania railroad company and the Union Pacific railroad company would acquire by the proposed exchange upon the insistence of the government, a condition was inserted in the decree providing that the decree shall not be construed as affecting the obligations, rights, or duties of any person or corporation not a party to the case, and that it should not be construed as an adjudication that any of the defendants has the right to acquire or hold the shares of stock sold.

Safeguards Future Action.

It was especially stipulated that the transfer of stock should not be an exemption of any of the railroads from the operation of any law now in force or which may hereafter be enacted.

Much the same policy is to be pursued in connection with the decrees which Mr. McReynolds hopes to obtain as a result of the suits instituted against the anthracite coal trust, the telephone combination, and the photographic film trust and the bill he expects to file against the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad combination.

It is understood that in all suits against trusts under this administration the courts will be asked to require the stocks of the constituent companies composing the combination to be disposed of to persons not stockholders, or agents, or otherwise under the direction or control of the parent company.

A Sea Monster for Chicago Chop Suey.

Many strange freaks and curiosities float into the great South Water street market daily. Yesterday brought the "catch of the season"—a giant gausa or "tautaug," as it is called by the Chinese. It was packed in a box by itself, and came in a carload of red snappers consigned to the R. M. Walker fish market, 112 West South Water street. It was caught in the Gulf of Mexico and weighed 252 pounds. From tip to tip it measured 6 feet 9 inches, and its girth measurement was 104 inches. One of the market men put a good sized fish keg in its mouth. The gausa is favored by the Chinese for use in a variety of chop suey.

VETERANS HONOR WAR TIME NURSE

Aged Woman Among Speakers of Day at G. A. R. National Encampment.

SERVED AT GETTYSBURG.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—Mrs. Clarissa Dye of Philadelphia, one of the few surviving nurses who served during and after the battle of Gettysburg, supplied the real features of the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic today. She spoke at a breakfast given in honor of high officials of the G. A. R. and subsidiary organizations. Survivors of both armies have commented upon the disappearance of sectional feeling.

"It is nothing new for me to mingle with the southern people," said Mrs. Dye. "I was a volunteer nurse, sent to serve the wounded of Pickett's famous command, and those boys of the south captured my heart. I cooled their brows, gave them water, smoothed their pillows, and spoke words of comfort to the dying. There were acres of them.

"Whenever I tended them there would be a 'God bless you, ma'am,' and those prayers have followed me since. At Gettysburg I hung out my sign, and every day, from morning till night, I had to hold a reception for the boys who have lived from that day fifty years ago."

Big Parade Comes Today.

Business sessions were begun during the day by several allied organizations. Interests of the veterans, however, is centered largely in the always impressive parade scheduled for tomorrow.

A novel feature of the parade promises to be the participation of N. B. Forrest camp, United Confederate Veterans. This unexpected innovation resulted from a special invitation extended to the camp today by Commander in Chief Alfred B. Beers of the G. A. R. and accepted by Col. L. T. Dickinson of the Forest camp. The confederate veterans were invited to wear their gray uniforms.

The department of Michigan at a conference decided to withdraw the invitation for the next encampment at Detroit. This leaves only Houston, Tex., and Mobile, Ala., in the field.

Interest Centers About Election.

Interest increases in the approaching election of officers. Several caucuses were held by representatives of various departments. It was generally believed tonight that the choice of the next commander-in-chief would be between Gen. C. E. Adams of Superior, Neb., and former Congressman Washington Gardner of Michigan.

A resolution was adopted favoring the erection in this city of a peace monument. A similar resolution was adopted three months ago by the United Confederate Veterans at their reunion here.

POLICE MAKE A DOUBLE PLAY; DAY'S FIELDING AVERAGE .285.

Make Only Two Arrests, Although Six Robberies Are Reported from Various Parts of Town.

Seven robberies and one pair of arrests for one of the seven made up yesterday's reports by the police department on the activities of the week end in local criminal circles. The double play gives the police a fielding average for the day of .285.

Nicholas Pape and Joseph Bavuso are the prisoners at Oak Park station. They are charged with robbing the residence of J. B. Berry at 416 west Oak Park avenue, of jewelry, clothing, and other effects worth $1,000.

There is no trace of the armed men who tried to enter John Sheriock's saloon at 1012 North Clark street, took $20 from a saloon at 4548 West Twelfth street, and $40 from one at 36 South Peoria street, nor the pair who took $23 from the cash register of a Greek restaurant at 1162 North Clark street.

Likewise the robbers who broke through two doors and stole $720 in automobile tires from the Pennsylvania Rubber company, 1004 Michigan avenue, are still free. John Johnson, a waiter at Henrici's restaurant, 24 West Van Buren street, and $67 which disappeared at about the same time he left, are still absent.

F. H. Mitchener, a guest at the Darling hotel, 4700 Racine avenue, reported to the police of the Town Hall station last night that he had been held up at the entrance of his hotel by three men, who threatened him with a revolver and relieved him of $20 and a gold watch.

STOLEN NECKLACE FOUND ON STREET

London Workman Picks Up $675,000 Pearl String; May Get $50,000 Reward.

THIEVES FEARED ARREST?

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Augustus Horne, a workman employed in a piano factory, entered the police station on Caledonian road at 9 o'clock this morning and handed the officer in charge a paper package which he said he had found on St. Paul's road, Highbury. The officer opened the package and found that it contained fifty-eight pearls, all but one of which were strung on silk.

The officer's thoughts flew to the $675,000 pearl necklace owned by a jeweler named Max Mayer, which had been lost in the registered mail between Paris and London, and for the theft of which four men are now on trial. Lest he should be caught by a trick, however, the officer sent two or three of the pearls which he had selected at random from the bunch to a local jeweler. The latter declared they undoubtedly were fine pearls.

Value of Gems Confirmed.

The next move of the officer was to telephone to Scotland Yard, where the gems promptly were sent. An expert said they probably were the gems composing the Mayer necklace.

Altogether sixty-four pearls were stolen from the registered package. Of these sixty-one were in the necklace and three were loose. The packet found by Horne included fifty-seven pearls in the necklace and one loose. Two of the pearls already have been produced in court as evidence of the theft of the necklace, and therefore there are only four pearls still missing.

The news created great excitement about Lloyds, most of whose marine underwriters are believed to be concerned in the insurance of $650,000 on the pearls. For the first time in its history the famous Lutine bell, which is used to announce the safety of a missing ship, was rung to indicate the finding of the necklace. The underwriters cheered and danced in glee.

Finder May Get $50,000.

The question of distributing the reward of $50,000 for the recovery of the pearls has not been settled. It was offered to anybody who would give information leading to the conviction of the thieves and the recovery of the jewels. Horne may get the entire reward.

The police had partial information as to the whereabouts of the pearls before they were found by Horne, and it is believed that the tightening of the net by Scotland Yard led those in possession of the jewels to save themselves by abandoning the necklace.

THAW MAY SEEK SUPREME COURT

Attorneys Plan to Appeal if Extradition Hearing Results Adversely.

FUGITIVE WINS A POINT.

Littleton, N. H., Sept. 16.—Counsel for Harry Kendall Thaw laid today the foundations for plans to carry his case to the Supreme court of the United States.

When the governor of New Hampshire passes on the matter of the extradition of Thaw to New York at the hearing to be held at Concord next Tuesday, the findings, if adverse to Thaw, will be reviewed by the United States District court, and should a decision against him then be rendered successive appeals will be taken until the case reaches the highest court in the land.

This was the announcement made by the Thaw lawyers tonight after the most notable court victory for the fugitive either in Canada or in the United States since his escape from the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane.

Habeas Corpus Writ Suspended.

The plan was made known after a hearing on a federal writ of habeas corpus obtained in Thaw's behalf and invoking the fourteenth amendment to the constitution had been indefinitely suspended until such time as counsel saw fit to begin arguments after the extradition matter had been decided by the governor.

Edgar Aldrich, United States judge for the district of New Hampshire, in deciding that Thaw had the right, in effect, to hold his habeas corpus writ in abeyance, explained in his rescript that this was the petitioner's privilege in that should he be ordered extradicted "it would still be open to federal authority to afford such protection as the constitution and the laws of the United States require."

Lawyers Leave Thaw in Custody.

Thaw's jubilant counsel, headed by Moses Grossman and L. J. Vorhaus of New York, left town tonight, leaving their client in the joint custody of the United States marshal and Sheriff Drew of Coos county, not to return until the hearing before the governor is called.

Not long after departed the head of the New York state forces, William Travers Jerome, and with him Deputy Attorney General Kennedy and Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county. They will come back for the hearing on Tuesday.

Thaw, according to the understanding reached, will be taken to Concord in the morning. He was quartered in Thayers hotel tonight, feeling fine and predicting that the gates of Matteawan would never close behind him again.

Restore System Abandoned as Bad Practice Under Cooley Regime.

TROUBLE OVER TEXT BOOKS

Another move interpreted as a step in curtailment of the powers of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, was disclosed yesterday. It came with an announcement of the functions of the new permanent committee of the board of education—the committee on commercial education.

The announcement was made by Chairman John J. Sonsteby of the committee at its first public meeting to Edward E. Gore of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Mrs. Young and the other members of the committee were present. Mr. Gore has been appointed, together with Eugene V. Kimbark, who is out of town, as an advisory committee of the Association of Commerce to work with the board's committee.

Members of Committee.

The members of the school committee besides Mr. Sonsteby are:

Henry W. Huttmann, Robert J. Roulston,
Charles O. Sethness, Charles S. Peterson.

No member ever has been noticeably in favor of Mrs. Young's policies. Mr. Huttmann was named by Mrs. Young as the one of the board members who sought to influence her in the spelling book affair. Mr. Peterson made a bitter verbal attack on former Judge William A. Vincent in a board meeting after Mr. Vincent had tried to defend Mrs. Young. Mr. Roulston has criticised Mrs. Young's defenders outside of board meetings. Mr. Sonsteby asserted at the time Mrs. Young resigned he would accept her resignation.

Takes Mrs. Young's Powers.

The committee takes away practically all the power of Mrs. Young over commercial education, despite Mayor Harrison's assertion she should be practically czar of the schools. As Mrs. Young expressed it: "The chairman of the committee is superintendent of schools on matters of commercial education. I am merely an adviser to the committee."

The nature of the committee was made known following the reading of a letter to Mrs. Young from Ginn & Co., book publishers. The letter protested against the dropping of a number of the company's books on commercial education.

The committee was organized at the board meeting on June 25. Its formation was embodied as a resolution within the report of a special committee on commercial education. The report was read by Mr. Sonsteby, chairman of the special committee, and he moved the adoption of the report, including the resolution. It was passed without a dissenting vote.

Mrs. Young's Friends Absent.

The chief supporters of Mrs. Young—Alfred R. Urion, Dean Walter T. Sumner, and William A. Vincent—were out of town. Those voting for the establishment of the committee were Mr. Sonsteby, Mrs. John MacMahon, Mr. Huttmann, Harry A. Lipsky, Julius Smietanka, John C. Harding, Mr. Sethness, Thomas Kelly, Dr. James B. McFatrich, Jacob A. Loeb, Mr. Roulston, Michael J. Collins, and Mr. Peterson.

The letter of Ginn & Co. said that firm's commercial arithmetic had been sold at a special price with the understanding it was to be used for four years. It was used about a year and a half. The firm asked the board to reconsider its action and make the text book at least an optional one with the teachers. The board placed the letter on file without taking action.

Adopt Books While She Is Away.

"This committee adopted new text books on commercial education when I was on my vacation," Mrs. Young told the members of the committee. "The Ginn people said they were going to sue the board in an effort to compel the board to reinstate their book. I explained the legal aspects of the case, and after consultation with their lawyer they decided not to bring the suit."

The establishment of the committee came when the members of the board were in the midst of cutting down Mrs. Young's authority on all educational subjects. On the day of the next board meeting Mrs. Young handed her resignation to Peter Reinberg, president of the board.

"Step Backward," Says Mrs. Young.

"The action of the board in establishing the committee on commercial education is a distinct step backward," said Mrs. Young. "The full significance of it was not generally appreciated at the time. I said nothing about it.

"The system of committees on educational subjects in the curriculum was abolished when Edwin G. Cooley became superintendent of schools. That was in Mayor Harrison's first term.

"I went to the mayor about the new committee. I am not in favor of it. Mr. Reinberg has told me it is not to be a permanent committee.

"Such a committee opens an excuse for similar committees on every subject taught in the public schools. Before the system was changed they had committees on everything. The chairmen of those committees were the real superintendents of schools. The supervisors went directly to the committee, and did not deal with the superintendent. Every committee wanted a large appropriation for its work. That is one of the causes of the downfall of the system. But it was found education suffered, and there was factional strife. This is the first attempt to revert to the old system."

LAWYERS TO AID MRS. PANKHURST

Suffragists Prepare for Legal Battle if English Militant Leader Is Denied Entry.

TWO ADVOCATES CHOSEN.

Woman Dean of Law College Volunteers Services; Women of Netherlands to Get Ballot.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—In anticipation of the possible refusal of the immigration authorities to admit Mrs. Pankhurst upon her arrival at New York in October, the congressional committee of the National American Woman Suffrage association today accepted the offer of Miss Emma M. Gillett and George MacDonald of Washington, to extend legal advice and assistance to the English suffrage leader.

Miss Gillett is the dean of the Washington College of Law, having succeeded Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, who founded the college, and Mr. MacDonald is an attorney and a student of immigration law.

Adverse Action Not Expected.

Suffragists in Washington feel that as Mrs. Pankhurst's conflicts with the law of England have been of a purely political nature, upon examination of her case no obstacle will be interposed to her entrance, and the advice of her lawyers will only be required if other than the expected action is taken by the Ellis Island authorities.

No champion has yet come forward to accept the challenge of Representative Heflin of Alabama to debate the equal suffrage question. The congressional committee is awaiting the return to Washington of several of its Democratic friends in congress before replying to the open challenge of the Alabama representative.

Equal Suffrage for Netherlands.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Sept. 16.—There is every indication that women will shortly be given the parliamentary franchise in Holland.

In the speech from the throne, delivered at the opening of the states general today, the new Dutch cabinet stated its intention of granting the vote to women.

The speech from the throne says that a bill is to be introduced removing all unconstitutional obstacles in the way of granting the suffage to women.

Democrats Ignore Suffrage.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—To the great surprise of the woman suffragists of Maryland the Democratic state convention today ignored votes for women. The Republicans favor it.

It was the general impression that the Democrats would insert an equal suffrage plank in their platform, and former State Senator Arthur P. Gorman was the champion selected to carry through the deal. The fight was carried on in committee and Gorman lost by a vote of 21 to 6.

Women Vote in Illinois.

Benton, Ill., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—Five hundred and seventy votes were cast in the special city election here today on a proposition to extend the city limits one-half mile east, west, and south, 487 voting for and 83 against the proposition. Of the voters 230 were women, twenty of whom voted against the proposition.

PAINTER TO KAISER SLAYS ENEMY IN COURT OF HONOR.

Slap in the Face Causes Tragedy in Presence of Tribunal Called to Decide About Duel.

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—Prof. Heinrich Maass, court painter and social leader, today shot and killed Court Chamberlain von Westernhager, courtier-soldier and captain in the army reserve.

A slap in the face led to the professor's act, which took place before the bar of a dignified court of honor.

There had been bad blood between the two for some time. In accordance with the code, they had agreed to submit their differences to a court of honor, which was to decide whether a duel was necessary.

The two men had just completed giving to the court their testimony concerning their quarrel and Capt von Westernhagen in a rage over some remarks made by Prof. Maass struck his adversary in the face. The artist immediately drew a revolver and shot the soldier dead.

BIG RAIL STRIKE THREATENS TO TIE UP ENGLISH TRAFFIC.

As Result of Sympathy with Dublin Dock Workers, 7,500 Men Quit at Liverpool and Birmingham.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The country is again threatened with a great railway strike, and Liverpool, as before, will be the storm center. The trouble began with the refusal of the Liverpool dockers to handle freight from Dublin, where the transport workers are on strike. Men to the number of 3,500 employed in the freight yards of the various railways went out today and were joined later by 4,000 at Birmingham.

That a complete freight tieup is expected on the Northwestern lines is indicated by a warning issued by the Cunard officials to homeward bound Americans to carry all their baggage with them on the boat trains.

AUTO LAMP TO SHOW SPEED.

Inventor Exhibits Light Device in Speeders' Court by Which Color Shows How Fast Car Goes.

An automobile lamp which shows a yellow light when the machine is traveling more than fifteen miles an hour, a green light when a speed of more than twenty miles and less than twenty-five miles an hour is attained, and a red light when the car is traveling more than twenty-five miles an hour was exhibited in Municipal Judge Fry's Speeders' court yesterday.

The lamp was brought to the court by the inventor, who wished to have the judge give it a boost.

"There is an ordinance in Chicago prohibiting the showing of other than white lights on automobiles," said the jurist.

LAKE FRONT WORK ADVANCES DESPITE FEDERAL CRITICS

South Park Board About Ready to Open New Land and Give Museum a Site.

CITY TO BEGIN ACTIVITY

First Step for Harbor to Be Taken Soon, While Calumet Plans Progress.

NO SIGNS OF U. S. INTERFERENCE

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

A large amount of work either is being done or is being planned to develop Chicago's lake front and other water facilities for both pleasure and business, despite various criticisms from the national capital.

What Is Being Done.

Among the actual and prospective activities are the following:

Enough lake will be filled in at Park row in six or eight weeks to tender the Field museum site to its trustees, according to South Park Commissioner Joseph Donnersberger.

More than two-thirds of the 2,250 feet under contract for a breakwater between Park row and Sixteenth street has been completed, preparatory to filling in submerged land 1,200 feet wide for a park and boulevard.

Proceedings soon will be filed for condemnation of riparian rights in front of Chicago Beach hotel, giving south park board title to all riparian rights between Jackson and Grant parks, except a city owned plat at Thirty-ninth street.

Ald. Littler, chairman of harbor committee, will ask the city council on Oct. 6 to survey Calumet river and lake. He wants the river's dock lines to provide for a 300 foot instead of a 200 foot stream, as the government has designated. He wants Calumet lake prepared for an inland harbor.

Ald. Littler will ask the council to provide for land for a turning basin in Calumet river, which the government promises to construct.

City harbor commission opened bids two days ago for a combination pleasure and package freight pier north of Chicago river mouth.

Lincoln park commissioners filling in submerged land for an addition to Lincoln park.

No Basis for Complaint.

Altogether the federal government engineers cannot well complain Chicago is not active. The criticism by Col. W. H. Bixby, chief of the war department engineers, who recently retired, is that the city is devoting too much energy and money to make the lake front a playground and too little for commercial and industrial purposes. From the work in progress, it might seem there is some basis for the criticism, but the south park commission apparently has no fear the secretary of war will insist that Chicago's program be altered.

The south park board desires to fill in a strip 1,200 feet wide, six miles long, from Jackson park to Grant park. The park board has obtained a permit from the government to fill in from Park row, south boundary of Grant park, to Sixteenth street. Application for a permit to fill in the remaining distance has been pending in Washington for nearly a year. Col. Bixby is reported to have recommended that this permit be not granted.

Garrison Comment Favorable.

When Secretary of War Garrison recently was here he looked over the ground with John Barton Payne, president of the south park commission. Mr. Payne declined to say yesterday what assurances, if any, he received from the secretary, but an employe of the board said Mr. Garrison had commented favorably on the plan.

Perhaps the best evidence of what Mr. Payne understands Secretary Garrison's attitude to be is found in the fact that the board officers are working diligently to begin condemnation proceedings against the riparian rights of the Chicago Beach hotel. It is improbable Mr. Payne would incur the expense of this lawsuit and the expense of obtaining title subsequently to the land unless he felt certain it could be used by the board. There is no secret that the necessary ordinance and court papers are being prepared and are almost completed.

The Field museum will be located on the north end of the Grant park—Sixteenth street—strip. The museum was almost lost to Chicago because of the near failure to provide a site within the required time. All excavations from downtown buildings in the course of erection, the dredging from the river, its branches and slips, is being dumped into the hole for the museum site. Early in the spring the park commissioners had a breakwater of 1,000 feet constructed south from Park row and later another contract for 1,250 feet was awarded. All the first contract has been completed and a large part of the second.

Start on City Pier in Forty Days.

The work for which the city harbor commission received bids on Monday probably will be started in forty days. This pier will extend lakeward 3,500 feet. The plans call for a width of 292 feet. The outer 500 feet will be a recreation pavilion. The remainder will have two decks, the upper one for pedestrians, light street traffic, and street cars, with dock facilities for unloading passenger lake steamers. The lower deck will be used for loading and unloading package freight, such as Michigan fruits.

In this same vicinity two other piers for freight traffic are shown on the city's harbor plan.

The city harbor plans provide for another harbor just south of the Chicago river mouth, but nothing has been done on that. Another harbor district on paper is located between Sixteenth and Twenty-second streets.

NETS $20,000 ON EDGEWATER SALE

Frederick G. Whiting Sells Sheridan Road Property for $30,000.

BOUGHT IT FOR $10,000.

John R. Thompson to Remodel 40 South Clark Street Into Playhouse.

A transaction of notable interest involving Sheridan road frontage in Edgewater has been closed in the sale by Frederick G. Whiting, general western agent of the Cunard line, to Charles B. Shaffer of 100x175 feet of vacant 100 feet north of Glenlake avenue. The lot proper extends back to a sea wall, but the riparian rights are also conveyed. The consideration is $30,000, which is at the rate of $300 a front foot, said to be a record price for that neighborhood. Mr. Whiting purchased the property several years ago for $10,000, intending to improve it with a residence, but abandoned his plans. The sale nets him a profit of $20,000.

It is stated that Mr. Shaffer will improve the lot with an attractive residence to cost about $50,000.

New Theater for Clark Street.

E. F. Keebler & Co. have leased for John R. Thompson to John Murphy, Patrick Breen, and Peter Kennedy as trustees of the Chicago aerie, No. 19, Fraternal Order of Eagles, the second, third, and fourth floors, being all above the store floor, in the building at 40 South Clark street, for 10 years, at a term rent of $27,000. The premises will be occupied as club and lodge rooms. The first floor has been extensively remodeled and will be occupied for theater purposes by Mr. Thompson. Mr. Thompson recently leased the ground through Keebler & Co., for 198 years, at an annual rent of $8,000 for the first five years, $9,000 for the next five years, and $10,000 for the remainder of the term, Mr. Thompson purchasing the building. The ground belongs to the estate of Hiram B. Peabody, represented by the Northern Trust company.

Twelfth Street Flat Sold.

Solomon Barab has sold to Philip and David Nashalman the property in West Twelfth street, 75 feet west of Francisco avenue, 25x125 feet, south front, with store and flat improvements, for $15,000, subject to an incumbrance of $9,700.

Morris Sugar has sold to Jacob Lavarsky the property in Douglas boulevard, 107 feet east of South Lawndale avenue, 26x175½ feet, north front, with flat improvements, for $16,525, subject to an incumbrance of $9,000.

The property at the northwest corner of Oakley avenue and Berlin street, 24x100 feet, with brick improvements, has been sold by Wladyslaw Kaznieski to Anton Ruchnieswick for $15,000.

George C. Newberry Sells Flat.

George C. Newberry has sold to George C. Kirchner the property in Champlain avenue 225 feet north of Fiftieth street, 25x125 feet, west front, with flat improvements, for $13,000.

Record has been made of the purchase by Oliver L. Watson from Frederick H. Hamberg of a farm of 193 acres, about five miles southwest of Palatine, for $29,950, subject to an incumbrance of $8,000.

There also was filed for record the acquirement by Francis H. Griggs by master's deed from the Chicago Copper Refining company of the property of the latter in Calumet township for $56,129.

Make Five Year Loan on Flat.

S. Yondorf & Co. have made a loan of $26,000, five years, at 5½ per cent, to Herman R. Misch, secured by the property at the northwest corner of Hermitage and Chicago avenue, 140x118 feet. Mr. Misch is improving the property with a building to contain stores and theater, which will represent an investment of approximately $70,000. The theater will have a seating capacity of 850.

Isadore Whiteson has sold for Jacob J. Bochll the 2 story brick dwelling with 50x125 feet of ground at 6018-20 Vernon avenue for a reported consideration of $12,000, subject to an incumbrance of $5,575.

The September meeting of the Chicago real estate board will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. It is the first meeting since the summer vacation.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—New Haven was under special pressure today on the local board and sold down to 89¼, a new low record. Boston and Maine common lost 3½ points and dropped to 61 and Boston and Maine preferred went down to 77, by far the lowest at which that stock has ever sold. The weakness of these issues was commonly attributed to the fear that the Massachusetts public service commission may not allow the New Haven to issue the $67,000,000 of convertible bonds which have been authorized by both the directors and stockholders of the company. Coppers as a class did not change much. Old Dominion, however, was strong and considerable interest was shown in Mayflower and Old Colony. The two Lawson stocks, Trinity and Bay State Gas, were made active and worked up on heavy trading. Call money, 3@4 per cent; time loans, short dates, 5¾@6 per cent; time loans, six months, 6@6½ per cent; time loans, year, 6@6½ per cent.

SHERMAN GETS AID OF LEWIS.

Junior Senator Will Not Back Candidate for Macomb Postoffice Unless Supported by Congress.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—If the Sullivan men succeed in naming a postmaster at Macomb, it will be only by the consent and with the assistance of Senator Lewis. This was made plain today when Senator Sherman stated he would continue to object to any man named who was not approved by State Senator W. A. Compton.

When Senator Sherman had Pat Tiernan ejected last week because he was personally objectionable, he consulted Senator Lewis to see if he would fight for confirmation over his objection. The senator replied in the negative and informed the press he would not work for any man personally objectionable to his colleague.

When Senator Lewis returns to his office here the latter part of this week he will find several thousand letters and petitions asking him to sustain Representative Stone of Peoria in the latter's recommendation of E. D. McCabe for collector of internal revenue for the Fifth district. The Quinn-Sullivan faction at Peoria brought out an eleventh hour candidate.

ZION COUNCIL OUSTS ALDERMEN

City Fathers of Dowie Stronghold Expel John H. Sayers and R. R. Owens for Alleged Election Misconduct.

Zion City, Ill., Sept. 16.—By a vote of 6 to 0 the city council of Zion City at a meeting last night expelled Ald. John H. Sayers and R. R. Owens, charged with misconduct in connection with the municipal election held April 15.

The aldermen were elected last spring on the Independent party's ticket. They made no defense at the hearing before the city council, but their friends declared they would appeal to the court in an effort to be reinstated.

J. J. HILL CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Founder of Great Northern Meets Rail Veterans at Glacier Park, Mont.—Now 75 Years Old.

Glacier Park, Mont., Sept. 16.—James J. Hill, founder of the Great Northern railway, celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday here today. More than 300 members of the Veterans' association of the Great Northern, headed by William J. McMillan, its president, attended the first annual session of the organization at the park. Twenty-five years of service are required for membership. The veterans presented Mr. Hill with a huge bunch of roses.

Teamster Sees Horses Electrocuted.

George Bacman, a teamster living in Washington Heights, had a narrow escape from death yesterday when his two horses were electrocuted by a broken feed wire in an alley between West Lake and Walnut streets, near North Wood street. Bacman saw the horses drop and leaped away from the wire.

REPORT AGAINST ENGINEERS' RAISE

Arbitration Board Says Chicago Railroad Drivers Get More than Elsewhere.

AFFECTS BELT LINE MEN.

Representative of Labor Unions Dissents on All Except One Conclusion.

The report of the board of arbitration hearing the differences between the engineers and the officials of the Belt Line and the Chicago and Western Indiana railroads, made public yesterday, gives the railroads almost a complete victory. The report was filed in the United States District court.

On the question of the demands of the engineers for more pay the board reported not only were the roads justified in not granting higher wages to the engineers but that the two roads already were paying their engineers higher wages than are four-fifths of the roads whose representatives were placed on the witness stand.

Report Signed by Arbiters.

The report was signed by W. J. Jackson, general manager of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, who represented the Belt Line and the Chicago and Western Indiana roads at the hearing; F. A. Burgess, representing the engineers, and Judge F. & [illegible] ton, maintaining neutral ground.

Mr. Burgess dissented on all except [illegible] the points.

Engineers in the transfer service [illegible] $5 a day of ten hours or less and 50 [illegible] hour for all overtime. The engineers [illegible] switching service demanded $4.50 for [illegible] hour day or less and 45 cents an [illegible] overtime.

Present Rate of Pay.

The engineers said their present [illegible] pay was $4.50 a day for transfer [illegible] and $4.25 a day for switching service [illegible] overtime pay in proportion.

One ruling in favor of the engineers [illegible] that concerning what is known as the " [illegible] train " service. Engineers in that [illegible] have been receiving $4.15 a day, with [illegible] portionate overtime allowances. By [illegible] ruling of the board their pay will be [illegible] creased to $4.40 a day.

BRITTAIN TO BUILD COTTAGES

Contractor to Be Allowed to Construct Houses for Tubercular Patients at Oak Forest.

Contractor John J. Brittain will be allowed to proceed with the construction of [illegible] cottages for the county's tubercular [illegible] at Oak Forest, according to the report of [illegible] special committee which met yesterday [illegible] consider charges made against him.

It was charged that Mr. Brittain had [illegible] jured himself in the trial of Maurice [illegible] Enright for the shooting of Vincent [illegible] some time ago, and that he had caused [illegible] ble for the city when he constructed the [illegible] nicipal tuberculosis sanitarium.

The committee heard a number of [illegible] nesses, among them Health Commissioner Young. He testified there had been [illegible] but it was not serious.

To Call U. S. Grand Jurors.

A summons will be issued within the next [illegible] days for a panel of ventremen to appear before Federal Judge Landis on Sept. 25. From [illegible] number will be selected the first federal [illegible] jury to serve this fall.

CHICAGO STOCKS STEADY AT CLOSE

Early Trading Show Irregularity, but Firmer Tone Develops.

PNEUMATIC TOOL RISES.

General Buying Causes Advance: People's Gas Rallies After Decline.

Chicago securities were irregular in price, but the tone near the close was steady to firm. Chicago Pneumatic Tool was the feature in strength, the price advancing from 54⅛ to 55½, closing at 55. The buying was general. Although it has been semi-officially declared there would be no increase in the dividend at this time, opinion in some La Salle street quarters is that the stock, which now pays 4 per cent, should move a little higher on the basis of prospects.

Sears-Roebuck common was active and firm, advancing one point from the opening, but closing fractionally lower. The directors have considered informally the distribution of 25 per cent in stock. This has not been determined and will not be finally acted upon until the money market assumes an easier condition.

People's Gas Sells Off.

People's Gas sold off in sympathy with lower prices in New York. Late in the session, however, the stock rallied from 143 to 143½. Belief still permeates the market that the financing to be done will more than warrant current quotations.

Commonwealth-Edison, after advancing to 149⅞, sold off to 148½. Whenever the market for the stock displays some strength it meets a considerable volume of sales. In the bond department Commonwealth-Edison 5s were firm at 101⅛. City Railway 5s were in fair demand at 100⅞.

Assets Realization Sells Off.

The course of the market for Assets Realization stock is rather puzzling to La Salle street. Last January the dividend rate was increased from 7 to 8 per cent and the stock advanced to around 126. For some weeks and until yesterday the stock hung around 88. It was 83 bid yesterday and 88 asked. Why the shares should decline from the date of the increase in the dividend has not been officially commented upon.

The shares are listed on the New York stock exchange, but have not been active. Cobe & McKinnon of Chicago were the organizers of the company. The present price of the stock, paying 8 per cent, makes the return nearly 10 per cent on the purchase price. This is rather large, if the dividend is to be continued.

Kansas City Railway.

There is no probability of anything final being accomplished in negotiations between the city council of Kansas City and the Kansas City Railway and Light company before next December. A tentative ordinance is being drawn, but important points remain unagreed upon.

On the general theory that negotiations will be concluded some time it is assumed the current year will witness a conclusion of the matter. After the city council has acted the ordinance must go before the public utilities commission and then be submitted to the people.

Bullish on Copper Shares.

Harry C. Hackney of the commission house of that name has turned bullish on copper shares and says of the situation:

"The increased demand for copper metal all over the world and the large decrease in stocks on hand [over 15,000,000 pounds] in the last month, indicates a runaway market in this country and in Europe. Copper is now selling at 16⅜ cents per pound and a possibility of 20 cents and more is inevitable.

"Dividends on copper company shares have grown larger, and 144 mines have distributed $80,000,000 in dividends or $98,000,000 in excess of their combined capitalization.

"We, therefore, advise the purchase of copper stocks, which are now selling at the lowest price in five years. The shrewd investors are picking up many low priced stocks that will show a handsome profit."

Interborough-Metropolitan.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Interborough-Metropolitan, J. A. Ritchie was elected a director to fill the vacancy. The remaining members of the board were reëlected. The board will organize at a meeting to be held within a few days, at which time it is expected a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent will be declared, and something on account of dividends in arrears.

Dividends Declared.

The S. S. Kresge company has declared an initial dividend of 4 per cent on common stock, 2 per cent being payable Oct. 1, and 2 per cent Jan. 1.

The Western Electric company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable Sept. 30 to holders of record Sept. 23.

The Kansas City Southern Railway company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on its preferred stock, payable Oct. 15 to stock of record Sept. 30.

The American Agricultural Chemical company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on its preferred stock and of 1 per cent on its common stocks, payable Oct. 15 to stock of record Sept. 26.

The Great Northern Railway company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable Nov. 1. Books close Oct. 17 and reopen Nov. 3.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable Oct. 15 to stock of record Sept. 30.

The International Nickel company declared a dividend for the quarter of 2½ per cent on its common stock, payable Dec. 1. Books close Nov. 14 and reopen Dec. 2.

The regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred was declared, payable Nov. 1. Books close Oct. 14 and reopen Nov. 3.

LATEST WALL STREET GOSSIP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—[Special.]—The possibility of gold imports in the near future has become a factor in stock market discussion. A break in sterling exchange late in the day on Monday and continued weakness today owing to a sudden increase in the supply of commercial bills brought sterling quotations to a point where it was evident to every one that the slightest hardening of rates here would make imports fairly certain.

The low price for sight sterling today was 4.8545. At 4.85 or 4.8490 foreign exchange experts admitted that it would be possible to bring gold over profitably if discount rates abroad remain unchanged, and that if cotton bills continue to come into the market freely it was not unlikely that the sterling market would decline further.

In some quarters the opinion was ventured that gold imports were nearer than was suggested even by the position of the exchange market, and that it was not unlikely that some international banking house might, by means of some special arrangement, announce an importation at any time.

Although the possibility of the importation of a small amount of good with exchange at its present level was acknowledged, the prevailing opinion in banking houses did not favor the idea that a movement on a large scale was at hand. The immensely powerful condition of the Bank of England suggests a situation of pronounced monetary ease abroad, but it might also be taken as suggesting that the great foreign bankers consider that a very strong condition is desirable at this time.

The season is approaching when heavy pressure upon the money markets of the world is always felt, and this year demands promise to be altogether exceptional. There are impending for instance, the necessities of the Balkan states, which have to be provided for.

Moreover, at the end of the present month a difficult settlement in Berlin is foreshadowed, although the probability of this passing off smoothly enough has been immensely increased by the unremitting and successful efforts of the Reichsbank throughout the present year to strengthen its position. Mainly on account of these reasons many people think that the low rates of the year in the money markets abroad have already been seen.

Of the four active stocks, Amalgamated Copper and Reading have both recovered all of the decline sustained during the present year. Union Pacific and Steel common, on the other hand, have thus far failed to do so by a few points. Amalgamated Copper sold today at 80½, against 80⅜ in January lost, while Reading's high of 169½ compares with 167⅞ earlier in the year. All four stocks, however, are from 10 to 15 points below the top of 1912.

Perhaps special reasons might be advanced to show why the two first named should be out of line with the others. Both in comparison with the high of the present year and the high of 1912, the extreme declines in Amalgamated and Reading were much less severe than in Steel and Union. Thus the spring decline in Reading was only 17 points, which, considering the character of the stock, is out of proportion to the losses of 25 points in Union and 19¼ points in Steel.

If conditions in the copper trade were conceivably to be the sole influence in the market for Amalgamated Copper stock it would seem as if a continuance of the present rise were assured. The statistics regarding the world's supplies of that commodity show that during the last three years consumption has gradually gained on production so that stocks of the metal have been drawn down steadily.

Total supplies on Dec. 31, 1910, were 160,000 tons, and on July 31, 1913, this amount was reduced to 61,744 tons. The copper producers' statement for August showed stocks in this country reduced 15,000,000 pounds during the month to the smallest total in years. The European fortnightly figures as of Sept. 15 published today, exhibited a net decrease in the visible supply abroad of 2,107 tons. It appears, therefore, that the improvement in the copper situation has been progressive.

If Canadian Pacific be given the full importance as a barometer of sentiment in European financial circles, and especially in Berlin, the latest move in the stock might be considered as evidence that the foreigners were replacing their holdings of the stock.

The outbreak of the Balkan war last October was followed by a tremendous period of liquidation of Canadian Pacific stock in particular and American stocks in general by European speculators and investors. German capitalists, with whom the stocks has always been an especial favorite, sold it freely in preference to sacrificing other securities of local concerns for which there was no worldwide market like that in Canadian Pacific.

Apparently the result was a transfer of big amounts of C. P. R. to this side of the Atlantic. At any rate, during the spring there existed an unprecedented market for the stock in Wall street. A huge quantity of the stock was turned over in this market at that time, and the price fell to 208½. Any improvement in sentiment abroad in the last few months obviously ought to have found reflection in the price of Canadian Pacific as soon if not sooner than in any other American stock.

HASTEN CURRENCY BILL WORK.

Democrats of House Defeat All Proposed Changes and Measure Is Half Completed.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—The Democratic currency bill continued to resist the assaults of objecting Republicans today in such successful fashion that before adjournment was taken tonight the bill was more than half completed, and some of the most important provisions had been settled. It was generally agreed on both sides of the chamber that the measure would come up for passage Thursday.

BIDS ON ARMOR ROIL DANIELS.

Secretary Notifies Three Concerns Identical Proposals Will Be Rejected Unless Production Cost Is Shown.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—With more than half a million dollars already saved to the government through competition on contracts for materials for battleship No. 39, Secretary Daniels announced tonight he had notified the Midvale, Carnegie, and Bethlehem Steel companies that he would not accept either of submitted identical bids for heavy armor plate unless they could show cost of production figures to justify prices.

RAIL STOCKS UP UNDER PRESSURE

New York Market Listless, However, with Trading Light on Other Issues.

READING MAKES RECORD.

Mounts to 169½, Highest Figure of the Year; New Haven Down to 89¼.

New York, Sept. 16.—Operations on the long side were resumed in the stock market today. They met with indifferent success. The position of the market having been strengthened by the realizing yesterday, following last week's advance, bulls sought to bring about a continuation of the movement forward. The pronounced rise of a few leaders failed to arouse enthusiasm and trading lacked the breadth of last week.

Reading apparently was selected by common consent as the leader in attempts to bid up the list. Copper shares, too, were in favor by reason of the further decrease in European supplies and the advancing price of the metal.

Reading at High Figure.

Reading, under the spur of consistent bidding, mounted more than 3 points to 169½, the highest figure of the year. Amalgamated also made a new high record for the year, by rising 2 points to 80½. Canadian Pacific advanced 5 points.

Various others of the standard shares made gains of a point or more, but fluctuations were variable. Toward the close selling pressure became greater and gains were mostly eliminated.

There were a few points of weakness. New Haven fell to a new low record at 89¼.

The rising tendency of the money market operated against continuation of the active bull movement. Money rates, which were advanced all around yesterday, held strong today. Foreign exchange rates again weakened and there was much discussion of the possibility of gold imports.

Bond Market Irregular.

Most leading bonds were inclined to sell off, but there were points of strength among the less active issues. Total sales [par value], $1,537,000.

United States 2s registered declined ⅛ and the 4s registered ¼ on call. Sales of the 2s registered were made at 97⅝, compared with 97¾ yesterday and 98¼ last week.

Money on call firm, 2¾@3 per cent; ruling rate, 3; closing, 2¾@3. Time loans stronger; sixty days, 4¼@4½; ninety days, 4½@4¾; six months, 5 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5¾@6 per cent. Sterling exchange weak at 4.8220 for sixty days, 4.8550 for demand. Commercial bills, 481⅝. Bar silver, 60⅛c. Mexican dollars, 46c. Government bonds weak. Railroad bonds easy.

Gold Production Decreases.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—Production of gold in the United States during 1912 amounted to $93,451,500, a decrease of $3,433,500 as compared with the previous year, and the lowest American production since 1907.

Fifty-Year First Mortgage 4½% Gold Bonds of 1911

Guaranteed Principal and Interest by

THE LAKE SHORE & MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILWAY CO.

Due April 1, 1961. Interest payable April 1 and October 1 in New York and London

Authorized......$20,000,000 Issued and Outstanding....$11,800,000

GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK, TRUSTEE.

From a letter signed by W. C. Brown, President Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway, copies of which are on file in our office, we summarize as follows:

SECURITY

First mortgage on the new double-track belt line railway which furnishes the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern with two additional tracks to relieve the congestion on the main line through the City of Cleveland, Ohio. Cost of property to December 31, 1912, was $13,201,530.71.

GUARANTEE

Each bond is endorsed as follows:

"For value received, The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company hereby guarantees the payment of the principal and interest of the within bond, according to its tenor, to the legal holder thereof."

PROPERTY

Railway is 19.64 miles long and is of the heaviest and most modern type of construction. The line traverses an important industrial district not heretofore reached by the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern and intercepts every line entering the city. The road is operated by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern under a 99-year lease, dated April 1, 1911.

Offering is made subject to all legal details in connection with the issue of these bonds being approved by counsel, Messrs. Spooner & Cotton.

Application will be made to list these bonds on the New York Stock Exchange

WHEAT NARROW; CASH LIST FIRM

Little Cash Offered to Arrive, in Spite of Liberal Bids; Spring Wheat Strong.

CORN HAS GOOD RALLY.

Advocates of Higher Prices Take Advantage of Decline to Buy; Oats Follow.

Trade in wheat throughout the session was exceedingly narrow, although the tone was steady, with firmness again shown in the September delivery, as well as in all grades of cash wheat. Final prices were ⅛ to ½c higher. There was little wheat offered to arrive, notwithstanding the liberal bids which were made for the same, and holders of the cash property in this market continue strong in their ideas.

The spring wheat markets were as firm, or firmer, with a perceptible falling off in receipts at Duluth and at Minneapolis, in which the latter market showed an increase in stocks of 260,000 bu for the day. Southwestern markets also showed a strong tendency and advices from Kansas City indicated light offerings from the country with cash houses buyers of the December delivery, of which the natural inference is that there must be some outside demand.

According to the weekly weather report issued by the government a change to cooler weather early in the last week brought to a close one of the most heated periods that has occurred in the middle west since 1901, and at the same time liberal rains occasionally relieved one of the most severe droughts ever known in much of the same region. In the spring wheat belt moderate temperatures prevailed and considerable rain fell in eastern North Dakota and Minnesota, but westward there was little or no rain, and thrashing operations were pursued under favorable conditions.

Clearances from the Atlantic seaboard, wheat and flour, for the day were 221,000 bu and primary receipts were 2,253,000 bu, as compared with 3,157,000 bu last week, and 2,742,000 bu last year. Bradstreet's available supply showed an increase for the week of 7,107,000 bu. Outside cash markets were firmer, ranging unchanged to ½c higher. Receipts were 170 cars, with 166 cars estimated for today. Cash sales, 145,000 bu.

Liverpool Weakness Ignored.

Wheat in this market appeared to ignore the easiness shown at Liverpool, where there was a decline of ⅜@½d for the day, the pressure coming chiefly on account of an increase in the European visible of 1,584,000 bu. Russian offerings were also said to be on a larger scale, which added to the bearish feeling in the British mart. On the other hand, Broomhall reported a poor condition of wheats in France and Germany owing to continued wet condition at harvest in both of those countries.

Paris wheat rose ⅛@⅜c; flour was unchanged to ⅜c higher; Antwerp wheat unchanged; Budapest, ⅝c lower. Advices from Argentina stated that the rain which fell last week was general throughout the cereal zone and was beneficial to wheat and other grain. The wheat plant is mostly above ground and in parts about twelve inches tall with the condition all that could be desired.

Good Buying of Corn.

Corn reflected the pressure of the last few days again for a brief period, and brought a further recession of around ½c from the close of the preceding day. Resting spots, however, were ½@⅝c higher. The early action of the market was followed by the best reactionary tendency recently shown and later in the day prices scored an upturn of over 1c per bu from the low point. There appeared to be rather free covering by shorts, but on the other hand there were indications that many believers in higher prices who have been waiting for a break on which to make purchases took advantage of the decline.

Cash values were lower early with the futures, showing declines of ¼@½c in this market and at Peoria, but southwestern markets showed more strength, St. Louis being 1@1½c higher. All advices indicated the lack of disposition on the part of country holders to sell cash property on any such decline as has taken place during the last week. Receipts were 722 cars, with 557 cars estimated for today.

Firmer Tendency in Oats.

Oats followed corn with fully as firm a tendency, with early declines less severe, while the late rally was quite as pronounced. Last prices were ⅜c higher. Receipts continued moderate, the markets west of the river reflecting a strengthening tendency for the cash property and advances there were reported ¼@½c, while in this market quotations were made on the decline representing a loss of ¼@½c.

The selling was almost entirely for local account because of the easier tone at the time in corn and wheat. Commission houses bought on limited orders and accumulated moderate lines. Cash sales were 215,000 bu. Receipts were 361 cars with 290 cars estimated for today.

Provisions Irregular.

Provisions were influenced by the semi-monthly report of stocks and a fair volume of selling by longs of October deliveries and at the same time packers were credited with sales of May lard and ribs. This pressure caused lower prices, although the closing was irregular, ranging 12½c lower to 2½c higher. The market steadied somewhat after the rally in corn and the buying which caused the irregular close was chiefly by shorts and miscellaneous commission house trade.

It was pointed out that there is no special change in the surrounding conditions except that the effort to keep hog prices down may be accompanied with enough selling of the futures at discounts to give the market an upturn on account of its oversold condition. Twenty-seven thousand hogs are estimated for today.

Rye Market Steady.

Rye held steady, with sales of No. 2 at 67¼c; No. 3, 65@66c; No. 4, 62c. Receipts, 14 cars.

Barley was firm for choice and 1c lower for poor grades. Malting closed at 68@76c; feed, 58@66c; screenings, 40@56c. Receipts, 78 cars.

Timothy seed was quiet at $5.40 bid for September, $5.35 bid for October, and $4.50@5.50 for cash lots. Clover seed was steady, with a sale of October at $11.50 and cash lots $9.00@10.75.

Duluth flax closed ¼c higher to ¼c lower, with cash on track $1.48¾; September, $1.46¼; October, $1.46⅝; December, $1.44½. Receipts, 9 cars. Minneapolis was ¼c higher, at $1.44⅜@1.48⅜ for cash on track. Receipts, 14 cars. Winnipeg closed 1¼@2¼c lower, with October $1.27⅞; November, $1.38⅞, and December, $1.26. Receipts, 14 cars.

AMERICAN GRAIN MARKETS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 16.—There was moderate support in the local pit and a decrease in hedging sales caused a firmer tone in wheat. Opening was weak, but prices gradually advanced. September closed ⅛c lower than yesterday, December ⅝c higher, and May ¼c higher. Local elevator stocks increased 260,000 bu for three days. NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE

Foreign crop summary: United Kingdom—The weather is favorable for the finishing of harvest and the movement. Supplies of native wheat are fair.

France—Continued complaints are received that confirm harvesting short, while the quality and condition is irregular. The outlook is unfavorable and harvesting disappointing.

Germany—Official estimates show an increased yield for the Prussian crop. Arrivals of both wheat and oats confirm much damage by the recent wet weather. Supplies of native wheat are liberal, but the quality lower.

Russia—In the south and east harvesting is progressing rapidly and largely finished and the yield and quality is satisfactory. In the center oats is yielding fair with the quality poor.

Roumania—Farmers are busy with plowing for the new wheat crop and therefore marketing is slow. Arrivals at the ports are disappointing. The weather has been unfavorable for corn, but notwithstanding this a good yield is expected.

Hungary—The weather has been unfavorable and some fears are expressed that much of the corn will not mature before the cold weather.

Italy—Complaints continue to be received that the condition of the native crop is unsatisfactory. Larger purchases of foreign wheat are predicted.

Spain—The drought has been relieved, but holders of wheat are very firm.

North Africa—Thrashing returns indicate only a fair yield.

India—The outlook for seeding is favorable, but holders of old crop wheat remain firm.

Argentina—The weather and crop outlook continues generally favorable, with occasional rains.

Australia—The favorable outlook has been maintained.

Iowa weather crop bulletin: "Pastures have revived and show considerable improvement, but the rains came too late to be of benefit to corn or late potatoes, except in a few localities where the potato vines were still green. The rains, however, were sufficient to facilitate plowing in many sections, but not enough to be of material benefit to the water supply. The excessively hot, dry weather during the first seven days of the month hurried corn to a premature death and stopped the filling process that usually occurs during all of September and part of October, and as a result the crop will be lighter than was indicated on Sept. 1. Much corn was cut and many silos were filled during the week."

Broomhall's Argentine agent cables: "There is still about 22,000,000 bushels of corn available for export for the remainder of the season. [Since April 1 this year, or five months, the shipments have amounted to 119,276,000 bu, and therefore there will be but 22,000,000 bu left for the next seven months, and the freedom with which this is disposed of will depend largely upon the price and the outlook for the new crop.] The new crop is harvested in March."

T. A. Grier & Co., Peoria, wired: "Think change in weather likely to reduce corn receipts materially. Cannot hear of any country selling since market weakened and advices of consignments are shutting off. Three large station buyers here on Big Four, Rock Island, and Northwestern, all say no corn selling by farmers since bids went below 70c."

An Argentine cable stated that the rain which fell last week was general throughout the cereal zone and was beneficial to wheat and corn. The wheat plant is mostly above ground and in parts about twelve inches tall, with the condition all that could be desired. Seeding for corn is general, with an indicated increased acreage.

A message from Bloomington, Ill., read: "Although we have had quite a little break in the market, it does not seem to scare those who have the corn and we beg to advise that we have not bought a single car of corn in the last two or three days. No one seems to even ask the price any more."

Advices from York, Neb., were to the effect that, although fall plowing is late and the ground difficult to put in condition, the winter wheat crop acreage in York county will be materially increased this fall.

W. L. Gregson & Co. said: "Higher hogs did not have much influence on product, although after the early liquidating trades the selling pressure was light. The demand also was moderate."

The first large shipment of Argentine dressed beef has reached New York. It was 1,000 quarters. It cost 10⅛c per lb extra duty and 12c with duty paid. This is 1c less than domestic beef.

A Buenos Aires cable read: "The weather is bad, and storms have continued. Too much rain has fallen all over, and floods are again rising in Buenos Aires provinces."

St. Louis reports good cash demand for wheat there, all descriptions, with receipts running light. This is a cause of strength there, according to wires to W. A. Gardner.

The cash demand at Minneapolis was a little easy. Premiums on No. 1 northern bluestem unchanged at December price to 1c over for the choice.

The Drovers' Journal reports packing of hogs west at 425,000, as against 367,000 last week and 345,000 for the corresponding week last year.

Reports were to the effect that Portland, Ore., is paying 2c bu more for wheat than Minneapolis and Duluth, and that wheat is moving west.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 168 cars; corn, 557 cars; oats, 290 cars; rye, 14 cars; barley, 78 cars; hogs, 27,000 head.

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were ⅛@1c higher; corn, ¼@1¼c higher; oats, steady to ½c higher; rye, ½c higher.

New York reported 15 loads wheat taken for export today and 600,000 bu late on Monday.

Louis Helm has posted his membership on the board of trade for transfer.

BIG MUTTON RUN PUTS PRICES OFF

Market on Lowest Level in Many Weeks; Receipts Are 45,000 Head.

HOG MARKET FIRMS UP.

Average Price Advances 5 Cents, to $8.28; Cattle Dull; Calves Higher.

With fresh receipts of 45,000 head, sheep and lamb values at Chicago yesterday declined 10@15c to the lowest level touched in many weeks. Packers secured their pick of the fat lambs at $7.30, while filling orders with desirable fat killers at $7.00@7.25. Best sheep on sale were Montana wethers that sold at $4.65, against $4.75 on Monday. The trade was slow, even at the concessions made by holders, and a clearance of the arrivals was not made until late in the day.

Hogs sold at steady to 5c higher prices, making an average of $8.28, against $8.18 on Monday. Receipts were only 12,500 head, but quality was inferior and the trade slow. Pigs formed a good share of the fresh receipts and sold 25c lower, showing a loss of $1.00@1.25 sustained since last Friday. Best lightweight hogs topped at $8.95, with part of a load up to $9.00.

Calf day found only 800 calves posted as received and sales were made at an advance of 25@50c, prime vealers reaching $11.75@12.00. Cattle trade was inactive, with fresh receipts of only 2,500 head and few urgent orders to be filled.

BEST FRESH EGGS ADVANCED

High Grade Stock Up Half a Cent; Other Kinds Steady.

POTATO MARKET IS EASIER.

Increased Receipts Taken; Poultry Active and Steady; Fruits Quiet.

Better grades of fresh eggs were advanced ½c a dozen at Chicago yesterday, but no improvement was noted in prices of the cheaper grades. Cold storage eggs were firm at recently advanced figures, selling nearly as high as newly laid product. Receipts were 9,005 cases. Butter trade was slow at former prices, the market resting on an uncertain footing because of increase receipts and a steady outflow of cold storage butter, which is now being marketed. Arrivals were 10,106 tubs.

Receipts of potatoes showed a fair increase, aggregating 65 cars. The market had an easier undertone, but values were without material change, sales being made at 85c for Ohios and 90@95c for Wisconsin white stock.

Poultry trade was active and steady at former prices. Receipts were 7 cars and 1,015 coops, all of which were well taken at the prices.

Fruit trade was quiet, with fancy Elberta peaches selling at $1.50@2.00 a bu.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Money and discount rates were dearer today. The stock market was irregular. Further weakness developed in home rails, as a result of labor unrest. Consols advanced a quarter of a point on purchases for the sinking fund, but eased off later under realizing. Copper shares had a good tone in sympathy with favorable American reports, Rio Tintos being weak exceptions owing to strike fears. Mexican securities closed easy. American securities opened quiet and slightly lower. Light covering advanced most of the list a fraction during the forenoon, and later the market was supported and improved under the lead of Canadian Pacific. The closing was steady.

SALE

VALUABLE IRON AND STEEL PLANT AND CONTENTS, MANUFACTURED ARTICLES, SCRAP, REAL ESTATE, ETC.

The Undersigned Offer For Sale by SEALED BIDS and HEREBY INVITE SEALED BIDS for The Modern OPEN HEARTH STEEL PLANT formerly of the Diamond State Steel Co.

AT WILMINGTON, DEL.

Including five [5] fifty-ton Furnaces, a 34-inch Blooming Mill, Steel and Brick Buildings, Seven Finishing Mills, Puddle Furnaces and Mills, Spike Shop, Rivet, Bolt and Nut Department, Horse Shoe Works, Iron and Brass Foundry, Machine Shops, etc., with equipment, about 30 acres of land, with unequaled facilities for shipping by land or water, three railroads, and wharves on tide water.

Sealed bids for this Plant as a whole, are invited to be submitted to the undersigned prior to October 22, 1913. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $10,000. All bids opened publicly at 11 o'clock a. m. on at the office of Robert H. Richards, Attorney-at-Law, 418 DuPont Building, Wilmington, Delaware. All bids subject to confirmation by the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware on Monday, October 27, 1913, at the Chancellor's Chambers, County Court House, Wilmington, Delaware.

LIKE SEALED BIDS for a large quantity of personal property, consisting of Tools, Fittings, Implements, Machine Parts, Supplies and Accessories as itemized in a catalogue, furnished by the Undersigned upon request, are hereby invited to be submitted at the same time, opened at the same time and place and subject to like confirmation as hereinabove specified. ALL SUCH SEALED BIDS for said personal property must be accompanied by a certified check for 20 per cent of the amount of the bid.

The Undersigned also offer the above mentioned property for sale by SEALED BIDS and HEREBY INVITE SEALED BIDS for its sale by ALLOTMENTS or PARCELS, as follows, to wit:

The same has been divided into parcels, some consisting of real estate only, others consisting of single machines; others consisting of several machines; others consisting of separate departments of the original plant suitable for separate operation; others consisting of scrap iron, steel, brass, etc.; others consisting of tools, supplies, etc.; all parcels separately numbered and described in said catalogue.

SEALED BIDS for said parcels separately must be accompanied by a certified check for 20 per cent of the amount of the bid, and submitted at the same time and place.

The Undersigned on application will furnish to any interested person a detailed catalogue of the property, entireties and parcels, with the terms of sale, instructions and blank forms for bidding.

This is an unusual opportunity to purchase valuable machines suitable for the Steel and Iron business, in first class condition, ready to operate at REASONABLE PRICES.

The certified checks accompanying unaccepted bids will be promptly returned.

GEORGE S. CAPELLE and JOHN RICHARDSON, JR., Trustees, 600 Market Street, Wilmington, Delaware.

Sale authorized by an order of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware.

"One-price sale" of 100 fur and ostrich hats

Many attractions in point of style, variety, etc., but chief of all are the values. Some of these hats are counterparts of imported models; others came from our own workroom and give eloquent expression to the original fashion opinions emanating from our own expert milliners. Black and all the new shades are represented. Above are shown two very tasteful examples of 100 hats remarkably priced $15.

Allover lace & chiffon blouses

When we started the fashioning and making of these blouses we introduced new ideas and new facilities with which we have developed surpassing values at $5.

In the above illustration is shown one of the allover shadow lace blouses. It has a vestee of white chiffon and is open throat style. The other model is a chiffon waist, with medici collar, and with moire ribbon bow; drop shoulders; long "musketeer" sleeves. Both styles in black and all the new autumn shades. Blouse shop, third floor.

Plumes Reign Again

Handsome Dress Hats Parisian in Type All Plume Trimmed, $15

Our French Millinery Section is like a garden of glorious feathers. And the hats seem proud of their lovely burden. Jaunty hats, tilted hats, drooping hats—all are here.

Two stunning hats of black velvet are literally plume laden. One carries feathers of coral—rich, full, fluffy feathers held in place in the front by a buckle-like trimming of fur.

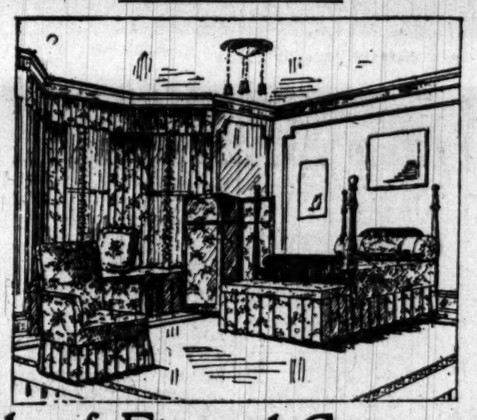

On the other the natural brown tones of the ostrich feather are accentuated by brown fur, and a handsome bit of lace in dull gold.

Purple and wistaria shades have a corner all to themselves, while everywhere dotted through the cases you will see rich shades of rose pink, shell pink and coral.

Now is emphatically the time to choose your Fall hat. Good fortune is with us and with you when we can offer hats like these at the price of $15.

Sale of Figured Cretonnes At About Half

A price concession from an English maker given us on several thousand yards of discontinued patterns enables us to offer them so low in price

The patterns are varied; shown in full pieces of from 25 to 100 yards each—enough for the complete furnishing of a bedroom, dining room or living room. The following uses are suggested: Cretonnes for the covering of bed spreads, sofa pillows, chairs, cushions, screens and utility boxes, for the draping of windows and doors, and for the making of chiffonier, dresser and dressing table scarfs. Priced, yard, 25c

Sample Cedar Chests at About Half Price

200 men's rainproof coats, 8.75

A special purchase of "seconds" in double texture parametta cloth at ⅓ saving. The imperfections so slight they can scarcely be noticed, and most assuredly will not interfere with long wear. Included are the heather mixtures and the new shades of tans and drabs. Sizes 34 to 44.
